West Berlin Reassured By Brandt

Says U.S. People Backing Efforts To Keep City Free

BERLIN (AP) — West Berlin Mayor Willy Brandt said today the American people are solidly backing their government's determination to keep West Berlin free.

Reporting on his two-day visit to New York, Brandt emphasized that "rarely has the U.S. government committed itself so irrevocably than on the issue of freedom of West Berlin."

Americans are determined to defend West Berlin because they know that Berlin isn't the only issue at stake, he told a news conference. He said Americans as a whole—the men in the street he met—are solidly behind the U.S. government's determined stand on Berlin.

While in New York to receive a Freedom House award, Brandt also talked with President Kennedy on the telephone. He refused to give details of their conversation, saying they had an exchange of thoughts and the President congratulated him on the speech he delivered when he received the award.

Brandt was critical of the many voices now expressing views on Berlin and Germany.

"The trend to discuss in public all the facets of the Berlin and German situation is, I think, not in the interest of the West," he said.

The disclosure of possible Western concessions in Berlin weakens the Western position at the conference table with the Soviets, the mayor declared.

Communist border police showed fresh belligerence Sunday night by firing on four West Berliners after feigning an escape attempt. Two West Berliners were believed captured in the phony maneuver; the other two escaped unhurt.

The two who got away said they were lured to the barbed wire barricade in a wooded area of the American sector by Red guards who gave the impression they wanted to flee to the West. When the West Berliners tried to open a gap in the fence, the guards opened fire.

Seeking to quiet press criticism of the replacement of U.S. combat troops along the East Berlin wall by military policemen, the U.S. command in Berlin said the police were "experienced specialists" in border duty replacing younger and relatively less experienced combat troops.

"Our combat troops are always on the alert," a U.S. spokesman said. "If necessary they can be brought to any point of the border within a few minutes."

Two visiting U.S. senators had reassuring words for the West Berliners.

Kennedy Expected To Urge Allies To Press Berlin Talks

Agreement Being Eyed With Soviet

West Consultations Likely To Progress On Several Fronts

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Kennedy administration hopes to persuade U.S. allies in the next two or three weeks to go along with further exploratory talks with the Soviet Union on the possibility of negotiating a compromise settlement of the Berlin crisis.

Western consultations are expected to move forward on several fronts, including discussions among State Department officials and the ambassadors of Britain, France and West Germany.

One step in the process was scheduled today with a meeting between Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Ambassador Walter C. Dowling, the U.S. envoy to West Germany. West Germany's views on the development of Allied policy on the future of Berlin and related German issues are crucial to Western agreement.

The Allies appear to be basically split over Berlin policy problems.

The West German government, grappling with its own internal political difficulties, is apprehensive about agreeing to the greater flexibility on the Western side which Rusk and President Kennedy want for negotiations with the U.S.S.R.

The French government is fearful that the Soviet Union may consider Western interest in exploratory talks a sign of weakness in facing up to Red threats over Berlin.

The British government is eager for negotiations and British officials have been reported mildly hopeful that a reasonable formula can be worked out with the Soviets.

Prince Souvanna New Premier

Three Factions Of Laos Wrangling Over Cabinet

HIN HEUP, Laos (AP) — The three factions of Laos wrangled today over a Cabinet for neutralist Prince Souvanna Phouma, named premier in an agreement reducing the prospect of new fighting in the jungle kingdom.

Souvanna Phouma, 60, a Paris-educated former premier backed by the Soviet bloc, personally announced the agreement reached Sunday by himself, pro-Western Premier Prince Boun Oum and Prince Souphanouvong, leader of the pro-Red Pathet Lao.

The other two princes stood beside Souvanna during the announcement, made at the negotiations tent at this village on the cease-fire line 50 miles north of Vientiane, administrative capital of Laos.

Agreement on Souvanna had long been expected. But it represented a major concession by Boun Oum's U.S.-backed regime, which had been demanding that King Savang Vathana be presented a list of several candidates for the premiership of the coalition government. The Pathet Lao in turn withdrew its demand that the king be handed a full cabinet slate and left the division of seats to the hard bargaining still ahead.

Souvanna Phouma commissioned the other two princes to call on the king today at Luang Prabang, the royal capital, and to seek a Tuesday audience for him. Royal approval of his designation as premier is considered a certainty.

The neutralists and the Pathet Lao claimed agreement had been reached for Souvanna's group to get eight Cabinet posts and supporters of Boun Oum and Souphanouvong four each. However, a spokesman for Boun Oum said the Vientiane government wants the posts divided among leftists, rightists and neutralists, not among the personal followings of the princes. The pro-Western faction considers Souvanna Phouma leftist rather than truly neutral.

Despite the unsettled issues, the agreement on Souvanna Phouma eased considerably the apprehension here that new fighting might flare with the end of the rainy season in a few weeks.

In Geneva, Western sources expressed hope the agreement would help end the deadlock in the five-month East-West conference there on Laos.

UAW Sets Up Picket Lines At Ford Co.

Attempts To Bar Salaried Personnel From Office Work

DETROIT (AP) — The United Auto Workers Union today massed picket lines at Ford Motor Co. administrative offices in an attempt to bar salaried personnel from reporting for work.

Ford reported picket lines at its rotunda building near the Rouge plant and at the company's old administrative office building. It was the first union inferference with salaried worker schedules since the strike started.

No incidents were reported at either site. It was not immediately known how effective the picket lines were in preventing salaried personnel from reporting.

The UAW, however, was allowing selected maintenance personnel, bearing cards issued by Local 600, through the lines.

The stepped up picket lines activity came as the union and Ford sought agreement on local plant issues.

Settlement of local plant issues between the union and the auto manufacturers is becoming increasingly tougher.

This became more obvious today as the nationwide Ford Motor Company strike moved into its seventh day.

The Ford strike followed a two-week walkout by UAW workers at General Motors Corp. plants last month over local issues.

A surprise development was tossed into the UAW frying pan Sunday night when Local 72 of Kenosha, Wis. rejected the historic profit-sharing plan worked out earlier with American Motors Corp.

Local 72's move took even the UAW's top brass by surprise.

Norman Mathews, UAW vice president and director of the union's AMC department, said the profit-sharing plan was accepted in generally favorable terms by the UAW's four other AMC locals. Local 72 was the last to vote on the proposal.

Mathews said he couldn't speculate on how the local's action would affect the profit-sharing plan.

Sam Rayburn Takes Drug In Cancer Fight

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Speaker Sam Rayburn, a relentless fighter for all his 79 years, has begun receiving injections that may help him in his battle with cancer.

Rayburn is taking an experimental drug called "5 Fluoro-uracil." If he responds well, he will get daily injections for around two weeks.

Dr. Ralph Tompsett, chief of internal medicine at Baylor University Medical Center, said the first treatment was given Rayburn Sunday. It will be several days, he said, before it is known whether the drug produces undesirable side effects.

The drug is not a cure, but it may halt the spread of cancer.

Rayburn appears to be doing about as well as can be expected. Each medical bulletin has said "rested fairly comfortably" or "ate reasonably well."

Rayburn is eating what he likes and Sunday had one of his favorite foods: honey.

A press room has been set up in a small library. Twice each day a news conference is held in a room next door. Doctors strive to give new answers to the same old questions, but basically they add up to this: Rayburn is an extremely sick man but, yes, there's some hope.

Officers Cite Man Injured In Car Crash

Car Strikes Pole; Midland Resident Given Fine, Term

Drunk driving charges were filed against a Midland man injured when an auto crashed into a utility pole early Sunday at Pennsylvania Ave. and Elm St.

He is Nelson Dallas, 126 Undercliff Dr., hurt when a 1955 model car owned by Charles Sprout, 678 Lincoln Ave., struck the utility pole at 3:06 yesterday morning. Dallas was treated at City Hospital for abrasions and contusions of the nose and right eye, police said.

Dallas was fined $200 and costs, sentenced to five days in city jail and had his driver's license revoked for six months when arraigned before Judge Samuel M. Chertoff in Municipal Court this morning.

Dallas admitted to Patrolman Jack Strobel before appearing in court this morning that he was driving the car at the time of the accident.

When police began their investigation, Dallas claimed a man he knew only by a nickname was driving, but fled when the mishap occurred.

Police said Sprout originally claimed the auto had been stolen, but the report was withdrawn when the owner said he couldn't recall whether or not he had loaned the auto.

Two hit-skip collisions also were reported early Sunday, while the city was shrouded by another heavy fog.

Jack Hoodski, 40, of 117½ E. 6th St., told police the left side of his 1961 two-door sedan was sideswiped about 3:25 a. m. by an unknown auto while parked on Broadway near E. 6th St.

Leroy Wiggins, 449 Penn Ave., Midland, told police his auto was struck by another that failed to stop as he drove slowly in heavy fog at 3:35 a. m. Sunday on the Pennsylvania Ave. "Hill Rd." Wiggins, eastbound, said his car was hit by a car headed in the opposite direction which failed to halt. The entire left side of his car was dented and scratched, Wiggins said.

'Didn't Tell Full Story'

Chamber Issues Rebuttal To Broadcast Of Harvey

The Chamber of Commerce today challenged some of the statements made by Paul Harvey in his nationwide ABC radio network broadcast Saturday, declaring the community was treated "unfairly."

In a statement made by Alvin T. Babb, president, the Chamber said Harvey failed to tell "the complete story," pointing out most of his broadcast was devoted to criticism and that he failed to mention any recent accomplishments.

Babb said the Chamber is aware there is much to be done "but East Liverpool and the Chamber have not been standing still."

He called attention to the fact the Chamber has been active in securing the new city freeway now under construction and its members have been active in seeking additional operating revenue for the city.

The Chamber also has been extremely active in the Upper Ohio Valley Development Council, which has brought several industries into the area, Babb continued.

Babb also pointed out residents approved a school construction program involving more than $2 million; a new municipal sewage disposal plant has been constructed, and businessmen have spent a considerable amount of money in exterior and interior remodeling projects in downtown stores.

The Chamber president also took exception to Harvey's statement that Chamber members are moving to West Virginia, explaining the Chamber represents the area, including Chester and Newell, and not just East Liverpool.

"The Chamber has strong support and membership in Chester and Newell," he declared.

Defense Sets Move To Kill Number Case

LISBON — Motions to quash the indictments against the Lisbon Sales Book Co. and four of its officers are expected to be filed Tuesday in Common Pleas Court by Atty. William Moore.

Prosecutor G. William Brokaw has furnished a bill of particulars in the five cases to Atty. Moore as was requested by the defense and ordered by the court at arraignment day.

A hearing date on the quashing motion will be set when the motion is filed.

The Lisbon Sales Book Co. and Martin Sufrin, Isadore Sufrin, Joseph Sufrin and Michael Schedlmeier were indicted by the September Grand Jury for violating a new law which went into effect Sept. 1, prohibiting printing numbers books.

The defense claims the company has no control as to what the books are used for when they are sold.

The defendants appeared earlier in Common Pleas Court and posted $1,000 bonds. They were cited after a raid on the printing plant led personally by Ohio Atty. Gen. Mark McElroy.

20 Auto Tires Punctured In Vandal Strike

In a wholesale wave of vandalism Saturday night, 20 tires were punctured on 10 parked cars on Maple St., East End, and paint was scratched and windows were broken on some of the autos, police reported.

Most of the autos' owners were attending a meeting of John Washington Masonic Lodge in its new hall on nearby Locust St., officers reported. The tires were punctured with a sharp object, probably an ice pick, officers said.

The heaviest damage was inflicted on a 1958 model auto owned by James Spencer, 1070 Maple-tree St. The vandals punctured two tires, scratched both sides of the auto and broke two windows.

The vandals scratched the hood and fenders of an auto owned by Vanable Samuels, also of East Liverpool, and punctured two tires. Two tires were flattened on a car owned by Lonnie Bynum of Weirton and the hood and fenders were scratched.

The vandalism was reported to police at 10:12 p. m. Patrolman Jerry Adkins investigated.

Two tires were punctured on each of these autos: Ollie Creamer, 1752 Pennsylvania Ave.; Bernice Hall of Youngstown; Lottie Wise, 1419 Main St., Wellsville; Charles Bynum of Midland, and Eugene Taylor, 1427 Commerce St., Wellsville.

Three tires were flattened on the auto of Edward West of Steubenville and one was punctured on the auto of Margaret Veney, rear 222 E. 3rd St., police said.

Tunisia Asks Slim Be New U.N. Leader

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —Tunisia is still pushing native son Mongi Slim for interim secretary-general of the United Nations even though Burma's U Thant lately has been mentioned as most likely to get the job.

Both the United States and the Soviet Union reportedly are willing to accept U Thant, Burma's ambassador to the U.N., as a temporary successor to Dag Hammarskjold. But Asian-African sources said the Burmese would take the job only if the two big powers could agree on all aspects of the arrangement and both would vote for him.

They said Slim, president of the current General Assembly, would take the job even if the Soviets were so cool to him as to abstain from voting. They said he would not take it if the Soviets voted against him.

Slim and Frederick H. Boland of Ireland, president of the last assembly, are both acceptable to the United States to serve out Hammarskjold's term expiring in April 1963. Boland has said several times he would not take the job, but some delegates believe he could be persuaded. Many doubt the Soviets would approve him.

Soviet delegates have told some colleagues they oppose Slim. But they apparently have not told the Tunisians.

4 Children Perish In Warren Area Fire

WARREN, Ohio (AP) — Four children died in a fire at a two-story frame home of the Kenneth Sours family on Niles Road today.

The parents both escaped, along with one son, Paul. The fire was discovered on the second floor shortly before 9 a. m. One other child, a 10-year-old girl named Bobbie, had left for school.

The victims were tentatively identified as Peter, 2½, a twin brother of Paul; Susan, 4½; Kenneth Jr., 6, and Christopher, just over a year old.

All the children were in a single bedroom. The father said he was awakened by smoke, but flames drove him back when he attempted to enter the bedroom.

The father works late on Sunday night and was sleeping at the time. The mother apparently awoke to get the girl off to school, then went back to bed. Both parents were hospitalized.

Mrs. Smith Asked The Question

Margaret Chase Smith, senior United States senator from Maine, made a speech in the Senate last Sept. 21. It caused no stir at the moment, except in the hearts of those who were on hand to hear it. But no speech in either house of Congress this year has had more effect.

Its theme was this question:

"What has happened to permit Khrushchev to act as he does?"

The development of the theme was a recital of events. Sen. Smith recounted the shift in national defense from all-out reliance on nuclear weapons to increasing reliance on conventional weapons — the balanced defense.

This signified to the Kremlin, she declared, that the United States had nuclear capability for all-out war but lacked "nuclear credibility."

She pointed to the fact that nuclear advantage still rests with the United States and the West, but that Premier Khrushchev and his government have assessed American "will and purpose" and found them inadequate for the use of this advantage.

The United States, she said, has heard President Kennedy's "brave words" but the words haven't been backed up by "brave action." The world judges by acts, not words.

"I am disturbed," she concluded, "That there are some who say, in effect, we can do more in deterring the Soviets by preparing to do less against them if they should provoke armed hostilities."

And she added: "God forbid that the pattern of brave words on Laos and Cuba followed by no brave actions be repeated in Berlin."

SEN. SMITH speaks rarely in the Senate. When she does speak, her words are declarations of conscience; she has so described them. In this instance, her declaration voiced the puzzlement of her countrymen.

What has happened to make Khrushchev think he can push around the United States and the Western Allies?

What has happened to make Fidel Castro think he can insult the United States with impunity?

What makes the Chinese, Czech and Russian Communists in Cuba think they can set up a Communist bastion 90 miles off the coast of Florida and nothing can be done about it?

Is it conceivable that Communists would have been allowed to build that preposterous Berlin Wall a few years ago? Every nongovernment observer has voiced the opinion that it should have been torn down block by block and wire by wire when it was being put up. But now that it has been built — and tolerated — everybody is afraid to tear it down.

It is because everybody believes Khrushchev and the Soviet Union are capable of making the fateful decision to start nuclear war and nobody can make himself believe the United States could initiate nuclear war.

IT IS THE age-old story of the bully and his victim.

No one needs to worry about the violence the victim may inflict on the bully.

But everybody needs to be concerned about the bully — about staying out of his way— about keeping on his good side — about persuading him to go easy.

The bully has the power to do the damage — and the will.

Sen. Smith wonders what has permitted Khrushchev to act as he does.

The answer is not really hard to find.

Barring the possibility the victim may turn on his oppressor, the bully can act without restraint. He has nothing to fear. But his victim has everything to fear, chiefly the violence that is contrary to his training and hateful to his nature.

The United States has talked so long about the senselessness of nuclear war that it has convinced itself. But it cannot be sure it has convinced Khrushchev.

Fire Hazards And You

Somewhere in every home throughout the tri-state district are all the necessary materials and potential conditions for a fatal or highly destructive fire.

Wood, clothing, furniture, flammable liquids, plastics and gas lines are housed with stoves, pilot lights, furnaces, electric wiring, matches and lighted cigarettes.

The observance of National Fire Prevention Week which began Sunday calls attention to the need for adequate safeguards against unnecessary fires and preparation for what to do when a blaze breaks out.

Area firemen are offering free inspection of homes for possible fire hazards, and are urging householders to check their premises for hidden sources of danger.

Faulty wiring, improper fuses, frayed cords, carelessly stored paint or flammable liquids, piled-up rubbish, unsafe chimneys, heating and cooking equipment, and careless smoking — all add up to serious threats to life and property.

Knowledge of your fire department telephone number, planning for how to evacuate your family if a fire begins, and realization that calling firemen immediately is vital to saving lives are a part of the proper planning for emergency.

Take stock now of the safety of your home and place of work, and make a definite plan of action on what to do when fire starts.

Somewhere in this district before many weeks are out, fire will strike.

Where it strikes will depend upon what preventive measures have been taken. The end result, whether in loss of life, injury or just property loss, will depend on how much preparation was made for the emergency.

Fire prevention is everybody's job.

McNamara Has No Choice

Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara is trapped in a dilemma that has plagued every civilian ever called on to administer military affairs.

It is his duty as civilian secretary of defense to preserve the tradition of civilian control over military departments. The tradition has been a public issue many times since it was laid down at the beginning of the Republic.

The alternative would be to surrender to members of the military establishment the power to dominate government by their authority over the armed services; by force of arms. It was to minimize this danger that the United States avoided the danger implicit in a large professional army. George Washington believed military power should be concentrated in the state militia, separated from overriding federal authority.

From Washington's time on, this policy has been honored. The danger of the military coup d'etat that has plagued other nations has been minimized here.

Secretary McNamara's involvement in the problem has come about because certain military figures, with backing from some members of Congress, have made an issue of the right to make all speeches and distribute all printed matter which they describe as anti-Communist and therefore pro-American. But that is only part of the issue.

The more sensitive part of the issue is whether the ideas promulgated are in line with the policies of the civilian government.

Secretary McNamara's latest move is a directive that spells out precisely what militarists may discuss when called on to speak, except for testimony before congressional committees. They must confine themselves to views that are "nonpartisan and in accordance with established national policy.

The secretary of defense will continue to be under fire for declaring his authority. But those who are firing at him should take second thought before questioning his judgment. He is protecting to the best of his ability a tradition of civilian control for something more important to the United States than the right of a military official to speak his mind against the Communist Conspiracy. As the cabinet official responsible for dealing with one of the most difficult problems of this Republic, he has no other choice.

New one-way traffic regulations became effective Thursday on three sections — Potters Alley in particular.

That stretch between Walnut St. and Broadway is used by hundreds of pedestrians daily as a shortcut from downtown to Bradshaw Ave. and radiating streets.

For the first time in history, a man on foot can walk the stretch without the fear of being squeezed like a lemon between cars passing in the opposite direction. Of course he could always jump into the adjoining auto sales lot. On the other hand, he could have been "grated" like a nutmeg off the wall of the brick building on the north side of the narrow alley.

But now, cars travel one-way westbound and the pedestrian can make the short stretch with a good deal more safety. It's an improvement to all concerned.

Soviet Salesmen Peddle In U.S.

By Victor Riesel

At the very moment when the Russians are cutting the heart out of Europe and appear so intent on slicing up "the West," I've run into two Soviet surgeons on a special mission inside the United States.

Victor Riesel

They are truly great doctors. I would not reflect on their devotion to science. Nor will I forget that from time to time in London, Paris and New York, emissaries have come to me from the highest Moscow medical circles suggesting they could speed recovery of my eyes.

I say only it is pathetic that the Russians have turned them into peddlers. They are, in effect, on a sales tour. If successful, they can cost us some of that Forst Knox gold and many jobs.

It was in Oklahoma City, where the Russians had been scheduled to open a medical exhibit, that I first learned of Prof. Viktor M. Zhandov, executive secretary of the Presidium of the Academy of Medicine of the USSR, and (Madame) Dr. Albina Zaharova, of the Institute of the Academy of Medicine of Radiology in Moscow.

THE RUSSIANS called off their Oklahoma City exhibit but now plan to have these two doctors put on a surgical instrument, X-ray and radiological equipment exhibit in Minneapolis and Chicago.

These in effect, will be sales shows. Their objective is to knock out our own surgical and hospital equipment industry and sell us millions of dollars worth of such made-in-Moscow supplies.

And not a minor by-product of this sales trip will be the cultivation of the friendship and respect and knowledge of our own superb medical scientists.

Our State Department of course, is aware of this unsentimental journey throughout our country — just as our State Department knows of the hundreds of millions of dollars worth of strategic trade between the Western world, including us, and the Soviet enemy.

In Europe and East Berlin a month or so ago, I was personally able to check on the sale of vital vast quantities of automatic machinery, transport equipment, automative carriers and electrical and electronic goods. This I duly reported. Indignantly, I hope.

And while hedgehopping through out own West the other week I learned of brutally blunt statements by Canadian and British officials on dealing with totalitarian lands, which I also planned to report.

I HAD HOPED to work the same invective into these reports as I have against dealing with Japanese militarism, Il Duce's fascism and Adolf Hitler's Nazism. After all, things equal to the same ghastly things are equal to each other.

I had stored my vitriol against such a man, for example, as Guy Beaudet, port manager of Montreal Harbor. You haven't heard of him and neither would I if I had not been somewhat nearby some days ago when the American Association of Port Authorities ran their 50th annual convention in Long Beach, Calif.

What fascinated me was their inviting Harry Bridges, Sovieteering longshoreman leader, to speak.

I lost interest in Bridges, for the moment, when I learned that Guy Beaudet, speaking of trade with the Communists, said: "If you go into morals in this matter, you cut your markets."

He topped this by saying that he favors trade with Communist countries and believes that the seriousness of the cold war has been overplayed.

HE REPORTED rather happily that Canadian grain has been going to Red China, Cuba, Poland, Czechoslavakia and Romania.

Furthermore, he reported that the foodstuffs, which have been going to the land which is dedicated to destroying us, Peiping, China, have been carried in empty oil tankers of the Greeks, the ally for whom we fought.

Apparently this attitude on international morals is consistently Dominionwide. For, when Sir Leslie Ford, general manager of the Port of London, discussed the matter he said:

"You've got to trade with everyone if you're in the trade business."

But there is a strange twist to Sir Leslie's report. He revealed that the British import grain, along with timber and furs from the Russians — and sell them strategic materials.

Now, why does Red China need grain so badly when its partner in the Communist International has enough surplus to export this foodstuff to England.

Obviously the Russians could feed their Chinese comrades. But they let us do it. And then use their grain to obtain our war materials at a time when we're calling up fighting men — men who might well meet this very equipment head on somewhere over there.

How can you whip up any indignation against the very practical men of the British Commonwealth, if our own State Department apparently approved Soviet sales missions inside the U.S.A.

A Visible Here

By Truman Twill

This is the nostalgic bleeder I write each October about football —not the kind the boys play now but the kind the boys played when I was boyish.

My alma maters, as far as I can tell by the scores, are still playing their football the same way—strictly amateur. But even amateurs are systematic about the game now.

It is no longer an ordeal for heroes but a demonstration of organization. I'm never-endingly glad I lived at a time when anyone who played football was suspected of being thick in the head. It was my only asset.

We used to prove head-thickness by taking off our padded hats in the thick of the battle and throwing them to the sidelines. This signified that the time had come to separate the men from the boys. The crowd would cheer.

The ball was spotted where it came to rest, and this might be one foot from the sideline. It wasn't unusual for the center to be the only player on one side of a sideline play. All other players would be on the other side.

Exhortation was personal. There was old Doc Hall, who had two sons on our team, Bob and Frank. Old doc followed the ball up and down the field, telling his siblings what to do.

And this modern thing about spotters up in the stands telephoning observations to the bench. . . we not only had no telephones; we had no stands.

Some of us—many of us—had no qualifications but desire. That was the way it was, then. You had to be thick in the head to put on a football uniform and get knocked around, and the smart boys avoided it.

I'm glad I was born too soon to be barred for lack of know-how and size, because it gave me some of the best recollections I possess.

There are times during a football game when I can imagine myself in the thick of it, headgear cast aside, a visible hero. Then I see the telephoning, the assistant coaches and the "messengers" carrying in the plays and realize they wouldn't even let me put on a suit to hold down one end of the bench.

The era when all you needed was a thick head and a bellyful of desire is gone, blessedly so. But it was golden while it lasted, never forget that.

Aid To Education

By David Lawrence

Clearer Ruling Needed On School Funds

Loud are the laments from different groups throughout the country that Congress failed to provide the billions of dollars advocated by President Kennedy for federal aid to education.

David Lawrence

The President is blamed for lack of aggressive leadership or for compromising with opponents or for inept handling of the legislation by his own party.

Factionalism in Congress itself is blamed for the use of various parliamentary procedures to block passage. The religious issue is blamed as a disruptive influence. Opponents of federal subsidies are blamed.

Also, many who harbored doubts about loading the Treasury with an annual commitment for any field as big as education have gladly accepted some of the responsibility for the defeat of the measure.

But the sad fact remains that education in America is in need of more funds — better teachers and better buildings.

Whether all the states need federal aid or some of them can do the job themselves may be debated. Because of the varying conditions throughout the country, the average man finds it difficult to get a clear idea of just what ought or ought not to be done by the federal government.

The most recent excuse for federal aid is national defense. What is done in the Soviet Union is being held up constantly as something to be paralleled. Much money is evidently spent there for training engineers and technicians.

On the theory that Soviet Russia is a potential enemy, the argument is made by spokesmen for educational organizations that to give a better education to American citizens is somehow wrapped up in national defense. It's a convenient device in politics. So measures that are designed to help education are put into bills given such names as the National Defense Education Act.

THE TROUBLE with such a broad classification is that it runs into the religious issue. Higher institutions which need laboratories for scientists or scholarships for talented students in economic or scientific fields have been awarded federal money irrespective of whether those same institutions are operated by churches. The Kennedy administration says this is constitutional.

What is hard to understand, however, is why, if a Catholic boy is supposed subsequently to enlist and defend his country in war, he should be helped in his education at the elementary-school level only if he keeps out of a parochial school.

He must give up the religious education he wants in order to get the benefits of federal money granted to public elementary schools. This is widely criticized as reducing the doctrine of separation of church and state to an absurdity.

Literally, the Constitution says that "Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion."

Some argue that this means no law should ever be passed that deals with any religious institution in any respect whatsoever. If this be true, then the ablibi of national defense is ineffectual and no money can constitutionally be appropriated by Congress for higher institutions or elementary schools or anything else if they have the slightest connection with a church.

THERE ARE some passages in Supreme Court decisions which cast doubt on this doctrine. Each side quotes the passages that seem to support its own view. The truth is that the decisions are not clear.

The Supreme Court of the United States has never, for instance, ruled that a federal loan to help a church construct a church construct a school building is unconstitutional or that a federal loan covering a mortgage on a home for a Catholic citizen is unconstitutional when he engages a private tutor to come to that same home to teach his children the Catholic religion.

Obviously there is need for a clear-cut ruling by the Supreme Court of the United States which will remove all legal doubt as to whether any federal money can be used, directly or indirectly, for any college, high school or elementary school run by a church or whether federal funds may be used for any and all educational purposes except the actual teaching of a religious creed.

It can certainly decide whether federal money can be withheld from institutions that do teach religion in their school buildings even though the money obtained from the federal government is intended, no for the propagation of any religious beliefs, but just for such inanimate objects as brick and mortar and perhaps even for physical facilities to insure good health for American children in congested school areas.

IF CONGRESS would leave it to the courts to decide the extent to which the teaching of religion bars the use of state or federal funds for a college or high school or elementary school that isn't under public control, then the passage — on its merits — of an all-inclusive bill to foster education in America could be made easier.

There is nothing in the rulebook that says members of Congress must possess the legal background of court justices to enable them to resolve constitutional questions before voting for legislation.

College Tuition Fight

By C. K. Hodenfield

WASHINGTON— The cost of higher education is zooming out of sight — as any parent of a college student will tell you.

But this year's freshman may someday look back at 1961-62 as "the good old days" when a college education was relatively inexpensive.

Every student cost is on an escalator going up — tuition, lab fees, room and board, activity tickets, books and supplies, even dating and recreation.

From 1952 to 1960, the Labor Department's cost-of-living index rose by 11.5 per cent. During the same period, resident tuition and fees at major public universities increased more than 71 per cent, and room and board costs rose 27 per cent.

COMPARABLE figures for private colleges and universities probably would show even steeper increases.

Against this background, the Wisconsin State Coordinating Committee on Higher Education said tuition at the state colleges and the state university should be gradually reduced until it disappears.

To officials of public colleges and universities, the idea seems eminently right and proper.

To officials of private colleges and universities, the very thought is too horrible to contemplate.

The debate between public and private institutions on tuition rates reaches fever heat at times.

The private institutions say tuition must be raised to meet ever-increasing costs.

The public institutions say that raising tuition would defeat their moral and legal obligation to provide higher education to all who want it and can benefit by it.

If public institutions stick to the low-tuition principle, while private colleges and universities continue to increase their charges, some private schools would soon price themselves out of the market.

There is no question but that both types of colleges need more money.

ENROLLMENTS are leaping upward every year. This means more dormitories, classrooms, libraries and faculty.

Yet tuition probably never will cover the full cost of a college education.

A student at a state - supported school pays about one - fifth of the actual cost of his instruction. At a private institution he pays slightly less than one-half.

State - supported colleges and universities depend primarily on appropriations from state legislatures to make up the difference. Private institutions depend primarily on gifts and grants from individuals, foundations and corporations. Both also try to get as much as they can from alumni.

Public institutions have managed to hold the line for low tuition, despite tremendous pressures.

Harvey Sees No Threat Of Nuclear War

The United States and Russia probably never will fight an atomic war, but a struggle for world markets that is under way right now will decide the future of the world, Broadcaster Paul Harvey told a near - capacity audience Saturday night at Westgate School auditorium.

Harvey, appearing under the auspices of the Lady Elks, touched on a dozen subjects in his speech of more than an hour, but his central theme was the cold war between communism and democracy.

"It's entirely likely that military war never will be waged again if we remain strong," the ABC network broadcaster said. "If the United States ever is whipped it will be an 'inside job.' When people get fat they get lazy."

But the United States must keep its atomic bomb capability because it's the weapon for "the only kind of war we can win," Harvey asserted. He pointed to the numerical superiority of Russia and its satellites, compared with the manpower available to the U. S. and its allies.

America and its allies are outnumbered today and "every year since the end of World War II communism has added 100 million disciples" by taking over additional satellites, Harvey said.

Harvey said he feels that "the Almighty entrusted the atomic bomb to us for our deliverance" in World War II.

But, turning to the cold war again, he asserted that "Soviet might is 90 per cent myth," comparing production statistics in Russia and other Red-run nations with American output. Despite Russia's boasts of superiority, the Communists are bleeding their satellites to help keep up Russia's standard of living, Harvey said.

The speaker deplored the average American's growing dependence on federal government. He said the end result of such a trend is that "the government becomes all-powerful and the people are cattle."

Harvey declared that Americans "must get off dead center and get back to work" to "outproduce and outsell Russia."

He quoted Bulganin, former Russian premier, to the effect that: "Someday the U. S. will price itself out of the world market, unemployment will result and then we will settle our score."

Harvey blamed America's present position on deviation from the religious tenets of the founding fathers.

"Someday God will lead America again and America will lead the world again," he asserted.

Harvey was introduced by Samuel B. Webber, exalted ruler of the Elks Lodge. Mrs. Fred Link, president of the Lady Elks, also spoke briefly. Several numbers were presented by the chorus of the Sweet Adelines — women barbershop-style singers — under the direction of Glenn Woods. Proceeds went to the Lady Elks Cerebral Palsy fund.

In his network broadcast that originated from East Liverpool earlier Saturday, Harvey hit strongly at the effect of imports on the district's pottery industry.

He said East Liverpool's situation is "symptomatic" of conditions in other U. S. communities where the principal industry has been undercut by goods from low labor cost countries.

At the same time, Harvey criticized East Liverpool for its "run-down downtown" business area and its lack of building and zoning codes. He said the economic situation can be blamed partly on management's desire to "skim off the cream" without reinvesting profits and labor's demands "for more pay for less work."

He rapped at East Liverpool for "not building a new hotel or motel in 50 years" and added that "the visitor is depressed by the sight of empty factories..."

At the same time, Harvey referred to East Liverpool's setting in the hills, calling it "this most beautiful bend on the Beautiful Ohio."

Driver, 32, Charged As Truck Overturns

SALINEVILLE — A 32-year-old Uhrichsville area truck driver and four horses he was hauling to East Liverpool escaped injury early Saturday when his van truck upset on a curve of Route 39 just inside the village.

Deputy Marshall Jay Carter said the trucker apparently rounded the curve too sharply and the vehicle went over on its side, ripping out about 50 feet of guardrails.

The driver is due a hearing Oct. 19 before Mayor Kenneth Leishman on a charge of reckless operation.

Injured Trio Recovers In 2-Car Crash

Mrs. Mary Louise Wallover, wife of Atty. Edwin M. Wallover of Beaver, is in "satisfactory" condition today at Presbyterian Hospital at Pittsburgh following an auto accident Saturday morning on Route 68 in Industry.

Atty. Wallover, 68, is listed in "fair" condition at Rochester General Hospital, where Miss Wenda DeAngelo, 20, of Smiths Ferry R. D. 1, driver of the other car, is listed as "good."

All three were admitted to Rochester General at 10 a. m. Saturday. Mrs. Wallover later was transferred to the Pittsburgh hospital with head injuries, multiple fractures of right leg, left wrist and a possible rib fracture and lacerations of the face and knee. Her head injuries are not as serious as first believed, the Pittsburgh hospital said.

Atty. Wallover suffered a possible fracture of his left hip and multiple contusions and abrasions and Miss DeAngelo suffered a fracture of her left foot and multiple contusions and abrasions, Rochester General reported.

The Wallovers, who reside at 348 Lincoln Ave., Beaver, lived in Midland about 40 years prior to moving about a month ago to Beaver.

The Rochester barracks of the Pennsylvania State Police, which assisted Police Chief Guy St. Esprit in the investigation, said the accident occurred at 9:20 a. m. about three miles south of Beaver on a straight stretch of road near the Barclay's Crossing overpass.

Police said Miss DeAngelo was traveling east and Wallover west toward Midland when for some unknown reason the DeAngelo 1959 convertible crossed the center line, colliding with the Wallover sedan.

There was some fog at the time of the accident, police said, and charges are pending on the outcome of injuries. Damage was estimated at $2,800 for both vehicles.

Confident Living

By Norman Vincent Peale

Do People Ever Change?

A seatmate on a plane turned to me and came up with an interesting question: "I'd like to know what you think. Do you believe that a person ever really changes very much? Does anyone ever make a radical change from being one type of person to another?" "Why do you ask?" I parried. "Is your interest only philosophical, or, perhaps, more personal than that?" "I've heard that religion changes people, makes entirely new persons of them; but I have never actually seen such a change in anyone. I have read accounts in your books about men and women whose lives were revolutionized by what you call Positive Thinking — I just thought I would do a little on-the-spot checking."

"YES," I replied. "I know people who have changed, really changed; but personal revamping of this kind does not come easy. And I must say that many people go through life never changing for the better at all. What they were at 20, they are at 60, only more so. If they were plagued by fears at 20, they are more fearful at 60. If they had feelings of inferiority at 18 they are licked and defeated in older years.

"People who never make a definite change for the better, who seemingly remain unchanged, actually proceed across the years in a slow process of deterioration. It is a doubtful compliment when said of a person: 'He never changes. He's always the same.' It is probably well-meant, but it can indicate a static condition, a failure to progress. Nothing stands still or is impervious to change, not even mountains, and certainly not people. It follows that unless we change in a forward direction we are in a state of retrogression."

"Guess you've hit my case straight on the head," my companion said. "I got to thinking the other day when I made a dumb decision in a business deal that I have made stupid decisions all my life. After each one I kick myself and say I will think more carefully next time. And then what to you think I do next time? Why of course I do another dumb thing! I have never changed except I seem to do more stupid things all the time. Now if I were a drunk, or a fast-living guy, or a two-timer, I could believe your system of positive thinking might change me, but to change a dumb guy into a smart one is something else again. So what the heck," he concluded dejectedly, "I guess I'm this way for keeps."

I POINTED OUT to my despondent companion that a powerful destroyer of personality is the element of error that sometimes perniciously lays hold of people. It makes you think wrong, react wrong, decide wrong. It is a state of consciousness in which perception, understanding, intuition, feeling and reason are dulled. And when the mental and spiritual processes are sluggish, what can you expect but sluggish results? And if no real effort is ever made to reduce or eliminate the error element, naturally it settles down into an habitual reaction.

"O.K., O.K., that's me all over," exclaimed the man fretfully. "So what do I do about this big chunk of error in my consciousness?"

I suggested he might try beginning at once to inject truth into his mind as a counter-agent against error. This he could do by the following steps: (1) Every day affirm aloud, until he really believed it, this statement: "I am a child of God and as such will have a better opinion of myself. (s) Stop believing that he was dumb; and as a child of God recognize that he had a good mind capable of a high average of right decisions. (3) Put the highest form of truth thoughts into his mind every night before going to sleep by reading and committing to mind words of the Holy Scriptures until finally he would "know the truth" and be set free from his defeated self. (4) Associate with people who had experienced spiritual change in some form, and receive guidance from them.

"Do these things," I said, "and keep on doing them and you will solve your problem. But it will take time, lots of time. And don't try to do it alone; ask God to help you."

He promised to try the "Prescription for overcoming dumbness." I heard from him rather regularly over a couple of years after our talk. Sure he had his struggles.

You can't change long-established mental habits overnight. But he did change, so much so that many people now look to him for guidance on their problems. Actually a keen intelligent approach to life is possible for anyone. Just get truth to working against error in you.

Civil War Group To Inspect Home Of Vallandigham

A tour of the Clement Vallandigham homestead and the Old Stone House at Lisbon will be taken by the Tri-State Civil War Roundtable Wednesday night.

Vallandigham, a native of Lisbon and leader of the "Peace Democrats" during the Civil War, was exiled to the South by President Lincoln in 1863 after a speech critical of the war and abuse of constitutional rights.

He ran as unsuccessful candidate for governor of Ohio that year.

The homestead, located ironically on Lincoln Way, formerly Walnut St., is 150 years old. It is owned by Walter Taylor of Knoxville, Tenn., and is currently for sale.

Members of the roundtable are to meet at the Carnegie Library at 7 p. m. and will leave promptly to be at the Vallandigham home at 7:30, Glenn Waight, program chairman, said. The tour of the Old Stone House will be conducted by Ross Fox, president of the Lisbon Historical Society, afterward.

The meeting of the roundtable had been scheduled Tuesday night, but the arrangements for the tour could be made only for Wednesday, Waight explained.

NAPLES, Fla. (AP) — Roy Ozmer, 62-year-old hermit, lives in an 8 by 10 foot plywood cabin with plastic windows on one of the islands in Ten Thousand Islands.

Cadillac

The word for it is... "Masterful!"

"Superb" . . . "luxurious" . . . "beautiful" . . . "brilliant"—there are many words that might be used to describe the new 1962 Cadillac car.

But if we were to select from the Cadillac vocabulary the one word that most completely captures the essence of this latest "car of cars"—we would choose "masterful".

For here is a motor car that has already established its mastery in everything that makes an automobile good and fine and desirable.

In appearance, it is clearly a Cadillac masterpiece—graceful, clean-lined and elegant.

In performance, it is a revelation. Its power plant is a reservoir of silken power—and the car rides and handles with an instinctive ease and sureness.

In safety, it is in a class of its own—with a host of exclusive features, including remarkable new side cornering lights.

In craftsmanship, it is simply without rival. Every 1962 Cadillac will undergo more than 1400 inspections to assure its quality and goodness.

On and on the list could go. But however lengthy, that list could never replace the experience of inspecting the car and driving it.

Your dealer will happily let you do both.

Once you have, you'll understand why the word has gone out so quickly that this is the finest motor car ever to bear the Cadillac name.

Auto Strife Slows Steel

CLEVELAND (AP) — Unsettled labor conditions in the auto industry continue to keep the steel industry from attaining its expected production levels, Steel Magazine said today.

Ford and Chrysler are buying cautiously, the magazine said, and General Motors hasn't released as much tonnage as steelmakers anticipated.

"Steel sales executives have two theories — either automotive steel inventories are bigger than they estimated, or automakers do not intend to boost their October output enough to make up for the production lost in September," Steel said, adding:

"If new models sales are good automakers will probably order more steel for November delivery than they'll take this month. Until they step up their purchases, the steel market will have a hard time getting off dead center."

Production this week is expected to be slightly higher than the 2,130,000 tons the publication estimated was turned out last week.

The use of scrap metal should be high this fall and winter because of the expected strength in steel production, the magazine said, but added that it's unlikely that scrap prices will go up proportionately.

Steel's composite price on No. 1 heavy melting scrap was $39.75 a gross ton last week. The price had jumped more than 37 per cent since the first of the year, but leveled out for September.

Historically, scrap consumption was tied directly to the steelmaking pace, but oxygen converter steelmaking has reduced overall scrap requirements, Steel explained.

German-Born Salesman, 38, Faces Immigration Problem

CHICAGO (AP)—For 15 years a German-born salesman, Joseph Schallmoser, has been a registered voter. He is a thrice decorated U.S. veteran of World War II.

But last week the Immigration Service told Schallmoser he is not a U.S. citizen. Unless he applies for citizenship, the service says, Mr. Schallmoser will be Herr Schallmoser.

"I am a citizen. I've been a citizen almost all my life," said the 38-year-old salesman who came from Germany with his parents in 1929 when he was 6 years old.

"If I sign these papers and send in my five dollars, it's easy enough for me," he said. "But what about the thousands of other guys in the same situation?"

Schallmoser's troubles with the Immigration Service began last week when he tried to be a witness for a friend being naturalized.

Immigration authorities ruled Schallmoser's voting card, Army discharge, and father's naturalization papers were not enough.

"You are technically not a citizen," immigration officials told him.

"I was more than a little shocked," said Schallmoser.

His father was naturalized when Schallmoser was still a minor in the mid-30s.

Schallmoser said he always listed his father's naturalization number with a note that it was not his. "No one ever questioned it before," he said.

"If the government recognized that I had been a citizen for 9½ years in 1943," said Schallmoser, "I don't see how I can not be a citizen now."

Irving Freedman of the Chicago immigration office said Schallmoser must have his own naturalization papers.

"Sure he's an American, but he needs something to prove it," Freedman said.

But Schallmoser says he won't sign a citizenship application.

"Either you've got all the rights of a citizen or you have nothing," declared Schallmoser. He and his wife, Betty, have three children, the oldest 13, the youngest 2.

Teenage Boy And Girl Hurt In Cliff Fall

MEDINA, Ohio (AP)—A teenaged boy and girl, injured in a 35-foot fall down a sheer cliff to a rock-strewn path, were reported in fair condition at Medina Community Hospital.

Margaret Wolfe, 16, of Cleveland suffered fractures of the pelvis, left hip and right arm, a brain concussion and internal injuries in the accident Saturday night at Whipps Ledges, Hinckley Twp.

Her companion, Otto Spirek Jr., 19, of West Richfield, suffered a broken back.

They were found by Mrs. Robert A. Brown of Hinckley Twp. and her two daughters, Kerrie, 14, and Roberta, 12.

The victims and another young couple were en route to their homes from the home of Spirek's uncle when the accident occurred.

Spirek and Miss Wolfe got out of the car at Whipps Ledges, while the other couple remained in the vehicle.

"All of a sudden everything was very dark," Miss Wolfe said. "I was lost and walking in a circle and bumping into trees.

"Then the next thing I knew I woke up and saw a cliff above me that looked about a mile high."

Spirek said he had cautioned the girl to stay behind him but that "she suddenly took two steps in front of me and disappeared." He fell while looking for a path down the cliff to go to her aid.

Funeral Set Tuesday For Newsman, 84

LAKESIDE, Ohio (AP)—Services for Al G. Wharton, 84, a veteran newspaperman here, will be at 1 p.m. Tuesday at the Neidecker Funeral Home in Port Clinton.

He was found dead Saturday night in his home, where he lived alone.

Dr. F. K. Ritter, acting Ottawa County coroner, said Wharton apparently had been dead since Thursday. He ruled death was due to natural causes.

Early in his newspaper career Wharton was editor and publisher of a weekly paper at Belle Center for about 13 years. He had been a columnist and printer for the weekly Lakeside Courier and its successor, the Peninsular News, since 1907.

His column for the Lakeside paper, titled "Memories," was mainly a rehash of past incidents in the Firelands area.

Avoid Cluttered Look

Friendliness Can Be Built Into New Family Room

For a family that enjoys spending time together in informal activities, a family room is "a must," according to the West Coast Lumbermen's Association of Portland, Ore.

But how do you get away from that cluttered, anything - goes appearance while still maintaining a slippers and pipe atmosphere? How do you create a room that is truly for private family use but one that is lovely enough to host guests?

The answer is to design a room with built-in character and friendliness. Stay away from a warmed-over look. If you plan to use cast-off furniture from the living-room, refurbish it with paint or stain and new upholstery to give it a fresh face. Or, if starting from scratch, choose pieces that are completely comfortable and of lasting quality, and pieces that are scaled to fit the room's size.

Select convertible furniture — nests of end tables that work for TV dinners and card games, chairs that let the man of the house lounge but also please a dainty lady.

Walls are important in setting the tenor of this room. For built-in friendliness, paneling of a prestige wood like champagne - hued West Coast hemlock can't be beaten. Finished clear or with a light stain, wood walls provide the texture and warmth this room needs, yet are neutral enough to let you pick your color scheme — and let your change it in the future.

For a family room that is really fun to live in, try to create a theme. Use wall decorations, lamps, accessories to give it the look of a frontier saloon. Or center the theme around the family's favorite sport — skiing, boating, golf — and work storage for those sporting goods right into the room's decor.

Most important, don't forget a wall full of shelving and cupboards where you can keep all the millions of things you'll be using in this room — the playing cards, books, magazines, newspapers, the slide projector and the children's toys. With a little forethought, everything from the music system to a supply of ash trays can be built into this storage wall ready for instant use but neatly tucked out of sight.

Oak Floors Make Hit At Chicago Trade Fair

CHICAGO — Oak floors played a star role in several dining vignettes and model rooms designed by members of the American Institute of Interior Designers for the huge 1961 International Trade Fair held here recently.

Given free rein in styling, a number of designers utlized oak floors — some in color — as a major element of decorative interest.

In the Pavilion of Dining, where designers executed various dining room themese in fascinating international flavor, all of the four basic oak floor styles were represented — strip, plank, unit-block and conventional parquetry.

Designers Andrew K. Addkison, Daniel Flanagan and Robert F. Metz chose white oak strip flooring in mixed widths of 1½, 2¼ and 3¼ inches for their "America Dines Out" presentation.

Prefinished in natural tone, the floor attracted much favorable comment among the 630,000 Fair visitors and some 35,000 buyers in attendance from all parts of the world. Left entirely exposed, it was particularly appealing because of its unusual makeup. Strip flooring ordinarily is installed in uniform widths.

Another outstanding floor was that in the "American Thanksgiving" room, designed by Milton A. Botterill. Also completely uncovered, it was composed of alternating 4-inch and 8-inch wide oak planks beveled at the edges.

It was treated with charcoal black stain which permitted the natural beauty of the wood grain to show through. Decorative brass pegs, each about the size of a quarter, were inserted to simulate dowels in holes drilled near the end joints of the planks.

The "Formal English Tea" room, by S. Lee Wolffs, featured a natural tone unit-block floor of red oak. It was laid in a square pattern with the grain direction alternating in adjacent blocks. Each unit, 9 inches square, was comprised of four 2¼-inch wide pieces. A small rectangular, patterned area rug was used for accent under a circular dining table.

A handsome parquet floor in herringbone design added appeal to the "German Christmas" room, by Richard Niewoehner. Made up of white oak pieces each 2¼ inches wide and 11¼ inches long, the floor was given a striking rust color with rubbed paint which revealed the beauty of the grain pattern.

The finish coat was lacquer. A round black and red patterned accent rug beneath a circular table added interest.

White oak strip flooring in a width of 1½ inches was a dominant feature of a family room designed by Louis B. Frederick. Mr. Frederick utilized the oak, in natural finish, not only for the floor but also for turning a potential decorative liability into an asset.

The room had a flat-surfaced structural column projecting from the endwall about midway between the sidewalls. This, together with the endwall, was surfaced with oak strips, applied vertically. The flooring was used, too, in making a series of shelves which were installed on either side of the column. A vari-colored patterned area rug in front of a sofa contributed a harmonizing note to the expanse of gleaming wood.

A garden room designed by Richard Himmel introduced visitors to the distinctive effects possible with oak floors in decorator colors. Beveled white oak planks in widths of 3, 5 and 7 inches were finished alternately in five pastel shades of yellow and pink to harmonize with the room's predominantly yellow color plan.

As in the German Christmas room, the color was achieved with rubbed paint which permitted the wood figure to show. Lacquer was applied over the paint. A rectangular gravel bed near the center of the room lent added decorative impact to the uncovered floor.

5 Boy Scouts Lost 23 Hours In Woods Found

WESTHAMPTON, Mass. (AP)—A compass test for five young Boy Scouts was somehting less than a success—they became lost in the dense woods of Pisgha Mountain for 23 hours.

A search party found the scouts 11 to 15 years old, huddled around a camp fire shortly before noon Sunday. They were tired, hungry, thirsty and chagrined.

Police Chief Earl Gett said Scoutmaster Chester Wronski told him he left the boys Saturday morning. They had compasses and a topographical map, and were to have hiked to Norwich Lake, eaten lunch there, then met Wronski at Pine Island Lake at 4 p.m. When they had not arrived three hours after the appointed rendezvous, Wronski notified police.

The boys said darkness arrived before they came in sight of Pine Island Lake so they lit a fire and decided to stay put. They had one flashlight and some candles, canteens but no place to fill them, no sleeping bags and no food.

Family Of 5 Lost As Fishing Boat Sinks

JUNEAU, Alaska (AP)—A fishing boat sank off Lemesurier Island, 77 miles northwest of here Sunday, apparently wiping out a family of five from Tacoma, Wash.

Fishermen said the 37-foot troller, Partner, may have hit a chunk of floating ice.

New Trend Emphasizes Bare Floors

Use of exposed floors set off with patterned area or accent rugs has reached a new high in popular appeal and now ranks among the top fashion trends in room planning, according to trade reports.

The sharply increased preference for this decorative practice is attributed in considerable measure to a renewed appreciation for the natural beauty of oak and other attractive hardwoods, which are employed most extensively in the arrangement.

Wood beauty has such strong appeal, in fact, that some makers of non-wood materials now seek to immitate it, designers point out, with a simulated wood grain appearance.

An indication of the growing popularity of the exposed floor idea is seen in recent comments in Home Furnishings Daily, leading publication of the home furnishings industry.

Discussing important fashion trends, the publication reported: "Floors will become still barer. Smooth surface will take the place of wall-to-wall carpeting. Patterned area rugs will be combined with patterned drapery and upholstery fabrics for the pattern-with-pattern look. . ."

In another article an influential department store buyer was quoted as saying that the resurgence of interest in rugs reflects the displacement of wall-to-wall carpeting as a "status symbol."

The article also quoted a leading floor covering stylist as reporting that "the vogue for pattern in all home furnishings fabrics has reached the floor," and that "to create a pleasing decor using patterned upholstery fabrics, draperies, wall coverings and floor coverings, the accent of bare floor is essential."

The exposed floor concept was much in evidence in room settings at the 1961 International Trade Fair in Chicago. Several rooms designed by members of the American Institute of Interior Designers featured oak floors either entirely exposed or set off with area rugs.

Although oak is the big favorite among both designers and homemakers, other attractive hardwood species also are used frequently to produce exceptionally handsome floors. Among these are hard maple, beech, birch, pecan, walnut, cherry, ash, hickory and teak.

The strip style of hardwood, which can be laid in uniform widths or in mixed widths, is the choice of most persons because it combines all the advantages of fine hardwood flooring with decorative versatility and moderate cost. Harmonizing with any decorative plan, it is one of the most economical of all residential floorings.

The other major styles—plank, unit-block and conventional parquetry -- also are employed with unusually pleasing results in the exposed floor arrangement.

24 Laws Passed By Ohio Assembly To Take Effect

Some of the more important laws which will become effective next week are those which:

Driver Faces Charge After Crash In Fog

A city motorist was cited for failure to stop in the assured clear distance as the result of a pile up of four trucks and a car in the dense fog on Route 7 near the intersection with Route 213 at Yellow Creek Saturday at 9:15 a. m.

The Wintersville State Highway Patrol said there were two separate accidents, occurring at the same spot about five minutes apart.

A Wellsville Quality Feed Co. truck driven by Harold Leith, 38, of 924 Main St., Wellsville, was struck in the rear by another truck driven by George Frederick, 44, of Youngstown. The impact knocked the first truck into the guardrail and it bounced across the medial strip and back again.

Leith suffered a possible back injury. About five minutes later, another truck driven south by William Pugh, 35, of Winston Salem, N. C., halted on the highway because of the accident, officers said.

A car driven by Michael Molchan, 41, of 1305 Brightview Dr. halted behind the rig. Another truck driven by Howard Gibbs, 32, of 1020 Rubicon St. then struck the Molchan car and drove it into the rear of the rig driven by Pugh.

Mrs. Molchan, 38, a passenger in her husband's car, suffered abrasions of the right leg and their daughter, Patricia, 9, suffered abrasions of the forehead.

Gibbs suffered a sprained neck. He was cited for failure to stop in the assured clear distance and will receive a hearing Wednesday at 2 p. m. before Judge Helen Huntsman at Toronto.

The rear end of a tractor-trailer truck was cut off by a southbound freight train at the Port Homer crossing on Route 7 at 7:30 a. m. The driver, Charles R. McAllister of Barbersville, W. Va., and his co-driver, L. D. Handley of Huntington, escaped injury.

The wreckage was cleared and the train moved on in about two hours. The combination of both accidents tied up traffic on Route 7 for about three hours.

2 County Women Hurt As Car Hits Bank

A Leetonia woman and her passenger from East Rochester were injured when their car veered off Route 172 near New Garden and struck an embankment Saturday night about 11:35.

The Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon said Josephine Rance, 25, of Leetonia lost control while headed west and her auto left the road and hit the embankment, causing extensive damage to the car.

The driver suffered abrasions of the left arm and back, and a passenger, Rita Rose, 20, of East Rochester received abrasions of the right leg.

The mishap occurred about a mile east of New Garden.

Strike In 9th Day

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The city bus strike entered its ninth day, and negotiations have been recessed until Tuesday. Striking Local 208, Transport Workers Union, voted Saturday night to continue off the job until a new contract is obtained, while the Columbus Transit Co. has turned down a scaled-down union wage proposal.

Hand Tools Are Handy To Have In Workshop

You may think that hand tools have gone out of style, what with all the talk about power tools these days.

But if you're a home handyman, even one lucky enough to have a workshop filled with power machines, you know how often nothing will do the job properly except a screwdriver or wrench or hammer or any one of half a dozen other still-necessary hand tools

To make your tasks a little easier, here are some tips on the use of hand tools, some of which you may know and some of which usually are known and used only by the professionals:

A wrench should be pulled towards you, not pushed away from you. Never place a length of pipe over the handle to give you more leverage unless you want to risk breaking the wrench and possibly injuring yourself. In using a pipe wrench, be sure the pipe is gripped at the center of the jaws.

If you use a screwdriver for much heavy work, place a rubber crutch tip (sold in hardware stores) over the handle to avoid blisters on your hands. Don't use soap as a screw lubricant, since it may rust the material into which it is driven. Use graphite or paraffin or one of the lubricants made especially for this purpose.

In buying a hammer, it should feel right when you pick it up and simulate striking a nail with it, much as you test a golf club by swinging it before buying. A good hammer will last a lifetime, which is why you should spend a little extra for quality.

A wood chisel should never be struck with a hammer — a sure way to split the handle. Use a wooden mallet. In storing a chisel, be sure the edges are protected.

In sawing wood, use pressure only on the downstrokes with the exception of the first cut, which is made with short upstrokes near the heel of the saw.

When using a pliers on a faucet, place adhesive tape across the jaws of the pliers or on the faucet itself to prevent damage to the texture.

AFL-CIO Set To Act Upon Hoffa Exile

NEW YORK (AP) — Organized labor leaders open a week-long meeting today to decide whether to take back James R. Hoffa's expelled Teamsters Union or start a rival truck drivers unit.

It appeared likely that the AFL-CIO would continue its four-year exile of Hoffa's organization on corruption charges.

A number of AFL-CIO unions have been actively urging readmission of the Teamsters. They point out that despite court convictions of several Hoffa aides he himself has emerged unscathed from a barrage of charges.

Joseph A. Curran, president of the National Maritime Union and a federation vice president, and Michael J. Quill, head of the Transport Workers Union, are leaders of the pro-Hoffa group.

Still other AFL-CIO unions are equally insistent that not only should the doors be kept shut against Hoffa but a rival union should be established to try to woo Teamsters members away from him.

Among those seeking formation of a new AFL-CIO Teamsters organization are Presidents James B. Carey of the International Union of Electrical Workers and Joseph A. Beirne of the Communications Workers.

The Teamsters were ousted in 1957 after extensive corruption disclosures by the Senate rackets investigating committee, headed by Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark.

George Meany, AFL-CIO president, recently has been extending active encouragement to a few scattered Teamsters locals that bolted from Hoffa's union.

Wood Floor Resilience Is Treat To Your Feet

The floors you stand and walk on can have a lot to do with your foot comfort and health, foot specialists say.

They point out that thousands of Americans today are suffering foot and leg ailments as a result of prolonged standing or walking on non-resilient surfaces. Many specialists are outspoken in recommending wood floors, which have a cusioning effect.

Dr. Marvin W. Shapiro of Toledo, Ohio, past president of the American Podiatry Association, declares:

"The resilience of wood is generally known all right, but in the sweep of fads and trends this is too often overlooked. In factories where workers must stand on concrete floors we find large numbers who show the strain.

"Placing thick carpets over non-resilient floor surfaces doesn't solve the problem, either. We who treat foot ailments find that clerks in department stores who stand all day on heavy carpeting often develop their own peculiar types of leg aches. It is not a natural footing."

The specialist concedes that while other factors often are involved in foot complaints, "we who treat foot ills know that when wood is used as the standing and walking surface, there is less trouble. Organic materials like wood absorb the shock, and inorganic materials like concrete do not."

Quality Construction Traced To Pharaohs

Fine hardwood floors can be expected to last the life of a house, no matter how well it's constructed, a flooring industry spokesman declared.

As an example of the longevity of wood he cites an archeological discovery of a wood floor in the tomb of one of the first Pharaohs. Although 5,000 years old, the floor was reported to be in excellent condition.

Free Booklet Helps In Floor Selection

Home planners will find helpful information on selection, installation, finishing and care of oak floors in a newly revised 32-page booklet published by the National Oak Flooring Manufacturers' Association.

A free copy can be obtained by sending a postcard or letter request to Oak Flooring Information Service, 75 E. Wacker Dr., Chicago 1, Ill. Just ask for "Oak Floors for Your Home."

Replace Furnace Filter Periodically

A clogged filter in a gas heating system can cut heat, increase fuel bills and require service during the winter.

The Gas Appliance Manufacturers Association suggests the filter be replaced periodically so it can do its job of cleaning the air to be heated by the furnace or boiler.

Kennedy Plans Speaking Tour In Mid-November

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP) — President Kennedy will head west on a speaking tour in mid-November.

It could wind up with his lending a personal hand to Cabinet officers and other administration executives in reporting to the people what Congress accomplished and what more he would like it to accomplish.

Pierre Salinger, White House press secretary, announced Sunday Kennedy will speak Nov. 16 in Seattle at the 100th anniversary of the University of Washington and again Nov. 17 in Phoenix at a dinner honoring Sen. Carl A. Hayden's 50 years in Congress.

Plied with questions, Salinger said that after the Phoenix visit, Kennedy has "some other stops under consideration."

Asked whether the trip is shaping up as a speaking tour, he replied that "we've already got two speeches. Anything over one makes it a tour."

Kennedy, who flew here Saturday for the weekend, scheduled a return to Washington by jet today.

Mrs. Kennedy and the Kennedy children are staying on at the Newport estate of her parents.

Deter Pollution

Contrary to popular belief, the burning of trash and garbage need not produce objectionable smoke and odor. Homeowners who have adopted one of the new automatic gas disposers not only have rid themselves of the garbage disposal nuisance but also have helped their communities control air pollution.

Bathroom's Development Seen 'Unique'

CHICAGO — The modern American bathroom is the most distinctively American room in the entire house. It is the unique contribution of America to world culture.

The entire story of the evolution of household equipment and the constantly improving American standard of living could be written in the development of the bathroom alone, the Plumbing - Heating - Cooling Information Bureau points out.

Despite its historical background, the bathroom is a dynamic room — constantly changing in response to the new demands of the American family.

These changes are apparent in the improvements in the styling and design of the fixtures and fittings and they are also apparent in a new attitude toward the bathroom and new ways of increasing its usefulness as well as its beauty.

In recent years all fixtures and fittings have been redesigned for greater beauty, usefulness, durability, and sanitation.

Starting with fixtures in color and making use of the wide range of new floor and wall coverings, modern lighting and accessories, the possibilities for planning strikingly beautiful bathrooms and powder rooms are almost infinite.

From plumbing contractors householders can obtain a wide selection of booklets and other literature issued by manufacturers of plumbing fixtures. From this material the homemaker will be able to get many helpful ideas on the selection of fixtures and the choice of colors.

One such booklet is entitled "What You Should Know About Plumbing" and is available for 10 cents from the Plumbing - Heating - Cooling Information Bureau, 35 E. Wacker Dr., Chicago 1, Ill.

Built-In Look Seen In New Gas Ranges

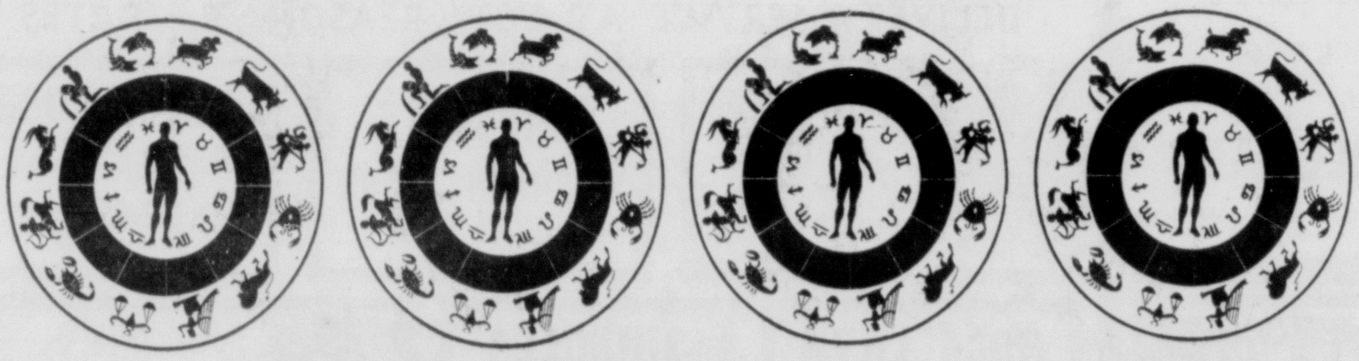
Gas ranges that look built - in, but have the all-in-one advantages of free-standing models, are now available.

According to the Gas Appliance Manufacturers Association, the new ranges don't have the usual base or legs of a free-standing unit and can be fitted into a section cut out of a kitchen counter.

The new ranges come in a wide variety of colors and in widths of 20, 24, 30, 36 and 40 inches.

IT'S A FACT!

You can heat your home 4 years with GAS



for about the same price that you can heat only 1 year with electricity

What a boon to your budget Gas Heat really is! Four years of comfortable, convenient home heating for what it would cost to heat your home just one year electrically. Translated into dollars, Gas Heat means big savings . . . month-after-month, year-after-year . . . savings that mount up to, literally, thousands of dollars.
But cost is not the whole story when it comes to Gas Heat. Consider these other advantages:

GAS HEAT is "fresh air" heat. It allows for normal, healthful air changes in your home. You don't have to seal it tight as a thermos bottle to keep costs from soaring.

GAS HEAT enables you to keep all parts of your home, including the basement, comfortable at reasonable cost.

GAS HEAT is clean. The air is filtered to remove dust and pollen before it is heated and circulated through your home.

GAS HEAT requires a minimum of attention. You need to set only one thermostat for whole home comfort. No heat is more dependable . . . none safer . . . than Gas. And with forced air Gas Heat, you already have duct work that converts easily for central air conditioning.

Why be extravagant? Why pay more — to get Less? Insist on Gas Heat for your home and save thousands of dollars!

Here's How—

Become 'Well Closeted'

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

Everyone talks about the closet shortage. Few do anything about it.

But if your problem is the lack of closets, don't just sit and grumble, McGee.

Build them yourself.

Or have them built.

Or buy them ready-made.

Many modern houses are little more advanced than America's first houses — a roof over some rooms. Builders include a few extra closets in higher-priced homes, on the theory, I presume, that only people who can afford to buy expensive homes use many closets.

So you're faced with doing it yourself.

Lop off part of a room if need be and install a ready-made closet for ever-increasing paraphernalia. You'll be so happy with the results that you won't miss the space forfeited.

If your family is sports minded, as more and more families are these days, equip your home to accommodate your equipment. No more running to the garage for water skis, bureau for snorkel and basement for outboard motor.

Collect the tennis rackets, skis, golf clubs, fishing rods, reels, guns, bats, balls and all the rest of it and design yourself a sports closet. Build in or have built in racks, shelves and pigeonholes to hold the equipment you have (and some bonus shelves for equipment you will get). You don't want to build a sports closet only to find everything in a clutter on the floor.

Now what about a closet in the living room? Perhaps you could work it under a built-in bookcase. If shelves go all the way to the floor and you don't need so many, put doors on the lower ones and stow your records, cameras, projector, screen, films, slides, albums, tape recorder, tapes, games and musical instruments.

Working hobbies — such as typing and sewing — if pursued in the living room, should have their equipment stored in that room. A closet possibility for typewriter and sewing machine is to build a wooden chest out from one wall, perhaps under a window, covering the lid with cushions. You can vary this, of course, substituting drawers for top-opening chest. Both make a nice window seat.

Couples who are Saturday night bridge or poker players need to store card tables. Look around for something nearby to slip them under or behind. One suggestion—open a trap door under the shallow end of your stairway. They'll slide in there, and you possibly may find room to store a set of folding chairs as well.

We've become barbecue fanciers. But what do we do with the outdoor cooker and utensils if the cellar is inadequate or too loaded? The garage bulges with bicycle, baby carriage and little red wagon in many homes.

Then there's the garden equipment, outdoor furniture, wheel barrow and lawn mower. An easy-to-build shed on the side of a garage could be the solution if this is your problem.

Clothes closets are likely to be inadequate too. Many men like their own closet with shelves top to bottom. No more digging through bureau drawers or competing with the wife for closet space.

The lady of the house, who needs more hangar space than anything else, also could use a row of shelves, perhaps on one side of her closet. Pocketbooks, belts, scarves, hats and gloves at a glance save a lot of rummaging.

The main thing when planning a closet is to decide what your most pressing storage needs are, figure out a place where these needs can be met (while you're at it, alot a generous amount of space) and design the closet's interior down to the last placement of pole, shelf and wall hook.

Then, and only then, turn to the home handyman or professional carpenter. When you know what you want, they can build it for you.

Prefinished Oak Installed Easily Over Old Floors

There's an easy solution nowadays to the problem of old worn floors that cannot be restored to attractiveness: have gleaming new oak floors installed right over them.

Especially when prefinished oak is used, the job can be completed quickly with minimum disruption of household routine. Expertly finished at the mill — even to waxing and polishing — prefinished oak flooring is ready for service immediately after being installed. It enables a home owner to have a room re-floored and put back into use the same day.

For nailing directly over old wood floors there is a choice of prefinished stock in the popular strip style or the handsome unit-block type.

Unit-blocks, a modern form of parquetry, also can be installed in mastic right over concrete or other hard surfaces. They can be laid over old composition flooring, too, provided the latter is firmly bonded.

The cost can vary with localities and with the type and grade of flooring chosen. A room can be floored with a top grade of the strip style, however, for less than you might pay for a good quality floor covering for a similar area.

Police Question Man In Fatal Shooting

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Police questioned Calvin C. Adams, 33, today in connection with the fatal shooting Saturday night of Mrs. Betty Jane Ramsey, 27.

Officers said the shooting occurred about three hours after they helped Mrs. Ramsey evict Adams from a room he rented at the Ramsey home.

Charges were expected to be filed today, detectives said.

Tax Estimates Set

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Chamber of Commerce figures that the estimates $9 billion increase in federal spending in fiscal 1962 over the Eisenhower administration's budget recommendations will touch Ohioans to the tune of $53.60 a head, cost Buckeye taxpayers a total of $520 million and comes out to $214.40 for each four-member family.

Injection In Her Arm

Doctor To Be Arraigned In Plot To Poison Wife

PORT ORCHARD, Wash. (AP) —Dr. Robert E. Boehme, 41, accused of injecting poison into his wife's arm, was to be arraigned today on a charge of first-degree assault with intent to kill.

His wife, Dorothy, 34, said she would leave her hospital bed to be at his side.

Boehme was freed on $25,000 bond after his arrest Saturday. An attractive nurse, Mary Boehme, 28, Annapolis, Wash., was arrested as a material witness, and released on $5,000 bond.

Mrs. Boehme was married to the doctor's brother, Jack, an Oregon State University pharmacy student, for about three years. They were divorced in 1959.

Prosecutor Gordon Walgren said Dr. Boehme is accused of injecting poison into his wife's arm with a blood-sampling syringe Sept. 20.

Dorothy Boehme called the charge "preposterous."

The doctor said his wife had been a diabetic for about 20 years and recently suffered from hepatitis, an inflammation of the liver.

"I love my wife," he said. "To say that I would try to destroy her is fantastic."

The couple has two sons, aged 8 and 10.

The involved case took another twist when the prosecutor said he and Mary Boehme had filed an application for a marriage license June 22.

Walgren, himself divorced and now engaged to another woman, said he never had any intention of marrying the nurse.

"I was investigating her conduct and wanted to see if she would go through with the idea of marriage," he said. "She broke off with me the same day."

Walgren said the investigation began nine months ago, after he learned Dr. Boehme had telephoned a woman in San Francisco and said: "You'll be swimming in my pool within six months."

Investigators said the physician made several trips to California while Mary Boehme was there. Dr. Boehme said his relationship with Mary Boehme was that of a doctor and a patient.

Mary Boehme, a former airline stewardess, is a nurse in the hospital where the doctor's wife was taken Sept. 22, two days after the alleged injection.

One multiple fatal road accident was reported. It happened in Newark and killed a 27-year-old man from that city and a 19-year-old Virginia girl who had been visiting at Buckeye Lake.

The man's car cracked up against a tree after he tried to pass another auto and lost control when he cut back into his original lane. Two other Licking County residents in the car were injured seriously.

In addition to the traffic slaughter, four Ohioans met death in miscellaneous accidents.

The fatalities:

Ohio Parents, Teachers Group Opens Meeting

TOLEDO, Ohio. (AP)—The 56th annual convention of the Ohio State Congress of Parents and Teachers opening here today is expected to consider proposed restriction of go-kart racing in Ohio.

This action was indicated as members of the group's board of managers met in a pre-convention session Sunday night.

The position of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers on go-kart racing will be reported to the delegates by Mrs. Wilson C. Storey of Cincinnati, state legislation chairman.

The national group went on record last month as disapproving go-kart racing by young children and urged each state group to study the need for restrictive measures. It noted that many states have laws excluding these vehicles from streets and highways but "there is little or no control over their use on private property."

Also expected to be voted on by the delegates is a resolution calling for their support in a public education drive to help prevent sex offenses in Ohio.

Some 3,000 delegates and guests are expected for the three-day convention.

Salvage Efforts Are Renewed To Save Corn, Oats

KENTON, Ohio (AP)—Salvage operations begin anew today to see what can be saved from 85,000 bushels of corn and oats that caught fire in two grain elevators near here, causing damage tentatively estimated at $100,000.

The damage figure, given by Howard Walton Sr., owner of the elevators, is subject to revision depending upon how much of the salvaged grain is fit for human consumption. The rest will be used for livestock feed.

About 15,000 bushels of grain were removed from the concrete elevators Saturday night before the unloading machinery broke down.

An auger — something like a giant revolving screw — will be used today to turn out the grain.

One elevator, 93 feet tall, contained 65,000 bushels of shelled corn. The adjoining one, slightly shorter, held 20,000 bushels of oats.

Firemen from four departments battled the blaze about 30 hours before being called off late Sunday.

Cause of the blaze was undetermined.

Tools were stolen from a storage room at the Econ-O-Wash Laundry on Elizabeth St. between 2:30 p. m. Saturday and 3:19 p. m. Sunday, police said. Paul Conkle of Chester is the owner. The intruder took the tools after removing a lock from a storage room door.

The loss included a quarter-inch drive socket set, a set of wrenches, two pairs of pliers and two screw drivers.

An intruder entered the truck garage of the Golden Star Dairy Co., 235 W. 6th St., between 5 p. m. Saturday and 10 a. m. Sunday by removing a piece of tin which had been placed over a group of windows in the northeast side of the building, police said.

Using a truck gear shift lever, the intruder attempted to pry open a soft drink vending machine, but it was not known immediately if there was any loss, police said.

Police said the transmission of a 1953 Ford and the radiator from a 1953 Mercury were stolen from Eddie's Auto Repair on the Pennsylvania Ave. "Hill Rd." by a burglar who gained entry about 4:30 p. m. Saturday by forcing a side door. Neal Patterson, 220 W. 6th St., was listed as the owner. The parts previously had been removed from autos, police said.

James H. Jackson, 441 Thompson Ave., told police an intruder entered his garage while he was absent between 11:30 a. m. Saturday and 9:15 p. m. Sunday, destroyed the bilge pump on his 16-foot boat and stole a 5-gallon and a 2-gallon gasoline can.

Richard Maylone, 426 W. 5th St., told police a brown jacket valued at $12 was stolen from his auto while it was parked on Pennsylvania Ave. between 10 p. m. Saturday and 1 a. m. Sunday.

Burglar Takes Cash At Wellsville Tavern

A small amount of cash was stolen from the Flamingo Bar, 1339 Main St., Wellsville, which was burglarized sometime early Sunday morning, police said.

The rear door of the establishment was forced to gain entry. Police said between $8 and $9 was taken from the cash register and an undetermined amount of change was taken from a juke box which was forced open.

Nothing else was bothered, police said.

2 In Raid Due For Hearing

Hearings are scheduled Tuesday afternoon at 2 before Squire John D. Herron of New Cumberland for the operator of a Newell tavern and a waitress cited Thursday night in a raid by County sheriff's deputies.

A charge of illegal possession of alcoholic liquor was filed by deputies against Wallace Simcox, 36, operator of the Stutz Bar, and a charge of operating a gaming device against Anna Gay Beagle, 34, of 1052 Pennsylvania Ave., East Liverpool.

Deputies confiscated the gaming device, an electrical clock, and a quantity of liquor in the raid at the Washington St. tavern.

Simcox faces prosecution in another charge of operating a game of chance that was filed June 22 by sheriff's deputies and has bounced around from court to court in legal maneuvers.

The case first was assigned to Squire Harry Lytton of Newell, but was removed from his authority when the defendant filed an affidavit of prejudice. Squire Lytton had issued the warrant in acting on a complaint of a woman.

The case then went to Squire W. Eugene Allison of Chester, but the filing of a writ of prohibition, asking that Allison not be permitted to hear the case, delayed the outcome again.

Squire Allison overruled the defendant's motion alleging the warrant used in the arrest was faulty. The writ of prohibition against Squire Allison then was taken before Circuit Court Judge Ralph E. Pryor in New Cumberland, and the 1st District jurist also overruled the petition.

Should the West Virginia State Supreme Court receive the case and overrule the writ, the case would eventually be returned to Squire Allison for a decision.

Beavers Nip United, 12-0, In Late Rally

By CHUCK CRONIN
Review Sports Writer

Rallying with two touchdowns after three scoreless periods, Beaver Local High flattened United, 12-0, Saturday afternoon to remain as one of two of Columbiana County's undefeated football squads.

A sunbathed crwd of 1,000 saw the Beavers post their fourth straight triumph at Hanoverton in balmy 80-degree weather over the previously unconquered Golden Eagles.

Turning the tide in favor of the Beavers in an evenly - matched battle of arch-rivals, was the running of halfback Carl Hoppel, 120-pound halfback, and a clutch performance by sub quarterback John Broadbent.

Hoppel smashed at the United line like an iron fist, scoring Beaver Local's first touchdwn on a one-yard crash through center and gaining 130 yards in a stamina-draining 27 carries.

Broadbent, subbing for injured regular Mike Klembara, directed the Beaver Local attack in flawless fashion. His perfectly thrown aerial to end Gary Berhar in the fading minutes was good for Beaver Local's second touchdown in a play covering 15 yards.

It was the fourth shutout of the season for the Beaver forward wall, anchored by the aggressive play of guard Dave David Myers, 140-pound junior, and good play by both terminals.

United's runners were checked with less than 100 yards gained by Beaver defenders.

The Beaver line was credited with a save of a United touchdown in the opening quarter when it stopped a long march with the recovery of a fumble at the two-yard line.

That was the most determined bid by United all afternoon and the Beavers rose to the challenge by nabbing the fumble near the goal line on a fourth down play.

After that, the Eagles were kept pinned inside their own territory and were forced to punt frequently and hope for a defensive break.

But it never came as Broadbent, Hoppel and George Gaydos ran for consistent gains to keep the Beaver Local attack moving in time-consuming drives.

Coach Jack O'Rourke's winners struck late when it appeared the game would end in a scoreless tie.

They marched 56 yards in 14 plays in the fourth quarter for the first touchdown.

The drive began on the Beaver 44 and moved to the United 33 in seven plays. Broadbent passed to end George Wilkinson in the left corner to the United 15 and a first down.

Four straight carries by Hoppel moved the ball to the United two-yard stripe and a first down. Gaydos hit the right side to the United one and the hard - driving Hoppel plunged over for the touchdown on a dive play. United repelled the run attempt for the conversion.

The score seemed to inject a little fire into the Eagles as they received the ensuing kickoff and were at midfield on a 30-yard return by Marks. But the stubborn Beaver Local line stiffened and Myers barreled through and nabbed quarterback John Hanna for a 15-yard loss. A pass by Hanna to Sturgeon carried to the United 44, but the Eagles punted on the next play.

Then the Beavers were on the move again after receiving the punt at their own 31. Seven carries by Hoppel and two by Gaydos moved the Beavers to the United 10 and a first down.

Broadbent dropped back on the next play and fired a perfect strike in the right corner to Berhar who had drifted behind defensive halfback Bill McGrahahan of United for the score. A rush by Hoppel for the conversion was held short.

The kickoff found United losing possession on a short boot that struck a lineman and bounced into the hands of Gaydos, the kicker.

The Beavers made another down-payment on a highly-successful campaign with the victory. O'Rourke's squad is 4-0-1 and will visit South Side this Friday.

Hoppel moved ahead of United's Marks in the district scoring race, with the touchdown boosting his season total to 45. Marks led the district last week with 44.

Yanks' 'So-So' Pitching Shuts Out Reds Again

By CLAUDE WOLFF
and
HAROLD HARRISON

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)—The Cincinnati Reds, down 3-1 in the World Series, are wondering who passed out the word that New York Yankee pitchers—except for Whitey Ford—were just so-so.

They have been so-so to date all right—so, so good they have shutout the National League champions twice. The Reds had to go against Ford again Sunday and also able relief pitching by Jim Coates.

Fred Hutchinson, baring a grin that just covered chagrin, said after Sunday's 7-0 defeat that it was the old, old story—failure of his better hitters to come through.

"We went through that several times in the regular season but had time to come back," he said. "Now, we have to win three games to come out ahead."

In the next room, as Hutch talked with newsmen, his tamed Reds glumly contemplated locker doors, hurried through their baths or sat in small groups discussing their plight.

Hutch said he planned a club meeting before the fifth game today.

"Are you going to try to stir them up," he was asked.

"No, just the opposite," he replied. "They are stirred up now. I'll try to quiet them down."

Hutch said he would not change the lineup.

"We'll stick with the same players." he said stoutly, "after all, they are the ones who won the pennant."

Joey Jay, who put the Reds back in the running by winning the second game from New York 6-2, will go for Cincinnati. Ralph Terry will do the chores for the Yanks. The Reds hope they find him as comfortable to bat against as they did last Thursday.

Hutchinson just can't get over the fact that his star hitters—Frank Robinson, Vada Pinson and Gene Freese aren't hitting. In four games Robinson has gotten one hit. Pinson has gotten one hit. Freese has yet to get a safety.

Can't Wait Till Series Ends, Maris Declares

CINCINNATI (AP) — Roger Maris simply can't wait for the World Series to end.

"When this thing is over," he said today, "I'm going to run, not walk, to the nearest airport, and shout 'KC, Mo, here I come'."

"KC, Mo," stands for Kansas City, Missouri. Maris' home is in Raytown, a suburb.

"I'm going to get home the quickest way possible," Roger said. "It's too bad the series didn't end in four games.

"I miss the children," explained the 27-year-old New York slugger, a father of four children, the oldest four-year-old Susan.

"I want to get away from people," said the man who hammered a record number of 61 home runs during the season and one more in the World Series. "I want to be alone, just with my family. I want to become acquainted with my kids again. I haven't sene them since the first week of August."

Actually, Maris will be able to spend only one week in the seclusion of his home and family. He has agreed to participate in a hitting exhibition, along with Jim Gentile of Baltimore and Harmon Killebrew of Minnesota, on Oct. 15-18 in several cities in North Carolina .

"After that, I'm coming back home and stay there all winter," he promised, "except for two or three functions that I have committed myself to attend. I feel good just thinking about it."

Maris went hitless Sunday as the Yankees defeated the Reds 7-0 to take a 3-1 lead in the series.

Rally Too Late As Crestview Loses, 20-12

Crestview High scored two second half touchdowns, but it wasn't enough to overcome a big deficit in a 20-12 loss to McDonald Saturday afternoon at New Waterford.

McDonald won its fourth game in five. Crestview's record is now 1-4.

Holly Ryan scored McDonald's first quarter touchdown on a two-yard run. Al Alcanter went 67 yards and Mike Baumbauer two yards for second quarter scores.

The Columbiana countians came back in the third quarter to register on Gary Kannal's 10-yard run. Dwayne Rupert dashed five yards for another Crestview score in the final quarter.

Irons Rout Salineville Squad, 46-0

Unbeaten Stanton Local rolled to its fifth straight victory Saturday afternoon, crushing arch-rival Salineville, 46-0.

Coach Don McBride's Irons scored touchdowns in every period to win easily and sweeten a homecoming celebration at the Irondale field.

A crowd of 1,200 saw the lopsided victory.

Salineville, 0-3-1 for the year, was never in contention after the opening quarter as the Irons ran up a 30-0 lead before reserves took over the action.

McBride's powerhouse yielded only two first downs to Salineville and never punted the entire game. Stanton racked up 18 first downs for the afternoon. Reserves were used liberally by the new Stanton mentor.

Stanton's elusive Stan Wickham, 140-pound halfback, led the scoring parade with three touchdowns, while regular quarterback Bob Mills tallied once and sub quarterback Scott Porter twice.

The Irons marched 80 yards for a first quarter touchdown, scored by Wickham on a three - yard buck. Mills tossed to end Curt Rose for the conversion.

The "Mills Brothers" accounted for eight more points in the second period, with Bob racing 18 yards for the touchdown and then passing to brother Larry for the two-point conversion.

The Irons registered two more in the second quarter on Wickham's eight-yard run and his dazzling 70-yard return of a Salineville punt. Bob Mills raced over for the conversion.

When halftime ended, the Stanton reserves had the ball in scoring position again, time ending a drive to the Salineville one.

Porter scored a third quarter touchdown on a seven-yard run, and halfback Jim Pilutti's run for the conversion was successful.

Porter's second score was on a 25-yard run and he also ran over the two-point conversion.

Salineville got both first downs against the Stanton substitutes. The Stanton varsity saw action in the second half on only the kickoff play.

Cicada Captures Aqueduct Race, Leads For Crown

Owning 2-year old champions is getting to be almost an old hat for Christopher T. Chenery, Virginia and New York owner and breeder.

The master of the Meadow Stable chalked up his first juvenile title in 1958 when First Landing was judged best of the 2-year-old colts. And Saturday, Chenery took a stranglehold on the 2-year old filly crown of 1961 when Cicada accounted for the $121,075 Frizette at Aqueduct.

He also has a contender for this year's 2-year old colt title in Sir Gaylord.

Garden State opened its fall meeting with Fred W. Hooper's My Portrait taking the $28,100 Jersey Belle Stakes in the role of the favorite. Zumbador II accounted for the $15,000 added Fayette Handicap at the opening of Keeneland as Tompion finished a disappointing third.

Mighty Fennec and Crimson Satan took the two divisions of the Hawthorne Juvenile Stakes and Queen America beat Nascania by a nose in the $11,000 San Mateo Handicap at Bay Meadows. Wise Flushing posted a length victory in the James E. Dooley Memorial Stakes at Narragansett Park.

Raiders Battle To 7-7 Deadlock

New Cumberland High turned a blocked punt into a fourth period touchdown to gain a 7-7 tie with Follansbee St. Anthony Saturday night at Follansbee.

Coach John Kuzio's Blue Raiders tallied with four minutes left in the game after big tackle Gary Nardo had rammed through to block a punt at the St. Anthony 3 yard line.

The Raiders scored in two plays on halfback Ed Wudarsky's one-foot buck through the center. Quarterback Allen Katzenmeyer added the conversion on a plunge to deadlock the score.

Follansbee had gained a 7-0 lead in the second quarter when Banfi capped a 47 yard march by scoring on a one-yard crash. Croce fired a pass to Fritz for the conversion.

Both squads were heavily penalized in the action, with New Cumberland charged with infractions five times for a loss of 32 yards. The Steelmen lost 65 yards on five penalties.

The tie interrupted a three game victory streak for New Cumberland, now 3-1-1.

Hornung Racks Up 33 As Packers Rout Colts

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Versatile Paul Hornung, Green Bay's perpetual man-in-motion and a rarity among pro specialists with his triple threat abilities, is putting the power in the Packers' drive to retain their Western Conference title in the National Football League.

The 25-year-old former Notre Dame star had his best day in the play-for-pay ranks Sunday when he scored 33 points on four touchdowns, a field goal and six conversions in Green Bay's 45-7 romp over the Baltimore Colts.

The Green Bay victory, coupled with San Francisco's 35-0 thumping of Los Angeles, broke a four-way tie for first place in the Western sector and left the Packers and 49ers at the head of the class with 3-1 records.

Four teams remained tied for first in the East with 3-1 marks as Cleveland beat Washington 31-7 Philadelphia's league champion Eagles defeated Pittsburgh 21-16, New York whipped St. Louis 24-9 and Dallas downed Minnesota 28-0. Chicago moved up in the West by blasting Detroit 31-17.

Hornung broke Don Hutson's club record of 31 points set in 1945 by scoring on runs of 54, 1 and 10 yards, taking an eight-yard pitch from Bart Starr for another TD, kicking a 38-yard field goal and the half dozen extra points. The field goal sent the Packers in front to stay 10-7 in the second quarter.

The 49ers again alternated passers John Brodie, Billy Kilmer and Bob Waters effectively in the shotgun offense to overwhelm the Rams (1-3). Kilmer scored twice on short runs while Waters passed 26 yards to R. C. Owens for one TD and tallied on a 4-yard burst.

Bobby Mitchell, who lost his starting job to rookie Tom Watkins, won it back with three long TD jaunts for the Browns, scoring on a 52-yard pass from Milt Plum, a 64-yard punt return and a 31-yard dash around end. The Redskins (0-4), losing their 12th in succession, scored on a six-yard pass from first-year quarterback Norm Snead to Tom Osborne.

A 17-yard TD flip from Sonny Jurgensen to Pete Retzlaff sent the Eagles ahead 10-7 against the Steelers (0-4) after an interference penalty gave them the ball on the 1-yard line. They scored the clincher in the final period, again after an interference penalty, when Jurgensen pitched a two-yard strike to Retzlaff. The key play, however, was Tim Brown's 84-yard run with a kickoff.

The Giants led 7-2 in the third period before braking it open against the Cardinals (2-2), when the defensive unit swarmed over St. Louis passer Sam Etcheverry and caused two fumbles. They led to a one-yard scoring plunge by Alex Webster and a 12-yard TD ramble by linebacker Sam Huff.

Dallas' Don Meredith tossed a 12-yard scoring aerial to Bill Howton and a 52-yarder to Frank Clarke, who also grabbed a 23-yard TD pass from Eddie LeBaron. It was the third straight loss for the fledgling Vikings (1-3).

Mike Ditka tied it 17-17 for the Bears (2-2) on a 37-yard pitch from Billy Wade, then set up the clincher on a 40-yard reception as Wade took it the final yard. The Lions (2-2) had tied it on a 100-yard kickoff return by rookie Pat Studstill.

Intentional Base On Balls Haunts Reds

CINCINNATI (AP)—The fourth game of the 1961 World Series proved one thing—use of the intentional base on balls can backfire badly.

The New York Yankees beat Cincinnati 7-0 Sunday to take a decisive 3-1 edge in games. They probably would have done so even if Manager Fred Hutchinson of the Redlegs had not used the intentional pass, but this certainly helped the visitors.

First off Roger Maris scored the first run of the game—and the only one the Yankees needed, as it turned out—in the fourth after drawing a pass from Jim O'Toole to lead off. It wasn't intentional but O'Toole wasn't going to pitch to him either.

Maris went to third on Mickey Mantle's clean single to center, and scored when Elston Howard hit into a double play.

Then in the sixth, after Howard doubled to right, Yogi Berra was intentionally passed. Both scored on Clete Boyer's double to left.

And in the seventh, Bobby Richardson started off by getting his eighth hit of the series. Tony Kubek popped out and then Maris was intentionally walked.

Hector Lopez' long single to center scored both. Lopez went to second on the throw to the plate and when Howard struck out, Yogi Berra was intentionally passed. Moose Skowron's single scored Lopez.

When Airmans Guide, a 4-year-old bay filly, won The Beldame at Belmont Park, it was her sixth victory in eight races this year. The race marked her 12th straight time in the money in the last two years.

Potters Hand Leavittsburg First Defeat

East Liverpool High's cross-country squad dropped Leavittsburg from the unbeaten ranks Saturday morning, 25-30.

Coach Frank Chan's harriels interrupted a string of five straight triumphs posted by the Trumbull Countians.

Gary Jessup of Leavittsburg won first place on his home course with a good time of 11:25 in a distance of two miles.

Placing for the Potters in order of finish and times were Bruce McCoy, second in 11:30; Gary McKee, third in 11:35; Joe Ingram, fifth in 11:44; Jim Pillard, sixth in 11:45, and Paul Jarvis, ninth in 11:55.

East Liverpool's next meet is Tuesday at 4:30 p. m. at the Country Club against Weirton. The Weirton squad finished third in competing against the Potters in an earlier meet at Bellaire. In that one, the Potters finished fourth.

Clay Stops Miteff, Now Wants Johansson

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—With Alex Miteff out of the way, Olympic champion Cassius Clay says he has asked for a match with former heavyweight champion Ingemar Johansson.

Backing up Clay's claim was fight promoter Bill King who said, "we have offered Johansson $100,000 to meet Clay within 90 days.

"We think Johansson would be an easier fight than Miteff," Clay said. The 19-year-old Clay scored a technical knockout over Miteff in 1:45 of the sixth round in a nationally televised boxing match Saturday.

'Wounded' Yanks 3-2 Favorites To End Series Today

Jay Holds Reds' Last-Ditch Hope

By JERRY LISKA
Associated Press Sports Writer

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)—The wounded but relentless New York Yankees were 3 to 2 favorites to close out the World Series today with a decisive fourth victory over the desperate Cincinnati Reds, whose last-ditch hope was their lone series winner, strapping Joey Jay.

Jay's pitching opponent in this World Series contest, the last in cozy Crosley Field, is the same rival who bowed to the 225-pound Cincinnati right-hander in New York last Thursday, 25-year-old Ralph Terry. The Reds won that one, 6-2, behind Jay's four-hit pitching.

The weather again was expected to be as perfect as Sunday when New York's Whitey Ford surpassed Babe Ruth's 43-year-old series record for consecutive scoreless pitching innings and a bevy of other Yankees got into the act in a monotonous 7-0 shutout of the Reds. Ford now has pitched 32 runless innings, topping Ruth's old mark of 29 2-3.

If Jay should duplicate his Yankee Stadium victory the series would return to New York for a sixth game Wednesday and possibly a seventh game Thursday.

In perhaps an ironical coincidence, the series ended for Mickey Mantle and may have been decided against the Reds in the fourth inning Sunday when the ailing Yankee star stroked a screaming hit to deep left center. That set up the first Yankee run and the only one they really needed to scuttle Cincy starter Jim O'Toole.

Mantle had to leave the game after his hit, a certain two-bagger under normal conditions. It sent home run king Roger Maris, who had walked, to third, from where he scored on a double play.

Mantle now is out of the series, no matter if it goes the seven-game limit. The ugly wound on his hip where an abscess was removed 10 days ago has drastically hobbled the fleet slugger. The wound was bleeding badly when Mantle was removed for a pinch-runner following his hit.

Besides Mantle, the Yankee sick bay treated Ford, whose right big toe was badly bruised by a foul as he batted in the sixth inning, and the peerless Yogi Berra, who was gashed above his right eye by his sunglasses when he made a fruitless try for a diving catch, also in the sixth inning.

While the Yankees are a 3 to 2 favorite to take what could be the series clincher today, the odds are 10 to 1 against the Reds making a comeback only three other clubs ever achieved in the series. Last to do it after being down 3-1 were the Yankees themselves, rallying to take the 1958 series from the Milwaukee Braves.

However, few of the 32,598 faithful fans who watched their "for real Reds" sag before the excellent pitching of Ford and Jim Coates, believed Fred Hutchinson's National League wonder team could now overtake the well-balanced Yankees.

Redleg pitching hasn't been too bad, although the Yankees clubbed O'Toole, Jim Brosnan and Bill Henry for 11 hits Sunday, but Cincinnati's own big guns have been almost completely spiked.

Ford allowed four hits in his six innings and Coates yielded only one in the three innings he worked after an emergency call from the bull pen. Ford's throbbing toe caused him to quit following Elio Chacon's inning-opening single in the sixth.

In the three previous games, the Reds had collected only 19 hits in 101 at bats. "Our big guys just aren't hitting," said Hutchinson.

Yankee Manager Ralph Houk now is on the verge of being the third rookie pilot ever to win a World Series in his first year as a big league manager. Bucky Harris as Washington's "boy wonder" boss in 1924 beat the New York Giants. Eddie Dyer of the St. Louis Cardinals won in his first try in 1946 against the Boston Red Sox.

The financial phase of the tourney for the players ended Sunday, with a total player pool of $645,928.28. Of that amount, 70 per cent or $452,149.80 will be divided among the Yanks and Reds, with the remainder going to the second, third and fourth place teams in each league.

The winning pool is $271,289.88, about $8,000 per player for the series champion and approximately $5,200 for each player on the losing club, based on an unofficial allotment of 34 shares per team.

150 Tee Off Today In Ohio Open Golf

Defending champion Frank Stranaham, the Toledo professional, heads the pro contingent of 106.

YANKEE WHITEY FORD shows off the ball that broke Babe Ruth's World Series record of 29 2-3 scoreless innings. The pitch was to Elio Chacon of the Reds who grounded out in the 4th inning of Sunday's game at Cincinnati. (UPI Telephoto)

Ford Nips Ruth's Mark

CINCINNATI (AP)—Babe Ruth probably would be glad to know a fun-loving fellow like Whitey Ford broke his cherished World Series pitching record. Off the field they would have had much in common.

When the crowd of newsmen surged into the New York Yankee dressing room after Sunday's 7-0 Yankee victory in which Ford set a record of 32 consecutive scoreless innings, they found Whitey ready with a quip.

"Anybody here from California to make an offer?", he asked with a grin. "Say $500 for this ball."

Ford referred, of course, to the $5,000 a California restaurant owner offered to the man who caught Roger Maris' 61th home run at Yankee Stadium.

Ford turned his ankle slightly while pitching and then hit himself with his own foul ball while batting in the sixth inning. He left the game after Elio Chacon singled to open the Cincinnati sixth and Jim Coates finished the 7-0 shutout.

Ruth's old scoreless streak was 29 2-3 innings compiled in 1916 and 1918. Ford's first two shutouts came against Pittsburgh last year. He blanked the Reds in the opener last Wednesday and got the last five Sunday.

In Ohio College Action

Grid Sophomores Shine

By wdave harrison

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A band of talented sophomores took the spotlight in Saturday's Ohio college football action.

Ohio State turned loose a pair of heralded second - year men—Paul Warfield and Matt Snell—in the closing quarter to post its first victory of the season, 13-3 over UCLA.

Coach Woody Hayes, after showing 82,992 fans his Buckeyes knew some of the game's fancier frills, had to resort to line-smashing drives to score the important touchdowns.

All-America fullback Bob Ferguson, who a week ago toted the ball 35 times for 137 yards, was called on only 13 times Saturday and picked up 29 yards.

Snell was the big gainer for the Bucks with 72 yards on 11 tries, including a 33-yard dash over tackle for the second Ohio TD. Warfield, who scored first for Ohio State with a 13-yard burst over the same spot, gained 62 yards on 15 carries.

The real sophomore show occurred Saturday night at Akron where the Zips' 190-pound fullback, George Deo, smashed his way to four touchdowns as Akron rolled over Ohio Wesleyan 32-21.

Deo's performance upped his point production for the season to 42—just one point behind the state scoring leader, Alan Spiegelberg of Oberlin.

The versatile Oberlin junior racked up 14 points—one touchdown, two field goals and two extra points—in the Yeomen's 26-7 win over Carnegie Tech.

In third place in the tight statewide scoring race is Findlay's Ted Lanear with 40 points to his credit. The Troy freshman scored 10 points as the Oilers took over the lead in the Mid-Ohio League with a 22-0 win over Ohio Northern.

Another sophomore, Otterbein's Dave Kull of Worthington, tossed three touchdown passes as the Cardinals crushed Kenyon 35-0.

Otterbein shares the Ohio Conference lead with Wooster, Muskingum and Wittenberg. All posted loop victories Saturday to run their marks to 2-0.

Bowling Green, winners of the 1959 Mid - American Conference crown and runner-up to Ohio U. last season, is making a strong bid to win it again this year. The Falcons have been unscored upon in two loop games, defeating Western Michigan 21-0 Saturday and crushing Marshall 40-0 in their opener.

Miami, which has won more Mid-Am football titles than any other team, finally figured out how to score touchdowns. The Redskins had only been able to kick field goals in their first three games but ran over three TDs last week in their 21-0 conquest of Kent State.

In another big one, Xavier won the mythical Queen City championship, defeating cross-town rival Cincinnati 17-12.

The Cleveland Browns have three linemen who scale 260 pounds. They are Bob Gain of Kentucky, Ed Nutting of Georgia Tech and Larry Stephens of Texas.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: Our 17-year-old son turned up at breakfast this morning with a henna rinse. He is a natural blond and this red hair job makes him look like a freak. His father and I are sick over it.

He told us his girl friend did it just to see how it would look. She liked it and made him promise to leave it that way. He said he didn't think the color of a person's hair was very important.

My first impulse was to go over to the girl's house and tear her blonde hair out by the black roots. My husband said to calm down and write to you for advice.

What kind of an idiot girl would do such a thing? Please hurry your reply and tell us what to do. — JUST FURIOUS.

Dear Just: And what kind of idiot boy would allow a girl to tint his hair? Relax folks, a henna rinse will wash out — as you probably have discovered by now.

Make it plain to your son that you'll tolerate no more nonsense — and be firm. He needs parental direction.

Short-Sighted

Dear Ann: Please don't tell me I'm a fool. I know this already. Just tell me what to do.

Last week I sprained my ankle on my way home from work. This fellow I've been going with for five years asked me how it happened. When I told him I stepped off the curb wrong he said, "You must have been loaded."

He knows good and well that I never touch liquor. In fact his nickname for me is "Blue Nose." The more I tried to explain the more he insisted I was drunk. I became very annoyed and told him not to call me again.

The problem is he owes me $1,100. I'm afraid he'll use this as an excuse not to pay me. I've invested five good years in him and he promised to marry me when his boss retires. Wouldn't I be a fool to give him this perfect out?

There is no other man in sight, Ann. Please rush the advice. — PBX.

Dear PBX: What makes you think THIS man is "in sight"? Write of the $1,100; as tuition in the School of Experience and get back into circulation. After five years you've had the post-graduate course.

Daughter's Duty

Dear Ann: In December my wife's parents moved to this city within four blcks of us — and next door to another daughter. My father-in-law is not employed. He roams around telling everyone he is retired. The truth is he never has had much of a job. His wife works part time and always has.

My in-laws used to alternate between us and their other daughter — dropping in for dinner and then spending the evening. My brother-in-law got so fed up he asked his company for a transfer to another town. Now we have them every night and I'm ready to flip.

These in-laws are in their early 50s, in good health and have joined a church. There's no reason why they can't have friends their own age. My wife does not encourage them nor is she the dependent type. In fact she asked me to write for advice. — TOM.

-:-

Dear Tom: Your wife is there. I'm here. I can't tell her parents to leave you alone and make a social life of their own. Your wife CAN — and she SHOULD. Now.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

Child Can't Be Forced To Share

At a picnic place once I saw a father with his son, four, who had a new, bright red wagon. The little lad was proudly having fun with this wagon until another tot with his father came along, approaching the wagon with great glee. At once the wagon-owner screamed objection, but his father tried to get him to share the wagon. Persuasion failing, the owner's father proceeded to force his son to share, even paddling the lad. But his son only grew more resistant, becoming enraged. Wisely the father of the second boy soon told his own son not to touch the wagon, and this lad obeyed. Then he led his boy away.

THE WAGON - OWNER'S father would have been wiser if he had explained to the second boy and his father that this was a brand - new wagon and that he believed his son would be willing to share its use by and by. If he had waited for some while his lad would have probably done so. But even if he would not, the issue would not have been forced.

Don't command the tot to share. Ask him to do so and set the stage with loving patience so he might choose by and by to share. Generously applaud him when he does.

Suppose your little child shares and his playmate doesn't.

A Minnesota mother writes:

"I am having quite a problem with the boy next door, who is three years old and refuses to share his toys.

—:—

"MY LITTLE GIRL is three, and I have been trying very hard to teach her to share her things with her friends which, I must say, she is very good about. However, she wants to know why she has to share her toys with this boy, when he never shares his things with her."

Here's my reply in part:

Suppose you let your little daughter, as the neighbor child comes in, put away some of her own toys she prizes highest. If he asks for some he had been playing with, your daughter might say to him, "They are mine. I put them away."

Later, if she chooses to bring them back and let him share them, praise her. Yet she will know she has a right to her own possessions and the other child will see that she chooses to share or not share. This will seem reasonable to your child.

BEFORE LONG each of these children may choose to share his or her things more and more, so long as each owner feels sure his or her ownership will be respected.

With slow, quiet words of persuasion you might also be able to win the neighbor child gradually to share some of his toys with your daughter, when you would strongly applaud his doing so.

My bulletins, "The Very Selfish Child" and "Tot Learning To Be Sociable," may be had by sending a self - addressed stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper.

Social Security Covers Home Job

Many maids, cooks, and other workers in private homes are not getting credit under social security, according to William J. McCauley, district manager of the Youngstown Social Security office.

If you work for someone in their private home, make sure you get Social Security credit for your work by following these simple rules: If your work is in a non-farm home and you receive $50 or more in cash wages during any calendar quarter from any one employer, insist that the employer report your earnings and pay the Social Security tax. Also be sure your employer copies your name and Social Security number from your card.

When you reach age 62 you may receive monthly old-age benefits, but only if a certain number of quarters of work have been reported for you. The number you need ranges from 6 to 40, depending on your age. For example, a woman who reached age 62 in 1957 or earlier needs only 6 quarters. If she is 62 this year she needs 10, or if she will reach 62 in 1970 she will need 19 quarters of work.

Workers who become unable to work any time before age 65 may receive disability benefits if they have enough quarters of work. If a worker dies at any age, benefits may be paid to her survivors. Make sure your earnings are reported — it's very important to you.

Employers of household employees may write for pamphlet No. OASI-21, which explains the law as it pertains to household employees. The local Social Security office is in the basement of the Post Office.

FALLOUT SHELTER
PROTECT YOUR FAMILY
AS ILLUSTRATED IN LIFE MAGAZINE

Fallout Shelters — And The Will To Survive

IT IS NOT PLEASANT TO THINK OF THE POSSIBILITY OF NUCLEAR WAR, AND FALLOUT SHELTERS ARE NOT HAPPY FORMS OF CONSTRUCTION TO CONTEMPLATE. IT IS EASIER TO SAY "IF MY FRIENDS ALL GO, I MIGHT AS WELL GO TOO." OR, "IF A NUCLEAR BOMB STRIKES OVER OUR AREA, WE'VE HAD IT . . . SO WHY GO TO THE TROUBLE?" BUT THIS IS DEFEATISM, SOMEBODY HAS TO BE AROUND TO PICK UP THE PIECES.

IN THE CURRENT ISSUE OF LIFE MAGAZINE, THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES HAS ADDRESSED A MESAGE TO THE AMERICAN PEOPLE . . . A MESSAGE WHICH POINTS OUT THE URGENCY IN PREPARING TO PROTECT OURSELVES, AND IN MAINTAINING THE DETERMINATION TO SURVIVE COME WHAT MAY.

"THE ABILITY TO SURVIVE COUPLED WITH THE WILL TO DO SO THEREFORE ARE ESSENTIAL TO OUR COUNTRY," THE PRESIDENT WROTE.

DURING THE NEXT YEAR AND A HALF, MR. KENNEDY DISCLOSED, THE GOVERNMENT WILL BE CONTINUING "A SURVEY OF ALL PUBLIC BUILDINGS WITH FALLOUT SHELTER POTENTIAL, AND THE MARKING OF THOSE WITH ADEQUATE SHELTER FOR 50 PERSONS OR MORE . . . IN THE MEANTIME THERE IS MUCH YOU CAN DO TO PROTECT YOURSELF . . . AND IN DOING SO STRENGTHEN YOUR NATION . . ."

CLEVELAND, PRESUMABLY WOULD BE ONE OF THE MAJOR TARGETS IF NUCLEAR WAR EVER DEVELOPED, AND, ACCORDING TO PALMER SCARNECCHIA OF THE OFFICE OF CIVIL DEFENSE MOBILIZATION IN WASHINGTON, FALLOUT SHELTERS WOULD BE THE ONLY POSSIBLE HOPE OF SURVIVAL FOR OUR PEOPLE.

VARIOUS METHODS OF CONSTRUCTING SHELTERS, TOGETHER WITH LISTS OF MATERIALS NEEDED, APPEAR IN THE LIFE ARTICLE WHICH SAYS, "YOU COULD BE AMONG THE 97% TO SURVIVE IF YOU FOLLOW ADVICE ON THESE PAGES . . . HOW TO BUILD SHELTERS . . . WHERE TO HIDE IN CITIES . . . WHAT TO DO DURING AN ATTACK."

WE DO NOT NECESSARILY RECOMMEND THAT YOU GO OUT IN YOUR BACK YARD TONIGHT AND START DIGGING, BUT WE DO RECOMMEND THAT INSTEAD OF PERMITTING A COMPLETELY FATALISTIC ATTITUDE TO GOVERN YOUR LIFE, YOU BEGIN THINKING OF THE POSSIBILITY THAT, TAKING THE PROPER PREVENTIVE MEASURES, YOU MIGHT SAVE IT, AND SO BE ON HAND TO HELP REBUILD THE NATION AFTER IT WAS ALL OVER.

LIFE MAKES ONE OTHER POINT WORTH THINKING ABOUT. "THERE IS NO GUARANTEE THAT ANY OF YOUR DEFENSES . . . OR EVEN THE NATION'S DEFENSES . . . WILL BE ADEQUATE IF THE ENEMY ATTACKS ALL-OUT WITH COMPLETE SURPRISE. BUT THEY WILL INCREASE YOUR ODDS, AND EVERY FAMILY SHELTER WILL CONTRIBUTE TO THE NATION'S TOTAL DETERRENT. FOR IF THE U.S. IS SO WELL PREPARED THAT IT CANNOT BE KNOCKED OUT, THE ENEMY MAY NEVER ATTACK . . ."

West Berlin Reassured By Brandt

Says U.S. People Backing Efforts To Keep City Free

BERLIN (AP) — West Berlin Mayor Willy Brandt said today the American people are solidly backing their government's determination to keep West Berlin free.

Reporting on his two-day visit to New York, Brandt emphasized that "rarely has the U.S. government committed itself so irrevocably than on the issue of freedom of West Berlin."

Americans are determined to defend West Berlin because they know that Berlin isn't the only issue at stake, he told a news conference. He said Americans as a whole—the men in the street he met—are solidly behind the U.S. government's determined stand on Berlin.

While in New York to receive a Freedom House award, Brandt also talked with President Kennedy on the telephone. He refused to give details of their conversation, saying they had an exchange of thoughts and the President congratulated him on the speech he delivered when he received the award.

Brandt was critical of the many voices now expressing views on Berlin and Germany.

"The trend to discuss in public all the facets of the Berlin and German situation is, I think, not in the interest of the West," he said.

The disclosure of possible Western concessions in Berlin weakens the Western position at the conference table with the Soviets, the mayor declared.

Communist border police showed fresh belligerence Sunday night by firing on four West Berliners after feigning an escape attempt. Two West Berliners were believed captured in the phony maneuver; the other two escaped unhurt.

The two who got away said they were lured to the barbed wire barricade in a wooded area of the American sector by Red guards who gave the impression they wanted to flee to the West. When the West Berliners tried to open a gap in the fence, the guards opened fire.

Seeking to quiet press criticism of the replacement of U.S. combat troops along the East Berlin wall by military policemen, the U.S. command in Berlin said the police were "experienced specialists" in border duty replacing younger and relatively less experienced combat troops.

"Our combat troops are always on the alert," a U.S. spokesman said. "If necessary they can be brought to any point of the border within a few minutes."

Two visiting U.S. senators had reassuring words for the West Berliners.

Kennedy Expected To Urge Allies To Press Berlin Talks

SOBERING INCIDENT. Citizens of West Berlin gather about a wooden cross on the banks of the River Spree to hold a memorial service for two young East Berliners who died Friday while trying to escape the Russian sector of the city. Agreement Being Eyed With Soviet

West Consultations Likely To Progress On Several Fronts

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Kennedy administration hopes to persuade U.S. allies in the next two or three weeks to go along with further exploratory talks with the Soviet Union on the possibility of negotiating a compromise settlement of the Berlin crisis.

Western consultations are expected to move forward on several fronts, including discussions among State Department officials and the ambassadors of Britain, France and West Germany.

One step in the process was scheduled today with a meeting between Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Ambassador Walter C. Dowling, the U.S. envoy to West Germany. West Germany's views on the development of Allied policy on the future of Berlin and related German issues are crucial to Western agreement.

The Allies appear to be basically split over Berlin policy problems.

The West German government, grappling with its own internal political difficulties, is apprehensive about agreeing to the greater flexibility on the Western side which Rusk and President Kennedy want for negotiations with the U.S.S.R.

The French government is fearful that the Soviet Union may consider Western interest in exploratory talks a sign of weakness in facing up to Red threats over Berlin.

The British government is eager for negotiations and British officials have been reported mildly hopeful that a reasonable formula can be worked out with the Soviets.

Prince Souvanna New Premier

Three Factions Of Laos Wrangling Over Cabinet

HIN HEUP, Laos (AP) — The three factions of Laos wrangled today over a Cabinet for neutralist Prince Souvanna Phouma, named premier in an agreement reducing the prospect of new fighting in the jungle kingdom.

Souvanna Phouma, 60, a Paris-educated former premier backed by the Soviet bloc, personally announced the agreement reached Sunday by himself, pro-Western Premier Prince Boun Oum and Prince Souphanouvong, leader of the pro-Red Pathet Lao.

The other two princes stood beside Souvanna during the announcement, made at the negotiations tent at this village on the cease-fire line 50 miles north of Vientiane, administrative capital of Laos.

Agreement on Souvanna had long been expected. But it represented a major concession by Boun Oum's U.S.-backed regime, which had been demanding that King Savang Vathana be presented a list of several candidates for the premiership of the coalition government. The Pathet Lao in turn withdrew its demand that the king be handed a full cabinet slate and left the division of seats to the hard bargaining still ahead.

Souvanna Phouma commissioned the other two princes to call on the king today at Luang Prabang, the royal capital, and to seek a Tuesday audience for him. Royal approval of his designation as premier is considered a certainty.

The neutralists and the Pathet Lao claimed agreement had been reached for Souvanna's group to get eight Cabinet posts and supporters of Boun Oum and Souphanouvong four each. However, a spokesman for Boun Oum said the Vientiane government wants the posts divided among leftists, rightists and neutralists, not among the personal followings of the princes. The pro-Western faction considers Souvanna Phouma leftist rather than truly neutral.

Despite the unsettled issues, the agreement on Souvanna Phouma eased considerably the apprehension here that new fighting might flare with the end of the rainy season in a few weeks.

In Geneva, Western sources expressed hope the agreement would help end the deadlock in the five-month East-West conference there on Laos.

UAW Sets Up Picket Lines At Ford Co.

Attempts To Bar Salaried Personnel From Office Work

DETROIT (AP) — The United Auto Workers Union today massed picket lines at Ford Motor Co. administrative offices in an attempt to bar salaried personnel from reporting for work.

Ford reported picket lines at its rotunda building near the Rouge plant and at the company's old administrative office building. It was the first union inferference with salaried worker schedules since the strike started.

No incidents were reported at either site. It was not immediately known how effective the picket lines were in preventing salaried personnel from reporting.

The UAW, however, was allowing selected maintenance personnel, bearing cards issued by Local 600, through the lines.

The stepped up picket lines activity came as the union and Ford sought agreement on local plant issues.

Settlement of local plant issues between the union and the auto manufacturers is becoming increasingly tougher.

This became more obvious today as the nationwide Ford Motor Company strike moved into its seventh day.

The Ford strike followed a two-week walkout by UAW workers at General Motors Corp. plants last month over local issues.

A surprise development was tossed into the UAW frying pan Sunday night when Local 72 of Kenosha, Wis. rejected the historic profit-sharing plan worked out earlier with American Motors Corp.

Local 72's move took even the UAW's top brass by surprise.

Norman Mathews, UAW vice president and director of the union's AMC department, said the profit-sharing plan was accepted in generally favorable terms by the UAW's four other AMC locals. Local 72 was the last to vote on the proposal.

Mathews said he couldn't speculate on how the local's action would affect the profit-sharing plan.

Sam Rayburn Takes Drug In Cancer Fight

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Speaker Sam Rayburn, a relentless fighter for all his 79 years, has begun receiving injections that may help him in his battle with cancer.

Rayburn is taking an experimental drug called "5 Fluoro-uracil." If he responds well, he will get daily injections for around two weeks.

Dr. Ralph Tompsett, chief of internal medicine at Baylor University Medical Center, said the first treatment was given Rayburn Sunday. It will be several days, he said, before it is known whether the drug produces undesirable side effects.

The drug is not a cure, but it may halt the spread of cancer.

Rayburn appears to be doing about as well as can be expected. Each medical bulletin has said "rested fairly comfortably" or "ate reasonably well."

Rayburn is eating what he likes and Sunday had one of his favorite foods: honey.

A press room has been set up in a small library. Twice each day a news conference is held in a room next door. Doctors strive to give new answers to the same old questions, but basically they add up to this: Rayburn is an extremely sick man but, yes, there's some hope.

Officers Cite Man Injured In Car Crash

Car Strikes Pole; Midland Resident Given Fine, Term

Drunk driving charges were filed against a Midland man injured when an auto crashed into a utility pole early Sunday at Pennsylvania Ave. and Elm St.

He is Nelson Dallas, 126 Undercliff Dr., hurt when a 1955 model car owned by Charles Sprout, 678 Lincoln Ave., struck the utility pole at 3:06 yesterday morning. Dallas was treated at City Hospital for abrasions and contusions of the nose and right eye, police said.

Dallas was fined $200 and costs, sentenced to five days in city jail and had his driver's license revoked for six months when arraigned before Judge Samuel M. Chertoff in Municipal Court this morning.

Dallas admitted to Patrolman Jack Strobel before appearing in court this morning that he was driving the car at the time of the accident.

When police began their investigation, Dallas claimed a man he knew only by a nickname was driving, but fled when the mishap occurred.

Police said Sprout originally claimed the auto had been stolen, but the report was withdrawn when the owner said he couldn't recall whether or not he had loaned the auto.

Two hit-skip collisions also were reported early Sunday, while the city was shrouded by another heavy fog.

Jack Hoodski, 40, of 117½ E. 6th St., told police the left side of his 1961 two-door sedan was sideswiped about 3:25 a. m. by an unknown auto while parked on Broadway near E. 6th St.

Leroy Wiggins, 449 Penn Ave., Midland, told police his auto was struck by another that failed to stop as he drove slowly in heavy fog at 3:35 a. m. Sunday on the Pennsylvania Ave. "Hill Rd." Wiggins, eastbound, said his car was hit by a car headed in the opposite direction which failed to halt. The entire left side of his car was dented and scratched, Wiggins said.

'Didn't Tell Full Story'

Chamber Issues Rebuttal To Broadcast Of Harvey

The Chamber of Commerce today challenged some of the statements made by Paul Harvey in his nationwide ABC radio network broadcast Saturday, declaring the community was treated "unfairly."

In a statement made by Alvin T. Babb, president, the Chamber said Harvey failed to tell "the complete story," pointing out most of his broadcast was devoted to criticism and that he failed to mention any recent accomplishments.

Babb said the Chamber is aware there is much to be done "but East Liverpool and the Chamber have not been standing still."

He called attention to the fact the Chamber has been active in securing the new city freeway now under construction and its members have been active in seeking additional operating revenue for the city.

The Chamber also has been extremely active in the Upper Ohio Valley Development Council, which has brought several industries into the area, Babb continued.

Babb also pointed out residents approved a school construction program involving more than $2 million; a new municipal sewage disposal plant has been constructed, and businessmen have spent a considerable amount of money in exterior and interior remodeling projects in downtown stores.

The Chamber president also took exception to Harvey's statement that Chamber members are moving to West Virginia, explaining the Chamber represents the area, including Chester and Newell, and not just East Liverpool.

"The Chamber has strong support and membership in Chester and Newell," he declared.

Defense Sets Move To Kill Number Case

LISBON — Motions to quash the indictments against the Lisbon Sales Book Co. and four of its officers are expected to be filed Tuesday in Common Pleas Court by Atty. William Moore.

Prosecutor G. William Brokaw has furnished a bill of particulars in the five cases to Atty. Moore as was requested by the defense and ordered by the court at arraignment day.

A hearing date on the quashing motion will be set when the motion is filed.

The Lisbon Sales Book Co. and Martin Sufrin, Isadore Sufrin, Joseph Sufrin and Michael Schedlmeier were indicted by the September Grand Jury for violating a new law which went into effect Sept. 1, prohibiting printing numbers books.

The defense claims the company has no control as to what the books are used for when they are sold.

The defendants appeared earlier in Common Pleas Court and posted $1,000 bonds. They were cited after a raid on the printing plant led personally by Ohio Atty. Gen. Mark McElroy.

20 Auto Tires Punctured In Vandal Strike

In a wholesale wave of vandalism Saturday night, 20 tires were punctured on 10 parked cars on Maple St., East End, and paint was scratched and windows were broken on some of the autos, police reported.

Most of the autos' owners were attending a meeting of John Washington Masonic Lodge in its new hall on nearby Locust St., officers reported. The tires were punctured with a sharp object, probably an ice pick, officers said.

The heaviest damage was inflicted on a 1958 model auto owned by James Spencer, 1070 Maple-tree St. The vandals punctured two tires, scratched both sides of the auto and broke two windows.

The vandals scratched the hood and fenders of an auto owned by Vanable Samuels, also of East Liverpool, and punctured two tires. Two tires were flattened on a car owned by Lonnie Bynum of Weirton and the hood and fenders were scratched.

The vandalism was reported to police at 10:12 p. m. Patrolman Jerry Adkins investigated.

Two tires were punctured on each of these autos: Ollie Creamer, 1752 Pennsylvania Ave.; Bernice Hall of Youngstown; Lottie Wise, 1419 Main St., Wellsville; Charles Bynum of Midland, and Eugene Taylor, 1427 Commerce St., Wellsville.

Three tires were flattened on the auto of Edward West of Steubenville and one was punctured on the auto of Margaret Veney, rear 222 E. 3rd St., police said.

Tunisia Asks Slim Be New U.N. Leader

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —Tunisia is still pushing native son Mongi Slim for interim secretary-general of the United Nations even though Burma's U Thant lately has been mentioned as most likely to get the job.

Both the United States and the Soviet Union reportedly are willing to accept U Thant, Burma's ambassador to the U.N., as a temporary successor to Dag Hammarskjold. But Asian-African sources said the Burmese would take the job only if the two big powers could agree on all aspects of the arrangement and both would vote for him.

They said Slim, president of the current General Assembly, would take the job even if the Soviets were so cool to him as to abstain from voting. They said he would not take it if the Soviets voted against him.

Slim and Frederick H. Boland of Ireland, president of the last assembly, are both acceptable to the United States to serve out Hammarskjold's term expiring in April 1963. Boland has said several times he would not take the job, but some delegates believe he could be persuaded. Many doubt the Soviets would approve him.

Soviet delegates have told some colleagues they oppose Slim. But they apparently have not told the Tunisians.

4 Children Perish In Warren Area Fire

WARREN, Ohio (AP) — Four children died in a fire at a two-story frame home of the Kenneth Sours family on Niles Road today.

The parents both escaped, along with one son, Paul. The fire was discovered on the second floor shortly before 9 a. m. One other child, a 10-year-old girl named Bobbie, had left for school.

The victims were tentatively identified as Peter, 2½, a twin brother of Paul; Susan, 4½; Kenneth Jr., 6, and Christopher, just over a year old.

All the children were in a single bedroom. The father said he was awakened by smoke, but flames drove him back when he attempted to enter the bedroom.

The father works late on Sunday night and was sleeping at the time. The mother apparently awoke to get the girl off to school, then went back to bed. Both parents were hospitalized.

Raymond Rudibaugh of Boring Ln. was fined $10 and costs by Judge Samuel M. Chertoff for failing to stop in the assured clear distance.

Mrs. Smith Asked The Question

Margaret Chase Smith, senior United States senator from Maine, made a speech in the Senate last Sept. 21. It caused no stir at the moment, except in the hearts of those who were on hand to hear it. But no speech in either house of Congress this year has had more effect.

Its theme was this question:

"What has happened to permit Khrushchev to act as he does?"

The development of the theme was a recital of events. Sen. Smith recounted the shift in national defense from all-out reliance on nuclear weapons to increasing reliance on conventional weapons — the balanced defense.

This signified to the Kremlin, she declared, that the United States had nuclear capability for all-out war but lacked "nuclear credibility."

She pointed to the fact that nuclear advantage still rests with the United States and the West, but that Premier Khrushchev and his government have assessed American "will and purpose" and found them inadequate for the use of this advantage.

The United States, she said, has heard President Kennedy's "brave words" but the words haven't been backed up by "brave action." The world judges by acts, not words.

"I am disturbed," she concluded, "That there are some who say, in effect, we can do more in deterring the Soviets by preparing to do less against them if they should provoke armed hostilities."

And she added: "God forbid that the pattern of brave words on Laos and Cuba followed by no brave actions be repeated in Berlin."

SEN. SMITH speaks rarely in the Senate. When she does speak, her words are declarations of conscience; she has so described them. In this instance, her declaration voiced the puzzlement of her countrymen.

What has happened to make Khrushchev think he can push around the United States and the Western Allies?

What has happened to make Fidel Castro think he can insult the United States with impunity?

What makes the Chinese, Czech and Russian Communists in Cuba think they can set up a Communist bastion 90 miles off the coast of Florida and nothing can be done about it?

Is it conceivable that Communists would have been allowed to build that preposterous Berlin Wall a few years ago? Every nongovernment observer has voiced the opinion that it should have been torn down block by block and wire by wire when it was being put up. But now that it has been built — and tolerated — everybody is afraid to tear it down.

It is because everybody believes Khrushchev and the Soviet Union are capable of making the fateful decision to start nuclear war and nobody can make himself believe the United States could initiate nuclear war.

IT IS THE age-old story of the bully and his victim.

No one needs to worry about the violence the victim may inflict on the bully.

But everybody needs to be concerned about the bully — about staying out of his way— about keeping on his good side — about persuading him to go easy.

The bully has the power to do the damage — and the will.

Sen. Smith wonders what has permitted Khrushchev to act as he does.

The answer is not really hard to find.

Barring the possibility the victim may turn on his oppressor, the bully can act without restraint. He has nothing to fear. But his victim has everything to fear, chiefly the violence that is contrary to his training and hateful to his nature.

The United States has talked so long about the senselessness of nuclear war that it has convinced itself. But it cannot be sure it has convinced Khrushchev.

Fire Hazards And You

Somewhere in every home throughout the tri-state district are all the necessary materials and potential conditions for a fatal or highly destructive fire.

Wood, clothing, furniture, flammable liquids, plastics and gas lines are housed with stoves, pilot lights, furnaces, electric wiring, matches and lighted cigarettes.

The observance of National Fire Prevention Week which began Sunday calls attention to the need for adequate safeguards against unnecessary fires and preparation for what to do when a blaze breaks out.

Area firemen are offering free inspection of homes for possible fire hazards, and are urging householders to check their premises for hidden sources of danger.

Faulty wiring, improper fuses, frayed cords, carelessly stored paint or flammable liquids, piled-up rubbish, unsafe chimneys, heating and cooking equipment, and careless smoking — all add up to serious threats to life and property.

Knowledge of your fire department telephone number, planning for how to evacuate your family if a fire begins, and realization that calling firemen immediately is vital to saving lives are a part of the proper planning for emergency.

Take stock now of the safety of your home and place of work, and make a definite plan of action on what to do when fire starts.

Somewhere in this district before many weeks are out, fire will strike.

Where it strikes will depend upon what preventive measures have been taken. The end result, whether in loss of life, injury or just property loss, will depend on how much preparation was made for the emergency.

Fire prevention is everybody's job.

McNamara Has No Choice

Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara is trapped in a dilemma that has plagued every civilian ever called on to administer military affairs.

It is his duty as civilian secretary of defense to preserve the tradition of civilian control over military departments. The tradition has been a public issue many times since it was laid down at the beginning of the Republic.

The alternative would be to surrender to members of the military establishment the power to dominate government by their authority over the armed services; by force of arms. It was to minimize this danger that the United States avoided the danger implicit in a large professional army. George Washington believed military power should be concentrated in the state militia, separated from overriding federal authority.

From Washington's time on, this policy has been honored. The danger of the military coup d'etat that has plagued other nations has been minimized here.

Secretary McNamara's involvement in the problem has come about because certain military figures, with backing from some members of Congress, have made an issue of the right to make all speeches and distribute all printed matter which they describe as anti-Communist and therefore pro-American. But that is only part of the issue.

The more sensitive part of the issue is whether the ideas promulgated are in line with the policies of the civilian government.

Secretary McNamara's latest move is a directive that spells out precisely what militarists may discuss when called on to speak, except for testimony before congressional committees. They must confine themselves to views that are "nonpartisan and in accordance with established national policy.

The secretary of defense will continue to be under fire for declaring his authority. But those who are firing at him should take second thought before questioning his judgment. He is protecting to the best of his ability a tradition of civilian control for something more important to the United States than the right of a military official to speak his mind against the Communist Conspiracy. As the cabinet official responsible for dealing with one of the most difficult problems of this Republic, he has no other choice.

The pedestrian is getting a break instead of broken bones.

New one-way traffic regulations became effective Thursday on three sections — Potters Alley in particular.

That stretch between Walnut St. and Broadway is used by hundreds of pedestrians daily as a shortcut from downtown to Bradshaw Ave. and radiating streets.

For the first time in history, a man on foot can walk the stretch without the fear of being squeezed like a lemon between cars passing in the opposite direction. Of course he could always jump into the adjoining auto sales lot. On the other hand, he could have been "grated" like a nutmeg off the wall of the brick building on the north side of the narrow alley.

But now, cars travel one-way westbound and the pedestrian can make the short stretch with a good deal more safety. It's an improvement to all concerned.

Soviet Salesmen Peddle In U.S.

By Victor Riesel

At the very moment when the Russians are cutting the heart out of Europe and appear so intent on slicing up "the West," I've run into two Soviet surgeons on a special mission inside the United States.

Victor Riesel

They are truly great doctors. I would not reflect on their devotion to science. Nor will I forget that from time to time in London, Paris and New York, emissaries have come to me from the highest Moscow medical circles suggesting they could speed recovery of my eyes.

I say only it is pathetic that the Russians have turned them into peddlers. They are, in effect, on a sales tour. If successful, they can cost us some of that Forst Knox gold and many jobs.

It was in Oklahoma City, where the Russians had been scheduled to open a medical exhibit, that I first learned of Prof. Viktor M. Zhandov, executive secretary of the Presidium of the Academy of Medicine of the USSR, and (Madame) Dr. Albina Zaharova, of the Institute of the Academy of Medicine of Radiology in Moscow.

THE RUSSIANS called off their Oklahoma City exhibit but now plan to have these two doctors put on a surgical instrument, X-ray and radiological equipment exhibit in Minneapolis and Chicago.

These in effect, will be sales shows. Their objective is to knock out our own surgical and hospital equipment industry and sell us millions of dollars worth of such made-in-Moscow supplies.

And not a minor by-product of this sales trip will be the cultivation of the friendship and respect and knowledge of our own superb medical scientists.

Our State Department of course, is aware of this unsentimental journey throughout our country — just as our State Department knows of the hundreds of millions of dollars worth of strategic trade between the Western world, including us, and the Soviet enemy.

In Europe and East Berlin a month or so ago, I was personally able to check on the sale of vital vast quantities of automatic machinery, transport equipment, automative carriers and electrical and electronic goods. This I duly reported. Indignantly, I hope.

And while hedgehopping through out own West the other week I learned of brutally blunt statements by Canadian and British officials on dealing with totalitarian lands, which I also planned to report.

I HAD HOPED to work the same invective into these reports as I have against dealing with Japanese militarism, Il Duce's fascism and Adolf Hitler's Nazism. After all, things equal to the same ghastly things are equal to each other.

I had stored my vitriol against such a man, for example, as Guy Beaudet, port manager of Montreal Harbor. You haven't heard of him and neither would I if I had not been somewhat nearby some days ago when the American Association of Port Authorities ran their 50th annual convention in Long Beach, Calif.

What fascinated me was their inviting Harry Bridges, Sovieteering longshoreman leader, to speak.

I lost interest in Bridges, for the moment, when I learned that Guy Beaudet, speaking of trade with the Communists, said: "If you go into morals in this matter, you cut your markets."

He topped this by saying that he favors trade with Communist countries and believes that the seriousness of the cold war has been overplayed.

HE REPORTED rather happily that Canadian grain has been going to Red China, Cuba, Poland, Czechoslavakia and Romania.

Furthermore, he reported that the foodstuffs, which have been going to the land which is dedicated to destroying us, Peiping, China, have been carried in empty oil tankers of the Greeks, the ally for whom we fought.

Apparently this attitude on international morals is consistently Dominionwide. For, when Sir Leslie Ford, general manager of the Port of London, discussed the matter he said:

"You've got to trade with everyone if you're in the trade business."

But there is a strange twist to Sir Leslie's report. He revealed that the British import grain, along with timber and furs from the Russians — and sell them strategic materials.

Now, why does Red China need grain so badly when its partner in the Communist International has enough surplus to export this foodstuff to England.

Obviously the Russians could feed their Chinese comrades. But they let us do it. And then use their grain to obtain our war materials at a time when we're calling up fighting men — men who might well meet this very equipment head on somewhere over there.

How can you whip up any indignation against the very practical men of the British Commonwealth, if our own State Department apparently approved Soviet sales missions inside the U.S.A.

A Visible Here

By Truman Twill

This is the nostalgic bleeder I write each October about football —not the kind the boys play now but the kind the boys played when I was boyish.

My alma maters, as far as I can tell by the scores, are still playing their football the same way—strictly amateur. But even amateurs are systematic about the game now.

It is no longer an ordeal for heroes but a demonstration of organization. I'm never-endingly glad I lived at a time when anyone who played football was suspected of being thick in the head. It was my only asset.

We used to prove head-thickness by taking off our padded hats in the thick of the battle and throwing them to the sidelines. This signified that the time had come to separate the men from the boys. The crowd would cheer.

The ball was spotted where it came to rest, and this might be one foot from the sideline. It wasn't unusual for the center to be the only player on one side of a sideline play. All other players would be on the other side.

Exhortation was personal. There was old Doc Hall, who had two sons on our team, Bob and Frank. Old doc followed the ball up and down the field, telling his siblings what to do.

And this modern thing about spotters up in the stands telephoning observations to the bench. . . we not only had no telephones; we had no stands.

Some of us—many of us—had no qualifications but desire. That was the way it was, then. You had to be thick in the head to put on a football uniform and get knocked around, and the smart boys avoided it.

I'm glad I was born too soon to be barred for lack of know-how and size, because it gave me some of the best recollections I possess.

There are times during a football game when I can imagine myself in the thick of it, headgear cast aside, a visible hero. Then I see the telephoning, the assistant coaches and the "messengers" carrying in the plays and realize they wouldn't even let me put on a suit to hold down one end of the bench.

The era when all you needed was a thick head and a bellyful of desire is gone, blessedly so. But it was golden while it lasted, never forget that.

Aid To Education

By David Lawrence

Clearer Ruling Needed On School Funds

Loud are the laments from different groups throughout the country that Congress failed to provide the billions of dollars advocated by President Kennedy for federal aid to education.

David Lawrence

The President is blamed for lack of aggressive leadership or for compromising with opponents or for inept handling of the legislation by his own party.

Factionalism in Congress itself is blamed for the use of various parliamentary procedures to block passage. The religious issue is blamed as a disruptive influence. Opponents of federal subsidies are blamed.

Also, many who harbored doubts about loading the Treasury with an annual commitment for any field as big as education have gladly accepted some of the responsibility for the defeat of the measure.

But the sad fact remains that education in America is in need of more funds — better teachers and better buildings.

Whether all the states need federal aid or some of them can do the job themselves may be debated. Because of the varying conditions throughout the country, the average man finds it difficult to get a clear idea of just what ought or ought not to be done by the federal government.

The most recent excuse for federal aid is national defense. What is done in the Soviet Union is being held up constantly as something to be paralleled. Much money is evidently spent there for training engineers and technicians.

On the theory that Soviet Russia is a potential enemy, the argument is made by spokesmen for educational organizations that to give a better education to American citizens is somehow wrapped up in national defense. It's a convenient device in politics. So measures that are designed to help education are put into bills given such names as the National Defense Education Act.

THE TROUBLE with such a broad classification is that it runs into the religious issue. Higher institutions which need laboratories for scientists or scholarships for talented students in economic or scientific fields have been awarded federal money irrespective of whether those same institutions are operated by churches. The Kennedy administration says this is constitutional.

What is hard to understand, however, is why, if a Catholic boy is supposed subsequently to enlist and defend his country in war, he should be helped in his education at the elementary-school level only if he keeps out of a parochial school.

He must give up the religious education he wants in order to get the benefits of federal money granted to public elementary schools. This is widely criticized as reducing the doctrine of separation of church and state to an absurdity.

Literally, the Constitution says that "Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion."

Some argue that this means no law should ever be passed that deals with any religious institution in any respect whatsoever. If this be true, then the ablibi of national defense is ineffectual and no money can constitutionally be appropriated by Congress for higher institutions or elementary schools or anything else if they have the slightest connection with a church.

THERE ARE some passages in Supreme Court decisions which cast doubt on this doctrine. Each side quotes the passages that seem to support its own view. The truth is that the decisions are not clear.

The Supreme Court of the United States has never, for instance, ruled that a federal loan to help a church construct a church construct a school building is unconstitutional or that a federal loan covering a mortgage on a home for a Catholic citizen is unconstitutional when he engages a private tutor to come to that same home to teach his children the Catholic religion.

Obviously there is need for a clear-cut ruling by the Supreme Court of the United States which will remove all legal doubt as to whether any federal money can be used, directly or indirectly, for any college, high school or elementary school run by a church or whether federal funds may be used for any and all educational purposes except the actual teaching of a religious creed.

It can certainly decide whether federal money can be withheld from institutions that do teach religion in their school buildings even though the money obtained from the federal government is intended, no for the propagation of any religious beliefs, but just for such inanimate objects as brick and mortar and perhaps even for physical facilities to insure good health for American children in congested school areas.

IF CONGRESS would leave it to the courts to decide the extent to which the teaching of religion bars the use of state or federal funds for a college or high school or elementary school that isn't under public control, then the passage — on its merits — of an all-inclusive bill to foster education in America could be made easier.

There is nothing in the rulebook that says members of Congress must possess the legal background of court justices to enable them to resolve constitutional questions before voting for legislation.

College Tuition Fight

By C. K. Hodenfield

WASHINGTON— The cost of higher education is zooming out of sight — as any parent of a college student will tell you.

But this year's freshman may someday look back at 1961-62 as "the good old days" when a college education was relatively inexpensive.

Every student cost is on an escalator going up — tuition, lab fees, room and board, activity tickets, books and supplies, even dating and recreation.

From 1952 to 1960, the Labor Department's cost-of-living index rose by 11.5 per cent. During the same period, resident tuition and fees at major public universities increased more than 71 per cent, and room and board costs rose 27 per cent.

COMPARABLE figures for private colleges and universities probably would show even steeper increases.

Against this background, the Wisconsin State Coordinating Committee on Higher Education said tuition at the state colleges and the state university should be gradually reduced until it disappears.

To officials of public colleges and universities, the idea seems eminently right and proper.

To officials of private colleges and universities, the very thought is too horrible to contemplate.

The debate between public and private institutions on tuition rates reaches fever heat at times.

The private institutions say tuition must be raised to meet ever-increasing costs.

The public institutions say that raising tuition would defeat their moral and legal obligation to provide higher education to all who want it and can benefit by it.

If public institutions stick to the low-tuition principle, while private colleges and universities continue to increase their charges, some private schools would soon price themselves out of the market.

There is no question but that both types of colleges need more money.

ENROLLMENTS are leaping upward every year. This means more dormitories, classrooms, libraries and faculty.

Yet tuition probably never will cover the full cost of a college education.

A student at a state - supported school pays about one - fifth of the actual cost of his instruction. At a private institution he pays slightly less than one-half.

State - supported colleges and universities depend primarily on appropriations from state legislatures to make up the difference. Private institutions depend primarily on gifts and grants from individuals, foundations and corporations. Both also try to get as much as they can from alumni.

Public institutions have managed to hold the line for low tuition, despite tremendous pressures.

Harvey Sees No Threat Of Nuclear War

The United States and Russia probably never will fight an atomic war, but a struggle for world markets that is under way right now will decide the future of the world, Broadcaster Paul Harvey told a near - capacity audience Saturday night at Westgate School auditorium.

Harvey, appearing under the auspices of the Lady Elks, touched on a dozen subjects in his speech of more than an hour, but his central theme was the cold war between communism and democracy.

"It's entirely likely that military war never will be waged again if we remain strong," the ABC network broadcaster said. "If the United States ever is whipped it will be an 'inside job.' When people get fat they get lazy."

But the United States must keep its atomic bomb capability because it's the weapon for "the only kind of war we can win," Harvey asserted. He pointed to the numerical superiority of Russia and its satellites, compared with the manpower available to the U. S. and its allies.

America and its allies are outnumbered today and "every year since the end of World War II communism has added 100 million disciples" by taking over additional satellites, Harvey said.

Harvey said he feels that "the Almighty entrusted the atomic bomb to us for our deliverance" in World War II.

But, turning to the cold war again, he asserted that "Soviet might is 90 per cent myth," comparing production statistics in Russia and other Red-run nations with American output. Despite Russia's boasts of superiority, the Communists are bleeding their satellites to help keep up Russia's standard of living, Harvey said.

The speaker deplored the average American's growing dependence on federal government. He said the end result of such a trend is that "the government becomes all-powerful and the people are cattle."

Harvey declared that Americans "must get off dead center and get back to work" to "outproduce and outsell Russia."

He quoted Bulganin, former Russian premier, to the effect that: "Someday the U. S. will price itself out of the world market, unemployment will result and then we will settle our score."

Harvey blamed America's present position on deviation from the religious tenets of the founding fathers.

"Someday God will lead America again and America will lead the world again," he asserted.

Harvey was introduced by Samuel B. Webber, exalted ruler of the Elks Lodge. Mrs. Fred Link, president of the Lady Elks, also spoke briefly. Several numbers were presented by the chorus of the Sweet Adelines — women barbershop-style singers — under the direction of Glenn Woods. Proceeds went to the Lady Elks Cerebral Palsy fund.

In his network broadcast that originated from East Liverpool earlier Saturday, Harvey hit strongly at the effect of imports on the district's pottery industry.

He said East Liverpool's situation is "symptomatic" of conditions in other U. S. communities where the principal industry has been undercut by goods from low labor cost countries.

At the same time, Harvey criticized East Liverpool for its "run-down downtown" business area and its lack of building and zoning codes. He said the economic situation can be blamed partly on management's desire to "skim off the cream" without reinvesting profits and labor's demands "for more pay for less work."

He rapped at East Liverpool for "not building a new hotel or motel in 50 years" and added that "the visitor is depressed by the sight of empty factories..."

At the same time, Harvey referred to East Liverpool's setting in the hills, calling it "this most beautiful bend on the Beautiful Ohio."

Injured Trio Recovers In 2-Car Crash

Mrs. Mary Louise Wallover, wife of Atty. Edwin M. Wallover of Beaver, is in "satisfactory" condition today at Presbyterian Hospital at Pittsburgh following an auto accident Saturday morning on Route 68 in Industry.

Atty. Wallover, 68, is listed in "fair" condition at Rochester General Hospital, where Miss Wenda DeAngelo, 20, of Smiths Ferry R. D. 1, driver of the other car, is listed as "good."

All three were admitted to Rochester General at 10 a. m. Saturday. Mrs. Wallover later was transferred to the Pittsburgh hospital with head injuries, multiple fractures of right leg, left wrist and a possible rib fracture and lacerations of the face and knee. Her head injuries are not as serious as first believed, the Pittsburgh hospital said.

Atty. Wallover suffered a possible fracture of his left hip and multiple contusions and abrasions and Miss DeAngelo suffered a fracture of her left foot and multiple contusions and abrasions, Rochester General reported.

The Wallovers, who reside at 348 Lincoln Ave., Beaver, lived in Midland about 40 years prior to moving about a month ago to Beaver.

The Rochester barracks of the Pennsylvania State Police, which assisted Police Chief Guy St. Esprit in the investigation, said the accident occurred at 9:20 a. m. about three miles south of Beaver on a straight stretch of road near the Barclay's Crossing overpass.

Police said Miss DeAngelo was traveling east and Wallover west toward Midland when for some unknown reason the DeAngelo 1959 convertible crossed the center line, colliding with the Wallover sedan.

There was some fog at the time of the accident, police said, and charges are pending on the outcome of injuries. Damage was estimated at $2,800 for both vehicles.

Lodge Opens New Building

One hundred seventy-five attended a banquet held Saturday night by the John Washington Masonic Lodge and John Washington Chapter 68, Order of Eastern Star, marking the opening of their new Masonic Hall on Locust St.

The building was purchased last fall. Guests were present from New Castle, Midland, Youngstown, Warren, Uhrichsville, Weirton, Steubenville and Bridgeport.

Roy Thomas of Youngstown, a past grand lodge officer, gave the response and invocation. Louis B. Henderson of Steubenville, past grand master of the Prince Hall Grand Lodge of Ohio and a 33rd Degree Mason, was guest speaker. He gave the origin of Masonic Temples and a brief history of the John Washington Lodge.

Mrs. Sally Harvey of Youngstown, past grand worthy matron of Ohio, introduced grand lodge officers of the Eastern Star and Dennis Palmer of Steubenvlile, deputy Ohio grand lecturer, introduced grand lodge officers of the Masons. Eugene Taylor, worthy master, and Mrs. Sarah L. Taylor, worthy matron, gave the greetings.

Richard Carter was master of ceremonies and Caesar A. Peters introduced the speaker.

Mrs. Gladys Peters Freeman of Youngstown, a former city resident, sang several solos. Mrs. Elizabeth Carter and Mrs. John Nunn of Midland were the pianists. Mrs. Freeman also displayed driftwood centerpieces and sculpture work.

Masonic and Eastern Star colors were used in the decorations, along with palms.

Driver, 32, Charged As Truck Overturns

SALINEVILLE — A 32-year-old Uhrichsville area truck driver and four horses he was hauling to East Liverpool escaped injury early Saturday when his van truck upset on a curve of Route 39 just inside the village.

Deputy Marshall Jay Carter said the trucker apparently rounded the curve too sharply and the vehicle went over on its side, ripping out about 50 feet of guardrails.

The driver is due a hearing Oct. 19 before Mayor Kenneth Leishman on a charge of reckless operation.

Fire Prevention Inspections Due In Midland Area

Various inspections are planned this week by Midland volunteer fire company No. 1 to mark Fire Prevention Week, following surprise fire drills at schools Friday.

Fire Chief Vincent D'Itri said the fire drills went "exceptionally well." Presentation Parochial School was cleared in a minute and 15 seconds, 1st St. School in a minute and 40 seconds, 4th St. School in a minute even, 7th St. School in a minute and 20 seconds and Lincoln High School in two minutes.

D'Itri said fire alarm systems were checked Friday throughout public buildings. He said he plans to return to the elementary schools later this week or next to give talks on fire safety. Fire extinguishers and their location in the schools will also be checked.

Residents who wish to have their homes checked for fire hazards may contact D'Itri at the police station, MI. 3-3468.

Firemen will hold their regular monthly meeting tonight at 8 in the Borough Building.

Confident Living

By Norman Vincent Peale

Do People Ever Change?

A seatmate on a plane turned to me and came up with an interesting question: "I'd like to know what you think. Do you believe that a person ever really changes very much? Does anyone ever make a radical change from being one type of person to another?" "Why do you ask?" I parried. "Is your interest only philosophical, or, perhaps, more personal than that?" "I've heard that religion changes people, makes entirely new persons of them; but I have never actually seen such a change in anyone. I have read accounts in your books about men and women whose lives were revolutionized by what you call Positive Thinking — I just thought I would do a little on-the-spot checking."

"YES," I replied. "I know people who have changed, really changed; but personal revamping of this kind does not come easy. And I must say that many people go through life never changing for the better at all. What they were at 20, they are at 60, only more so. If they were plagued by fears at 20, they are more fearful at 60. If they had feelings of inferiority at 18 they are licked and defeated in older years.

"People who never make a definite change for the better, who seemingly remain unchanged, actually proceed across the years in a slow process of deterioration. It is a doubtful compliment when said of a person: 'He never changes. He's always the same.' It is probably well-meant, but it can indicate a static condition, a failure to progress. Nothing stands still or is impervious to change, not even mountains, and certainly not people. It follows that unless we change in a forward direction we are in a state of retrogression."

"Guess you've hit my case straight on the head," my companion said. "I got to thinking the other day when I made a dumb decision in a business deal that I have made stupid decisions all my life. After each one I kick myself and say I will think more carefully next time. And then what to you think I do next time? Why of course I do another dumb thing! I have never changed except I seem to do more stupid things all the time. Now if I were a drunk, or a fast-living guy, or a two-timer, I could believe your system of positive thinking might change me, but to change a dumb guy into a smart one is something else again. So what the heck," he concluded dejectedly, "I guess I'm this way for keeps."

I POINTED OUT to my despondent companion that a powerful destroyer of personality is the element of error that sometimes perniciously lays hold of people. It makes you think wrong, react wrong, decide wrong. It is a state of consciousness in which perception, understanding, intuition, feeling and reason are dulled. And when the mental and spiritual processes are sluggish, what can you expect but sluggish results? And if no real effort is ever made to reduce or eliminate the error element, naturally it settles down into an habitual reaction.

"O.K., O.K., that's me all over," exclaimed the man fretfully. "So what do I do about this big chunk of error in my consciousness?"

I suggested he might try beginning at once to inject truth into his mind as a counter-agent against error. This he could do by the following steps: (1) Every day affirm aloud, until he really believed it, this statement: "I am a child of God and as such will have a better opinion of myself. (s) Stop believing that he was dumb; and as a child of God recognize that he had a good mind capable of a high average of right decisions. (3) Put the highest form of truth thoughts into his mind every night before going to sleep by reading and committing to mind words of the Holy Scriptures until finally he would "know the truth" and be set free from his defeated self. (4) Associate with people who had experienced spiritual change in some form, and receive guidance from them.

"Do these things," I said, "and keep on doing them and you will solve your problem. But it will take time, lots of time. And don't try to do it alone; ask God to help you."

He promised to try the "Prescription for overcoming dumbness." I heard from him rather regularly over a couple of years after our talk. Sure he had his struggles.

You can't change long-established mental habits overnight. But he did change, so much so that many people now look to him for guidance on their problems. Actually a keen intelligent approach to life is possible for anyone. Just get truth to working against error in you.

Civil War Group To Inspect Home Of Vallandigham

A tour of the Clement Vallandigham homestead and the Old Stone House at Lisbon will be taken by the Tri-State Civil War Roundtable Wednesday night.

Vallandigham, a native of Lisbon and leader of the "Peace Democrats" during the Civil War, was exiled to the South by President Lincoln in 1863 after a speech critical of the war and abuse of constitutional rights.

He ran as unsuccessful candidate for governor of Ohio that year.

The homestead, located ironically on Lincoln Way, formerly Walnut St., is 150 years old. It is owned by Walter Taylor of Knoxville, Tenn., and is currently for sale.

Members of the roundtable are to meet at the Carnegie Library at 7 p. m. and will leave promptly to be at the Vallandigham home at 7:30, Glenn Waight, program chairman, said. The tour of the Old Stone House will be conducted by Ross Fox, president of the Lisbon Historical Society, afterward.

The meeting of the roundtable had been scheduled Tuesday night, but the arrangements for the tour could be made only for Wednesday, Waight explained.

Cadillac

The word for it is... "Masterful!"

"Superb" . . . "luxurious" . . . "beautiful" . . . "brilliant"—there are many words that might be used to describe the new 1962 Cadillac car.

But if we were to select from the Cadillac vocabulary the one word that most completely captures the essence of this latest "car of cars"—we would choose "masterful".

For here is a motor car that has already established its mastery in everything that makes an automobile good and fine and desirable.

In appearance, it is clearly a Cadillac masterpiece—graceful, clean-lined and elegant.

In performance, it is a revelation. Its power plant is a reservoir of silken power—and the car rides and handles with an instinctive ease and sureness.

In safety, it is in a class of its own—with a host of exclusive features, including remarkable new side cornering lights.

In craftsmanship, it is simply without rival. Every 1962 Cadillac will undergo more than 1400 inspections to assure its quality and goodness.

On and on the list could go. But however lengthy, that list could never replace the experience of inspecting the car and driving it.

Your dealer will happily let you do both.

Once you have, you'll understand why the word has gone out so quickly that this is the finest motor car ever to bear the Cadillac name.

Auto Strife Slows Steel

CLEVELAND (AP) — Unsettled labor conditions in the auto industry continue to keep the steel industry from attaining its expected production levels, Steel Magazine said today.

Ford and Chrysler are buying cautiously, the magazine said, and General Motors hasn't released as much tonnage as steelmakers anticipated.

"Steel sales executives have two theories — either automotive steel inventories are bigger than they estimated, or automakers do not intend to boost their October output enough to make up for the production lost in September," Steel said, adding:

"If new models sales are good automakers will probably order more steel for November delivery than they'll take this month. Until they step up their purchases, the steel market will have a hard time getting off dead center."

Production this week is expected to be slightly higher than the 2,130,000 tons the publication estimated was turned out last week.

The use of scrap metal should be high this fall and winter because of the expected strength in steel production, the magazine said, but added that it's unlikely that scrap prices will go up proportionately.

Steel's composite price on No. 1 heavy melting scrap was $39.75 a gross ton last week. The price had jumped more than 37 per cent since the first of the year, but leveled out for September.

Historically, scrap consumption was tied directly to the steelmaking pace, but oxygen converter steelmaking has reduced overall scrap requirements, Steel explained.

German-Born Salesman, 38, Faces Immigration Problem

CHICAGO (AP)—For 15 years a German-born salesman, Joseph Schallmoser, has been a registered voter. He is a thrice decorated U.S. veteran of World War II.

But last week the Immigration Service told Schallmoser he is not a U.S. citizen. Unless he applies for citizenship, the service says, Mr. Schallmoser will be Herr Schallmoser.

"I am a citizen. I've been a citizen almost all my life," said the 38-year-old salesman who came from Germany with his parents in 1929 when he was 6 years old.

"If I sign these papers and send in my five dollars, it's easy enough for me," he said. "But what about the thousands of other guys in the same situation?"

Schallmoser's troubles with the Immigration Service began last week when he tried to be a witness for a friend being naturalized.

Immigration authorities ruled Schallmoser's voting card, Army discharge, and father's naturalization papers were not enough.

"You are technically not a citizen," immigration officials told him.

"I was more than a little shocked," said Schallmoser.

His father was naturalized when Schallmoser was still a minor in the mid-30s.

Schallmoser said he always listed his father's naturalization number with a note that it was not his. "No one ever questioned it before," he said.

"If the government recognized that I had been a citizen for 9½ years in 1943," said Schallmoser, "I don't see how I can not be a citizen now."

Irving Freedman of the Chicago immigration office said Schallmoser must have his own naturalization papers.

"Sure he's an American, but he needs something to prove it," Freedman said.

But Schallmoser says he won't sign a citizenship application.

"Either you've got all the rights of a citizen or you have nothing," declared Schallmoser. He and his wife, Betty, have three children, the oldest 13, the youngest 2.

Teenage Boy And Girl Hurt In Cliff Fall

MEDINA, Ohio (AP)—A teenaged boy and girl, injured in a 35-foot fall down a sheer cliff to a rock-strewn path, were reported in fair condition at Medina Community Hospital.

Margaret Wolfe, 16, of Cleveland suffered fractures of the pelvis, left hip and right arm, a brain concussion and internal injuries in the accident Saturday night at Whipps Ledges, Hinckley Twp.

Her companion, Otto Spirek Jr., 19, of West Richfield, suffered a broken back.

They were found by Mrs. Robert A. Brown of Hinckley Twp. and her two daughters, Kerrie, 14, and Roberta, 12.

The victims and another young couple were en route to their homes from the home of Spirek's uncle when the accident occurred.

Spirek and Miss Wolfe got out of the car at Whipps Ledges, while the other couple remained in the vehicle.

"All of a sudden everything was very dark," Miss Wolfe said. "I was lost and walking in a circle and bumping into trees.

"Then the next thing I knew I woke up and saw a cliff above me that looked about a mile high."

Spirek said he had cautioned the girl to stay behind him but that "she suddenly took two steps in front of me and disappeared." He fell while looking for a path down the cliff to go to her aid.

Funeral Set Tuesday For Newsman, 84

LAKESIDE, Ohio (AP)—Services for Al G. Wharton, 84, a veteran newspaperman here, will be at 1 p.m. Tuesday at the Neidecker Funeral Home in Port Clinton.

He was found dead Saturday night in his home, where he lived alone.

Dr. F. K. Ritter, acting Ottawa County coroner, said Wharton apparently had been dead since Thursday. He ruled death was due to natural causes.

Early in his newspaper career Wharton was editor and publisher of a weekly paper at Belle Center for about 13 years. He had been a columnist and printer for the weekly Lakeside Courier and its successor, the Peninsular News, since 1907.

His column for the Lakeside paper, titled "Memories," was mainly a rehash of past incidents in the Firelands area.

Avoid Cluttered Look

Friendliness Can Be Built Into New Family Room

For a family that enjoys spending time together in informal activities, a family room is "a must," according to the West Coast Lumbermen's Association of Portland, Ore.

But how do you get away from that cluttered, anything - goes appearance while still maintaining a slippers and pipe atmosphere? How do you create a room that is truly for private family use but one that is lovely enough to host guests?

The answer is to design a room with built-in character and friendliness. Stay away from a warmed-over look. If you plan to use cast-off furniture from the living-room, refurbish it with paint or stain and new upholstery to give it a fresh face. Or, if starting from scratch, choose pieces that are completely comfortable and of lasting quality, and pieces that are scaled to fit the room's size.

Select convertible furniture — nests of end tables that work for TV dinners and card games, chairs that let the man of the house lounge but also please a dainty lady.

Walls are important in setting the tenor of this room. For built-in friendliness, paneling of a prestige wood like champagne - hued West Coast hemlock can't be beaten. Finished clear or with a light stain, wood walls provide the texture and warmth this room needs, yet are neutral enough to let you pick your color scheme — and let your change it in the future.

For a family room that is really fun to live in, try to create a theme. Use wall decorations, lamps, accessories to give it the look of a frontier saloon. Or center the theme around the family's favorite sport — skiing, boating, golf — and work storage for those sporting goods right into the room's decor.

Most important, don't forget a wall full of shelving and cupboards where you can keep all the millions of things you'll be using in this room — the playing cards, books, magazines, newspapers, the slide projector and the children's toys. With a little forethought, everything from the music system to a supply of ash trays can be built into this storage wall ready for instant use but neatly tucked out of sight.

Oak Floors Make Hit At Chicago Trade Fair

CHICAGO — Oak floors played a star role in several dining vignettes and model rooms designed by members of the American Institute of Interior Designers for the huge 1961 International Trade Fair held here recently.

Given free rein in styling, a number of designers utlized oak floors — some in color — as a major element of decorative interest.

In the Pavilion of Dining, where designers executed various dining room themese in fascinating international flavor, all of the four basic oak floor styles were represented — strip, plank, unit-block and conventional parquetry.

Designers Andrew K. Addkison, Daniel Flanagan and Robert F. Metz chose white oak strip flooring in mixed widths of 1½, 2¼ and 3¼ inches for their "America Dines Out" presentation.

Prefinished in natural tone, the floor attracted much favorable comment among the 630,000 Fair visitors and some 35,000 buyers in attendance from all parts of the world. Left entirely exposed, it was particularly appealing because of its unusual makeup. Strip flooring ordinarily is installed in uniform widths.

Another outstanding floor was that in the "American Thanksgiving" room, designed by Milton A. Botterill. Also completely uncovered, it was composed of alternating 4-inch and 8-inch wide oak planks beveled at the edges.

It was treated with charcoal black stain which permitted the natural beauty of the wood grain to show through. Decorative brass pegs, each about the size of a quarter, were inserted to simulate dowels in holes drilled near the end joints of the planks.

The "Formal English Tea" room, by S. Lee Wolffs, featured a natural tone unit-block floor of red oak. It was laid in a square pattern with the grain direction alternating in adjacent blocks. Each unit, 9 inches square, was comprised of four 2¼-inch wide pieces. A small rectangular, patterned area rug was used for accent under a circular dining table.

A handsome parquet floor in herringbone design added appeal to the "German Christmas" room, by Richard Niewoehner. Made up of white oak pieces each 2¼ inches wide and 11¼ inches long, the floor was given a striking rust color with rubbed paint which revealed the beauty of the grain pattern.

The finish coat was lacquer. A round black and red patterned accent rug beneath a circular table added interest.

White oak strip flooring in a width of 1½ inches was a dominant feature of a family room designed by Louis B. Frederick. Mr. Frederick utilized the oak, in natural finish, not only for the floor but also for turning a potential decorative liability into an asset.

The room had a flat-surfaced structural column projecting from the endwall about midway between the sidewalls. This, together with the endwall, was surfaced with oak strips, applied vertically. The flooring was used, too, in making a series of shelves which were installed on either side of the column. A vari-colored patterned area rug in front of a sofa contributed a harmonizing note to the expanse of gleaming wood.

A garden room designed by Richard Himmel introduced visitors to the distinctive effects possible with oak floors in decorator colors. Beveled white oak planks in widths of 3, 5 and 7 inches were finished alternately in five pastel shades of yellow and pink to harmonize with the room's predominantly yellow color plan.

As in the German Christmas room, the color was achieved with rubbed paint which permitted the wood figure to show. Lacquer was applied over the paint. A rectangular gravel bed near the center of the room lent added decorative impact to the uncovered floor.

5 Boy Scouts Lost 23 Hours In Woods Found

WESTHAMPTON, Mass. (AP) —A compass test for five young Boy Scouts was somehting less than a success—they became lost in the dense woods of Pisgha Mountain for 23 hours.

A search party found the scouts 11 to 15 years old, huddled around a camp fire shortly before noon Sunday. They were tired, hungry, thirsty and chagrined.

Police Chief Earl Gett said Scoutmaster Chester Wronski told him he left the boys Saturday morning. They had compasses and a topographical map, and were to have hiked to Norwich Lake, eaten lunch there, then met Wronski at Pine Island Lake at 4 p.m. When they had not arrived three hours after the appointed rendezvous, Wronski notified police.

The boys said darkness arrived before they came in sight of Pine Island Lake so they lit a fire and decided to stay put. They had one flashlight and some candles, canteens but no place to fill them, no sleeping bags and no food.

Family Of 5 Lost As Fishing Boat Sinks

JUNEAU, Alaska (AP)—A fishing boat sank off Lemesurier Island, 77 miles northwest of here Sunday, apparently wiping out a family of five from Tacoma, Wash.

Fishermen said the 37-foot troller, Partner, may have hit a chunk of floating ice.

New Trend Emphasizes Bare Floors

Use of exposed floors set off with patterned area or accent rugs has reached a new high in popular appeal and now ranks among the top fashion trends in room planning, according to trade reports.

The sharply increased preference for this decorative practice is attributed in considerable measure to a renewed appreciation for the natural beauty of oak and other attractive hardwoods, which are employed most extensively in the arrangement.

Wood beauty has such strong appeal, in fact, that some makers of non-wood materials now seek to immitate it, designers point out, with a simulated wood grain appearance.

An indication of the growing popularity of the exposed floor idea is seen in recent comments in Home Furnishings Daily, leading publication of the home furnishings industry.

Discussing important fashion trends, the publication reported: "Floors will become still barer. Smooth surface will take the place of wall-to-wall carpeting. Patterned area rugs will be combined with patterned drapery and upholstery fabrics for the pattern-with-pattern look. . ."

In another article an influential department store buyer was quoted as saying that the resurgence of interest in rugs reflects the displacement of wall-to-wall carpeting as a "status symbol."

The article also quoted a leading floor covering stylist as reporting that "the vogue for pattern in all home furnishings fabrics has reached the floor," and that "to create a pleasing decor using patterned upholstery fabrics, draperies, wall coverings and floor coverings, the accent of bare floor is essential."

The exposed floor concept was much in evidence in room settings at the 1961 International Trade Fair in Chicago. Several rooms designed by members of the American Institute of Interior Designers featured oak floors either entirely exposed or set off with area rugs.

Although oak is the big favorite among both designers and homemakers, other attractive hardwood species also are used frequently to produce exceptionally handsome floors. Among these are hard maple, beech, birch, pecan, walnut, cherry, ash, hickory and teak.

The strip style of hardwood, which can be laid in uniform widths or in mixed widths, is the choice of most persons because it combines all the advantages of fine hardwood flooring with decorative versatility and moderate cost. Harmonizing with any decorative plan, it is one of the most economical of all residential floorings.

The other major styles—plank, unit-block and conventional parquetry -- also are employed with unusually pleasing results in the exposed floor arrangement.

Driver Faces Charge After Crash In Fog

A city motorist was cited for failure to stop in the assured clear distance as the result of a pile up of four trucks and a car in the dense fog on Route 7 near the intersection with Route 213 at Yellow Creek Saturday at 9:15 a. m.

The Wintersville State Highway Patrol said there were two separate accidents, occurring at the same spot about five minutes apart.

A Wellsville Quality Feed Co. truck driven by Harold Leith, 38, of 924 Main St., Wellsville, was struck in the rear by another truck driven by George Frederick, 44, of Youngstown. The impact knocked the first truck into the guardrail and it bounced across the medial strip and back again.

Leith suffered a possible back injury. About five minutes later, another truck driven south by William Pugh, 35, of Winston Salem, N. C., halted on the highway because of the accident, officers said.

A car driven by Michael Molchan, 41, of 1305 Brightview Dr. halted behind the rig. Another truck driven by Howard Gibbs, 32, of 1020 Rubicon St. then struck the Molchan car and drove it into the rear of the rig driven by Pugh.

Mrs. Molchan, 38, a passenger in her husband's car, suffered abrasions of the right leg and their daughter, Patricia, 9, suffered abrasions of the forehead.

Gibbs suffered a sprained neck. He was cited for failure to stop in the assured clear distance and will receive a hearing Wednesday at 2 p. m. before Judge Helen Huntsman at Toronto.

The rear end of a tractor-trailer truck was cut off by a southbound freight train at the Port Homer crossing on Route 7 at 7:30 a. m. The driver, Charles R. McAllister of Barbersville, W. Va., and his co-driver, L. D. Handley of Huntington, escaped injury.

The wreckage was cleared and the train moved on in about two hours. The combination of both accidents tied up traffic on Route 7 for about three hours.

2 County Women Hurt As Car Hits Bank

A Leetonia woman and her passenger from East Rochester were injured when their car veered off Route 172 near New Garden and struck an embankment Saturday night about 11:35.

The Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon said Josephine Rance, 25, of Leetonia lost control while headed west and her auto left the road and hit the embankment, causing extensive damage to the car.

The driver suffered abrasions of the left arm and back, and a passenger, Rita Rose, 20, of East Rochester received abrasions of the right leg.

The mishap occurred about a mile east of New Garden.

Strike In 9th Day

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The city bus strike entered its ninth day, and negotiations have been recessed until Tuesday. Hand Tools Are Handy To Have In Workshop

You may think that hand tools have gone out of style, what with all the talk about power tools these days.

But if you're a home handyman, even one lucky enough to have a workshop filled with power machines, you know how often nothing will do the job properly except a screwdriver or wrench or hammer or any one of half a dozen other still-necessary hand tools

To make your tasks a little easier, here are some tips on the use of hand tools, some of which you may know and some of which usually are known and used only by the professionals:

A wrench should be pulled towards you, not pushed away from you. Never place a length of pipe over the handle to give you more leverage unless you want to risk breaking the wrench and possibly injuring yourself. In using a pipe wrench, be sure the pipe is gripped at the center of the jaws.

If you use a screwdriver for much heavy work, place a rubber crutch tip (sold in hardware stores) over the handle to avoid blisters on your hands. Don't use soap as a screw lubricant, since it may rust the material into which it is driven. Use graphite or paraffin or one of the lubricants made especially for this purpose.

In buying a hammer, it should feel right when you pick it up and simulate striking a nail with it, much as you test a golf club by swinging it before buying. A good hammer will last a lifetime, which is why you should spend a little extra for quality.

A wood chisel should never be struck with a hammer — a sure way to split the handle. Use a wooden mallet. In storing a chisel, be sure the edges are protected.

In sawing wood, use pressure only on the downstrokes with the exception of the first cut, which is made with short upstrokes near the heel of the saw.

When using a pliers on a faucet, place adhesive tape across the jaws of the pliers or on the faucet itself to prevent damage to the texture.

AFL-CIO Set To Act Upon Hoffa Exile

NEW YORK (AP) — Organized labor leaders open a week-long meeting today to decide whether to take back James R. Hoffa's expelled Teamsters Union or start a rival truck drivers unit.

It appeared likely that the AFL-CIO would continue its four-year exile of Hoffa's organization on corruption charges.

A number of AFL-CIO unions have been actively urging readmission of the Teamsters. They point out that despite court convictions of several Hoffa aides he himself has emerged unscathed from a barrage of charges.

Joseph A. Curran, president of the National Maritime Union and a federation vice president, and Michael J. Quill, head of the Transport Workers Union, are leaders of the pro-Hoffa group.

Still other AFL-CIO unions are equally insistent that not only should the doors be kept shut against Hoffa but a rival union should be established to try to woo Teamsters members away from him.

Among those seeking formation of a new AFL-CIO Teamsters organization are Presidents James B. Carey of the International Union of Electrical Workers and Joseph A. Beirne of the Communications Workers.

The Teamsters were ousted in 1957 after extensive corruption disclosures by the Senate rackets investigating committee, headed by Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark.

George Meany, AFL-CIO president, recently has been extending active encouragement to a few scattered Teamsters locals that bolted from Hoffa's union.

Wood Floor Resilience Is Treat To Your Feet

The floors you stand and walk on can have a lot to do with your foot comfort and health, foot specialists say.

They point out that thousands of Americans today are suffering foot and leg ailments as a result of prolonged standing or walking on non-resilient surfaces. Many specialists are outspoken in recommending wood floors, which have a cusioning effect.

Dr. Marvin W. Shapiro of Toledo, Ohio, past president of the American Podiatry Association, declares:

"The resilience of wood is generally known all right, but in the sweep of fads and trends this is too often overlooked. In factories where workers must stand on concrete floors we find large numbers who show the strain.

"Placing thick carpets over non-resilient floor surfaces doesn't solve the problem, either. We who treat foot ailments find that clerks in department stores who stand all day on heavy carpeting often develop their own peculiar types of leg aches. It is not a natural footing."

The specialist concedes that while other factors often are involved in foot complaints, "we who treat foot ills know that when wood is used as the standing and walking surface, there is less trouble. Organic materials like wood absorb the shock, and inorganic materials like concrete do not."

Quality Construction Traced To Pharaohs

Fine hardwood floors can be expected to last the life of a house, no matter how well it's constructed, a flooring industry spokesman declared.

As an example of the longevity of wood he cites an archeological discovery of a wood floor in the tomb of one of the first Pharaohs. Although 5,000 years old, the floor was reported to be in excellent condition.

Free Booklet Helps In Floor Selection

Home planners will find helpful information on selection, installation, finishing and care of oak floors in a newly revised 32-page booklet published by the National Oak Flooring Manufacturers' Association.

A free copy can be obtained by sending a postcard or letter request to Oak Flooring Information Service, 75 E. Wacker Dr., Chicago 1, Ill. Just ask for "Oak Floors for Your Home."

Replace Furnace Filter Periodically

A clogged filter in a gas heating system can cut heat, increase fuel bills and require service during the winter.

The Gas Appliance Manufacturers Association suggests the filter be replaced periodically so it can do its job of cleaning the air to be heated by the furnace or boiler.

Kennedy Plans Speaking Tour In Mid-November

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP) — President Kennedy will head west on a speaking tour in mid-November.

It could wind up with his lending a personal hand to Cabinet officers and other administration executives in reporting to the people what Congress accomplished and what more he would like it to accomplish.

Pierre Salinger, White House press secretary, announced Sunday Kennedy will speak Nov. 16 in Seattle at the 100th anniversary of the University of Washington and again Nov. 17 in Phoenix at a dinner honoring Sen. Carl A. Hayden's 50 years in Congress.

Plied with questions, Salinger said that after the Phoenix visit, Kennedy has "some other stops under consideration."

Asked whether the trip is shaping up as a speaking tour, he replied that "we've already got two speeches. Anything over one makes it a tour."

Kennedy, who flew here Saturday for the weekend, scheduled a return to Washington by jet today.

Mrs. Kennedy and the Kennedy children are staying on at the Newport estate of her parents.

Deter Pollution

Contrary to popular belief, the burning of trash and garbage need not produce objectionable smoke and odor. Homeowners who have adopted one of the new automatic gas disposers not only have rid themselves of the garbage disposal nuisance but also have helped their communities control air pollution.

Bathroom's Development Seen 'Unique'

CHICAGO — The modern American bathroom is the most distinctively American room in the entire house. It is the unique contribution of America to world culture.

The entire story of the evolution of household equipment and the constantly improving American standard of living could be written in the development of the bathroom alone, the Plumbing - Heating - Cooling Information Bureau points out.

Despite its historical background, the bathroom is a dynamic room — constantly changing in response to the new demands of the American family.

These changes are apparent in the improvements in the styling and design of the fixtures and fittings and they are also apparent in a new attitude toward the bathroom and new ways of increasing its usefulness as well as its beauty.

In recent years all fixtures and fittings have been redesigned for greater beauty, usefulness, durability, and sanitation.

Starting with fixtures in color and making use of the wide range of new floor and wall coverings, modern lighting and accessories, the possibilities for planning strikingly beautiful bathrooms and powder rooms are almost infinite.

From plumbing contractors householders can obtain a wide selection of booklets and other literature issued by manufacturers of plumbing fixtures. From this material the homemaker will be able to get many helpful ideas on the selection of fixtures and the choice of colors.

One such booklet is entitled "What You Should Know About Plumbing" and is available for 10 cents from the Plumbing - Heating - Cooling Information Bureau, 35 E. Wacker Dr., Chicago 1, Ill.

Built-In Look Seen In New Gas Ranges

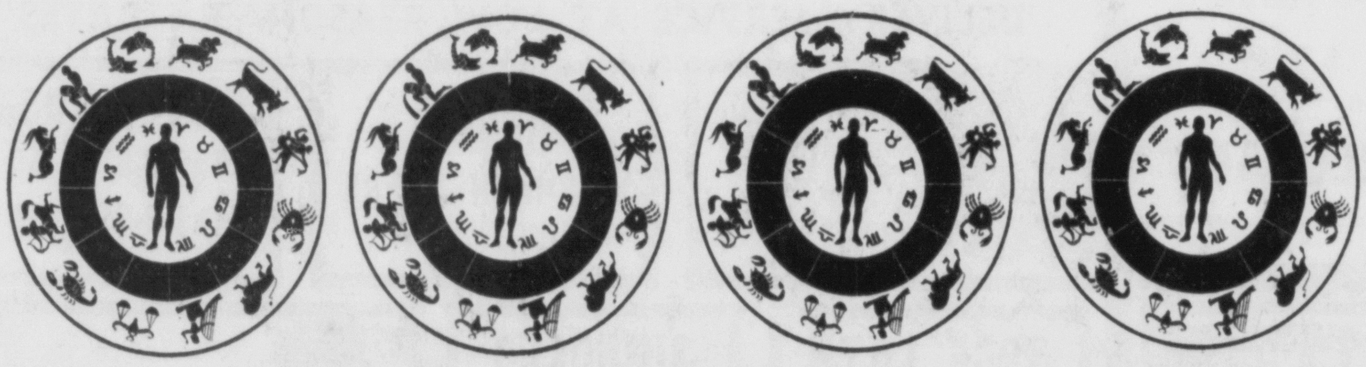
Gas ranges that look built - in, but have the all-in-one advantages of free-standing models, are now available.

According to the Gas Appliance Manufacturers Association, the new ranges don't have the usual base or legs of a free-standing unit and can be fitted into a section cut out of a kitchen counter.

The new ranges come in a wide variety of colors and in widths of 20, 24, 30, 36 and 40 inches.

IT'S A FACT!

You can heat your home 4 years with GAS



for about the same price that you can heat only 1 year with electricity

What a boon to your budget Gas Heat really is! Four years of comfortable, convenient home heating for what it would cost to heat your home just one year electrically. Translated into dollars, Gas Heat means big savings . . . month-after-month, year-after-year . . . savings that mount up to, literally, thousands of dollars.
But cost is not the whole story when it comes to Gas Heat. Consider these other advantages:

GAS HEAT is "fresh air" heat. It allows for normal, healthful air changes in your home. You don't have to seal it tight as a thermos bottle to keep costs from soaring.

GAS HEAT enables you to keep all parts of your home, including the basement, comfortable at reasonable cost.

GAS HEAT is clean. The air is filtered to remove dust and pollen before it is heated and circulated through your home.

GAS HEAT requires a minimum of attention. You need to set only one thermostat for whole home comfort. No heat is more dependable . . . none safer . . . than Gas. And with forced air Gas Heat, you already have duct work that converts easily for central air conditioning.

Why be extravagant? Why pay more — to get Less? Insist on Gas Heat for your home and save thousands of dollars!

Here's How—

Become 'Well Closeted'

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

Everyone talks about the closet shortage. Few do anything about it.

But if your problem is the lack of closets, don't just sit and grumble, McGee.

Build them yourself.

Or have them built.

Or buy them ready-made.

Many modern houses are little more advanced than America's first houses — a roof over some rooms. Builders include a few extra closets in higher - priced homes, on the theory, I presume, that only people who can afford to buy expensive homes use many closets.

So you're faced with doing it yourself.

Lop off part of a room if need be and install a ready - made closet for ever-increasing paraphernalia. You'll be so happy with the results that you won't miss the space forfeited.

If your family is sports minded, as more and more families are these days, equip your home to accommodate your equipment. No more running to the garage for water skis, bureau for snorkel and basement for outboard motor.

Collect the tennis rackets, skis, golf clubs, fishing rods, reels, guns, bats, balls and all the rest of it and design yourself a sports closet. Build in or have built in racks, shelves and pigeonholes to hold the equipment you have (and some bonus shelves for equipment you will get). You don't want to build a sports closet only to find everything in a clutter on the floor.

Now what about a closet in the living room? Perhaps you could work it under a built-in bookcase. If shelves go all the way to the floor and you don't need so many, put doors on the lower ones and stow your records, cameras, projector, screen, films, slides, albums, tape recorder, tapes, games and musical instruments.

Working hobbies — such as typing and sewing — if pursued in the living room, should have their equipment stored in that room. A closet possibility for typewriter and sewing machine is to build a wooden chest out from one wall, perhaps under a window, covering the lid with cushions. You can vary this, of course, substituting drawers for top-opening chest. Both make a nice window seat.

Couples who are Saturday night bridge or poker players need to store card tables. Look around for something nearby to slip them under or behind. One suggestion—open a trap door under the shallow end of your stairway. They'll slide in there, and you possibly may find room to store a set of folding chairs as well.

We've become barbecue fanciers. But what do we do with the outdoor cooker and utensils if the cellar is inadequate or too loaded? The garage bulges with bicycle, baby carriage and little red wagon in many homes.

Then there's the garden equipment, outdoor furniture, wheel barrow and lawn mower. An easy-to-build shed on the side of a garage could be the solution if this is your problem.

Clothes closets are likely to be inadequate too. Many men like their own closet with shelves top to bottom. No more digging through bureau drawers or competing with the wife for closet space.

The lady of the house, who needs more hangar space than anything else, also could use a row of shelves, perhaps on one side of her closet. Pocketbooks, belts, scarves, hats and gloves at a glance save a lot of rummaging.

The main thing when planning a closet is to decide what your most pressing storage needs are, figure out a place where these needs can be met (while you're at it, alot a generous amount of space) and design the closet's interior down to the last placement of pole, shelf and wall hook.

Then, and only then, turn to the home handyman or professional carpenter. When you know what you want, they can build it for you.

Auto Wrecks Kill 6 In Ohio On Weekend

Ohio Deaths at a Glance

Traffic	6
Miscellaneous	4
Total	10

By The Associated Press

Ohio's weekend traffic toll was below normal. But at least six highway deaths were registered between 6 p.m. Friday and midnight Sunday.

One multiple fatal road accident was reported. It happened in Newark and killed a 27-year-old man from that city and a 19-year-old Virginia girl who had been visiting at Buckeye Lake.

The man's car cracked up against a tree after he tried to pass another auto and lost control when he cut back into his original lane. Two other Licking County residents in the car were injured seriously.

In addition to the traffic slaughter, four Ohioans met death in miscellaneous accidents.

The fatalities:

Friday Night

Alexander Stevenson, 90, Canton, struck by a car as he walked in the middle of a road northeast of there.

Saturday

Frank Bedell, 64, Cleveland, drowned in Lake Erie after snagging his fishing line off White City Beach in Cleveland.

Willard L. Reynolds, 25, Rt. 4, Wooster, thrown from his car as it failed to make a slight curve on U.S. 250 four miles southeast of Wooster.

George Conrad, 44, Rt. 2, Amanda, when his car left a township road and crashed into a ditch two miles southwest of that Fairfield County community.

James Keith, 28, Sandusky, crushed between the counterweight and carriage of a crane with which he was working on a road construction project three miles south of there.

Sunday

Richard Locker, 27, Newark, and Maryann Robinette, 19, of Big Rock and Grundy, Va., when their car smashed into a tree in Newark.

Anthony Rotondo, 27, Wickliffe, electrocuted when he touched a live wire while working on a high-tension line at a Cleveland company where he was an electrician.

Robert J. Moeller, 39, Milford, whne a tractor went over an embankment and crushed him while he was using it to clear stones from a field in Clermont County near Milford.

Army Pvt. Gene A. Moelk, 23, Grafton, struck by a vehicle whose driver fled the accident scene on Ohio 57 near Lorain.

Ohio Parents, Teachers Group Opens Meeting

TOLEDO, Ohio. (AP)—The 56th annual convention of the Ohio State Congress of Parents and Teachers opening here today is expected to consider proposed restriction of go-kart racing in Ohio.

This action was indicated as members of the group's board of managers met in a pre-convention session Sunday night.

The position of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers on go-kart racing will be reported to the delegates by Mrs. Wilson C. Storey of Cincinnati, state legislation chairman.

The national group went on record last month as disapproving go-kart racing by young children and urged each state group to study the need for restrictive measures. It noted that many states have laws excluding these vehicles from streets and highways but "there is little or no control over their use on private property."

Also expected to be voted on by the delegates is a resolution calling for their support in a public education drive to help prevent sex offenses in Ohio.

Some 3,000 delegates and guests are expected for the three-day convention.

Prefinished Oak Installed Easily Over Old Floors

There's an easy solution nowadays to the problem of old worn floors that cannot be restored to attractiveness: have gleaming new oak floors installed right over them.

Especially when prefinished oak is used, the job can be completed quickly with minimum disruption of household routine. Expertly finished at the mill — even to waxing and polishing — prefinished oak flooring is ready for service immediately after being installed. It enables a home owner to have a room re-floored and put back into use the same day.

For nailing directly over old wood floors there is a choice of prefinished stock in the popular strip style or the handsome unit-block type.

Unit-blocks, a modern form of parquetry, also can be installed in mastic right over concrete or other hard surfaces. They can be laid over old composition flooring, too, provided the latter is firmly bonded.

The cost can vary with localities and with the type and grade of flooring chosen. A room can be floored with a top grade of the strip style, however, for less than you might pay for a good quality floor covering for a similar area.

Injection In Her Arm

Doctor To Be Arraigned In Plot To Poison Wife

PORT ORCHARD, Wash. (AP) —Dr. Robert E. Boehme, 41, accused of injecting poison into his wife's arm, was to be arraigned today on a charge of first-degree assault with intent to kill.

His wife, Dorothy, 34, said she would leave her hospital bed to be at his side.

Boehme was freed on $25,000 bond after his arrest Saturday. An attractive nurse, Mary Boehme, 28, Annapolis, Wash., was arrested as a material witness, and released on $5,000 bond.

Mrs. Boehme was married to the doctor's brother, Jack, an Oregon State University pharmacy student, for about three years. They were divorced in 1959.

Prosecutor Gordon Walgren said Dr. Boehme is accused of injecting poison into his wife's arm with a blood-sampling syringe Sept. 20.

Dorothy Boehme called the charge "preposterous."

The doctor said his wife had been a diabetic for about 20 years and recently suffered from hepatitis, an inflammation of the liver.

"I love my wife," he said. "To say that I would try to destroy her is fantastic."

The couple has two sons, aged 8 and 10.

The involved case took another twist when the prosecutor said he and Mary Boehme had filed an application for a marriage license June 22.

Walgren, himself divorced and now engaged to another woman, said he never had any intention of marrying the nurse.

"I was investigating her conduct and wanted to see if she would go through with the idea of marriage," he said. "She broke off with me the same day."

Walgren said the investigation began nine months ago, after he learned Dr. Boehme had telephoned a woman in San Francisco and said: "You'll be swimming in my pool within six months."

Investigators said the physician made several trips to California while Mary Boehme was there. Dr. Boehme said his relationship with Mary Boehme was that of a doctor and a patient.

Mary Boehme, a former airline stewardess, is a nurse in the hospital where the doctor's wife was taken Sept. 22, two days after the alleged injection.

Salvage Efforts Are Renewed To Save Corn, Oats

KENTON, Ohio (AP)—Salvage operations begin anew today to see what can be saved from 85,000 bushels of corn and oats that caught fire in two grain elevators near here, causing damage tentatively estimated at $100,000.

The damage figure, given by Howard Walton Sr., owner of the elevators, is subject to revision depending upon how much of the salvaged grain is fit for human consumption. The rest will be used for livestock feed.

About 15,000 bushels of grain were removed from the concrete elevators Saturday night before the unloading machinery broke down.

An auger — something like a giant revolving screw — will be used today to turn out the grain.

One elevator, 93 feet tall, contained 65,000 bushels of shelled corn. The adjoining one, slightly shorter, held 20,000 bushels of oats.

Firemen from four departments battled the blaze about 30 hours before being called off late Sunday.

Cause of the blaze was undetermined.

East Liverpool police today are investigating five minor weekend theft cases in which loss was confined to property.

Tools were stolen from a storage room at the Econ-O-Wash Laundry on Elizabeth St. between 2:30 p. m. Saturday and 3:19 p. m. Sunday, police said. Paul Conkle of Chester is the owner. The intruder took the tools after removing a lock from a storage room door.

The loss included a quarter-inch drive socket set, a set of wrenches, two pairs of pliers and two screw drivers.

An intruder entered the truck garage of the Golden Star Dairy Co., 235 W. 6th St., between 5 p. m. Saturday and 10 a. m. Sunday by removing a piece of tin which had been placed over a group of windows in the northeast side of the building, police said.

Using a truck gear shift lever, the intruder attempted to pry open a soft drink vending machine, but it was not known immediately if there was any loss, police said.

Police said the transmission of a 1953 Ford and the radiator from a 1953 Mercury were stolen from Eddie's Auto Repair on the Pennsylvania Ave. "Hill Rd." by a burglar who gained entry about 4:30 p. m. Saturday by forcing a side door. Neal Patterson, 220 W. 6th St., was listed as the owner. The parts previously had been removed from autos, police said.

James H. Jackson, 441 Thompson Ave., told police an intruder entered his garage while he was absent between 11:30 a. m. Saturday and 9:15 p. m. Sunday, destroyed the bilge pump on his 16-foot boat and stole a 5-gallon and a 2-gallon gasoline can.

Richard Maylone, 426 W. 5th St., told police a brown jacket valued at $12 was stolen from his auto while it was parked on Pennsylvania Ave. between 10 p. m. Saturday and 1 a. m. Sunday.

Burglar Takes Cash At Wellsville Tavern

A small amount of cash was stolen from the Flamingo Bar, 1339 Main St., Wellsville, which was burglarized sometime early Sunday morning, police said.

The rear door of the establishment was forced to gain entry. Police said between $8 and $9 was taken from the cash register and an undetermined amount of change was taken from a juke box which was forced open.

Nothing else was bothered, police said.

Hospital Treats 18 In District Following Weekend Mishaps

A Wellsville man who suffered a toe injury at home this morning and a Lisbon area woman hurt stepping from a porch Sunday were among 18 district residents treated at City Hospital over the weekend.

Women Hurt In 3 Crashes

Three Hancock County women were injured in two separate traffic mishaps on Route 66 Saturday, the sheriff's office in New Cumberland reported today.

Two New Cumberland women were injured in a "chain" type collision, while a Newell woman was hurt in a mishap in the fog, deputies said.

Mrs. Florence Drummond, 71, and Martha Keller, 40, both of New Cumberland, were injured in the "chain" mishap involving three autos at 6:50 p. m. a half-mile south of Chester.

They were passengers in the lead car operated by Garfield Kelier, 41, of New Cumberland, who had halted suddenly to begin a right turn, deputies said.

Keller's 1960 car was rammed in the rear by the auto of Gene A. Lytton, 29, of Newell, which in turn was struck in the rear by the third car, driven by Edward Cronin, 36, of Harrison St., Newell. All three were headed north.

Mrs. Drummond is in "good" condition today in City Hospital with possible back and neck injuries. Mrs. Keller was treated for a possible back injury.

In another mishap south of Newell Saturday morning at 8:30, an auto operated by Mrs. Mary Vanderham, 24, of 22 Washington St., Newell, crashed into a truck driven by Howard A. Leith Jr., 46, of Wellsville.

Deputies said Mrs. Vanderham was headed south on Route 66 when she crashed into the truck that had pulled onto the highway from a sand pit in heavy fog.

Mrs. Vanderham is in "good" condition today in City Hospital with a fractured right foot.

2 In Raid Due For Hearing

Hearings are scheduled Tuesday afternoon at 2 before Squire John D. Herron of New Cumberland for the operator of a Newell tavern and a waitress cited Thursday night in a raid by County sheriff's deputies.

A charge of illegal possession of alcoholic liquor was filed by deputies against Wallace Simcox, 36, operator of the Stutz Bar, and a charge of operating a gaming device against Anna Gay Beagle, 34, of 1052 Pennsylvania Ave., East Liverpool.

Deputies confiscated the gaming device, an electrical clock, and a quantity of liquor in the raid at the Washington St. tavern.

Simcox faces prosecution in another charge of operating a game of chance that was filed June 22 by sheriff's deputies and has bounced around from court to court in legal maneuvers.

The case first was assigned to Squire Harry Lytton of Newell, but was removed from his authority when the defendant filed an affidavit of prejudice. Squire Lytton had issued the warrant in acting on a complaint of a woman.

The case then went to Squire W. Eugene Allison of Chester, but the filing of a writ of prohibition, asking that Allison not be permitted to hear the case, delayed the outcome again.

Squire Allison overruled the defendant's motion alleging the warrant used in the arrest was faulty. The writ of prohibition against Squire Allison then was taken before Circuit Court Judge Ralph E. Pryor in New Cumberland, and the 1st District jurist also overruled the petition.

Should the West Virginia State Supreme Court receive the case and overrule the writ, the case would eventually be returned to Squire Allison for a decision.

Beaver Local And Stanton Win To Remain Undefeated

Beavers Nip United, 12-0, In Late Rally

By CHUCK CRONIN
Review Sports Writer

Rallying with two touchdowns after three scoreless periods, Beaver Local High flattened United, 12-0, Saturday afternoon to remain as one of two of Columbiana County's undefeated football squads.

A sunbathed crwd of 1,000 saw the Beavers post their fourth straight triumph at Hanoverton in balmy 80-degree weather over the previously unconquered Golden Eagles.

Turning the tide in favor of the Beavers in an evenly - matched battle of arch-rivals, was the running of halfback Carl Hoppel, 120-pound halfback, and a clutch performance by sub quarterback John Broadbent.

Hoppel smashed at the United line like an iron fist, scoring Beaver Local's first touchdwn on a one-yard crash through center and gaining 130 yards in a stamina-draining 27 carries.

Broadbent, subbing for injured regular Mike Klembara, directed the Beaver Local attack in flawless fashion. His perfectly thrown aerial to end Gary Berhar in the fading minutes was good for Beaver Local's second touchdown in a play covering 15 yards.

It was the fourth shutout of the season for the Beaver forward wall, anchored by the aggressive play of guard Dave David Myers, 140-pound junior, and good play by both terminals.

United's runners were checked with less than 100 yards gained by Beaver defenders.

The Beaver line was credited with a save of a United touchdown in the opening quarter when it stopped a long march with the recovery of a fumble at the two-yard line.

That was the most determined bid by United all afternoon and the Beavers rose to the challenge by nabbing the fumble near the goal line on a fourth down play.

After that, the Eagles were kept pinned inside their own territory and were forced to punt frequently and hope for a defensive break.

But it never came as Broadbent, Hoppel and George Gaydos ran for consistent gains to keep the Beaver Local attack moving in time-consuming drives.

Coach Jack O'Rourke's winners struck late when it appeared the game would end in a scoreless tie.

They marched 56 yards in 14 plays in the fourth quarter for the first touchdown.

The drive began on the Beaver 44 and moved to the United 33 in seven plays. Broadbent passed to end George Wilkinson in the left corner to the United 15 and a first down.

Four straight carries by Hoppel moved the ball to the United two-yard stripe and a first down. Gaydos hit the right side to the United one and the hard - driving Hoppel plunged over for the touchdown on a dive play. United repelled the run attempt for the conversion.

The score seemed to inject a little fire into the Eagles as they received the ensuing kickoff and were at midfield on a 30-yard return by Marks. But the stubborn Beaver Local line stiffened and Myers barreled through and nabbed quarterback John Hanna for a 15-yard loss. A pass by Hanna to Sturgeon carried to the United 44, but the Eagles punted on the next play.

Then the Beavers were on the move again after receiving the punt at their own 31. Seven carries by Hoppel and two by Gaydos moved the Beavers to the United 10 and a first down.

Broadbent dropped back on the next play and fired a perfect strike in the right corner to Berhar who had drifted behind defensive halfback Bill McGrahahan of United for the score. A rush by Hoppel for the conversion was held short.

The kickoff found United losing possession on a short boot that struck a lineman and bounced into the hands of Gaydos, the kicker.

The Beavers made another down-payment on a highly-successful campaign with the victory. O'Rourke's squad is 4-0-1 and will visit South Side this Friday.

Hoppel moved ahead of United's Marks in the district scoring race, with the touchdown boosting his season total to 45. Marks led the district last week with 44.

Yanks' 'So-So' Pitching Shuts Out Reds Again

and
HAROLD HARRISON

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)—The Cincinnati Reds, down 3-1 in the World Series, are wondering who passed out the word that New York Yankee pitchers—except for Whitey Ford—were just so-so.

They have been so-so to date all right—so, so good they have shutout the National League champions twice. The Reds had to go against Ford again Sunday and also able relief pitching by Jim Coates.

Fred Hutchinson, baring a grin that just covered chagrin, said after Sunday's 7-0 defeat that it was the old, old story—failure of his better hitters to come through.

"We went through that several times in the regular season but had time to come back," he said. "Now, we have to win three games to come out ahead."

In the next room, as Hutch talked with newsmen, his tamed Reds glumly contemplated locker doors, hurried through their baths or sat in small groups discussing their plight.

Hutch said he planned a club meeting before the fifth game today.

"Are you going to try to stir them up," he was asked.

"No, just the opposite," he replied. "They are stirred up now. I'll try to quiet them down."

Hutch said he would not change the lineup.

"We'll stick with the same players," he said stoutly, "after all, they are the ones who won the pennant."

Joey Jay, who put the Reds back in the running by winning the second game from New York 6-2, will go for Cincinnati. Ralph Terry will do the chores for the Yanks. The Reds hope they find him as comfortable to bat against as they did last Thursday.

Hutchinson just can't get over the fact that his star hitters—Frank Robinson, Vada Pinson and Gene Freese aren't hitting. In four games Robinson has gotten one hit. Pinson has gotten one hit. Freese has yet to get a safety.

Can't Wait Till Series Ends, Maris Declares

CINCINNATI (AP) — Roger Maris simply can't wait for the World Series to end.

"When this thing is over," he said today, "I'm going to run, not walk, to the nearest airport, and shout 'KC, Mo, here I come'."

"KC, Mo," stands for Kansas City, Missouri. Maris' home is in Raytown, a suburb.

"I'm going to get home the quickest way possible," Roger said. "It's too bad the series didn't end in four games.

"I miss the children," explained the 27-year-old New York slugger, a father of four children, the oldest four-year-old Susan.

"I want to get away from people," said the man who hammered a record number of 61 home runs during the season and one more in the World Series. "I want to be alone, just with my family. I want to become acquainted with my kids again. I haven't sene them since the first week of August."

Actually, Maris will be able to spend only one week in the seclusion of his home and family. He has agreed to participate in a hitting exhibition, along with Jim Gentile of Baltimore and Harmon Killebrew of Minnesota, on Oct. 15-18 in several cities in North Carolina .

"After that, I'm coming back home and stay there all winter," he promised, "except for two or three functions that I have committed myself to attend. I feel good just thinking about it."

Maris went hitless Sunday as the Yankees defeated the Reds 7-0 to take a 3-1 lead in the series.

Rally Too Late As Crestview Loses, 20-12

Crestview High scored two second half touchdowns, but it wasn't enough to overcome a big deficit in a 20-12 loss to McDonald Saturday afternoon at New Waterford.

McDonald won its fourth game in five. Crestview's record is now 1-4.

Holly Ryan scored McDonald's first quarter touchdown on a two-yard run. Al Alcanter went 67 yards and Mike Baumbauer two yards for second quarter scores.

The Columbiana countians came back in the third quarter to register on Gary Kannal's 10-yard run. Dwayne Rupert dashed five yards for another Crestview score in the final quarter.

Irons Rout Salineville Squad, 46-0

Unbeaten Stanton Local rolled to its fifth straight victory Saturday afternoon, crushing arch-rival Salineville, 46-0.

Coach Don McBride's Irons scored touchdowns in every period to win easily and sweeten a homecoming celebration at the Irondale field.

A crowd of 1,200 saw the lopsided victory.

Salineville, 0-3-1 for the year, was never in contention after the opening quarter as the Irons ran up a 30-0 lead before reserves took over the action.

McBride's powerhouse yielded only two first downs to Salineville and never punted the entire game. Stanton racked up 18 first downs for the afternoon. Reserves were used liberally by the new Stanton mentor.

Stanton's elusive Stan Wickham, 140-pound halfback, led the scoring parade with three touchdowns, while regular quarterback Bob Mills tallied once and sub quarterback Scott Porter twice.

The Irons marched 80 yards for a first quarter touchdown, scored by Wickham on a three - yard buck. Mills tossed to end Curt Rose for the conversion.

The "Mills Brothers" accounted for eight more points in the second period, with Bob racing 18 yards for the touchdown and then passing to brother Larry for the two-point conversion.

The Irons registered two more in the second quarter on Wickham's eight-yard run and his dazzling 70-yard return of a Salineville punt. Bob Mills raced over for the conversion.

When halftime ended, the Stanton reserves had the ball in scoring position again, time ending a drive to the Salineville one.

Porter scored a third quarter touchdown on a seven-yard run, and halfback Jim Pilutti's run for the conversion was successful.

Porter's second score was on a 25-yard run and he also ran over the two-point conversion.

Salineville got both first downs against the Stanton substitutes. The Stanton varsity saw action in the second half on only the kickoff play.

Cicada Captures Aqueduct Race, Leads For Crown

Owning 2-year old champions is getting to be almost an old hat for Christopher T. Chenery, Virginia and New York owner and breeder.

The master of the Meadow Stable chalked up his first juvenile title in 1958 when First Landing was judged best of the 2-year-old colts. And Saturday, Chenery took a stranglehold on the 2-year old filly crown of 1961 when Cicada accounted for the $121,075 Frizette at Aqueduct.

He also has a contender for this year's 2-year old colt title in Sir Gaylord.

Garden State opened its fall meeting with Fred W. Hooper's My Portrait taking the $28,100 Jersey Belle Stakes in the role of the favorite. Zumbador II accounted for the $15,000 added Fayette Handicap at the opening of Keeneland as Tompion finished a disappointing third.

Mighty Fennec and Crimson Satan took the two divisions of the Hawthorne Juvenile Stakes and Queen America beat Nascania by a nose in the $11,000 San Mateo Handicap at Bay Meadows. Wise Flushing posted a length victory in the James E. Dooley Memorial Stakes at Narragansett Park.

Raiders Battle To 7-7 Deadlock

New Cumberland High turned a blocked punt into a fourth period touchdown to gain a 7-7 tie with Follansbee St. Anthony Saturday night at Follansbee.

Coach John Kuzio's Blue Raiders tallied with four minutes left in the game after big tackle Gary Nardo had rammed through to block a punt at the St. Anthony 3 yard line.

The Raiders scored in two plays on halfback Ed Wudarsky's one-foot buck through the center. Quarterback Allen Katzenmeyer added the conversion on a plunge to deadlock the score.

Follansbee had gained a 7-0 lead in the second quarter when Banfi capped a 47 yard march by scoring on a one-yard crash. Croce fired a pass to Fritz for the conversion.

Both squads were heavily penalized in the action, with New Cumberland charged with infractions five times for a loss of 32 yards. The Steelmen lost 65 yards on five penalties.

The tie interrupted a three game victory streak for New Cumberland, now 3-1-1.

Hornung Racks Up 33 As Packers Rout Colts

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Versatile Paul Hornung, Green Bay's perpetual man-in-motion and a rarity among pro specialists with his triple threat abilities, is putting the power in the Packers' drive to retain their Western Conference title in the National Football League.

The 25-year-old former Notre Dame star had his best day in the play-for-pay ranks Sunday when he scored 33 points on four touchdowns, a field goal and six conversions in Green Bay's 45-7 romp over the Baltimore Colts.

The Green Bay victory, coupled with San Francisco's 35-0 thumping of Los Angeles, broke a four-way tie for first place in the Western sector and left the Packers and 49ers at the head of the class with 3-1 records.

Four teams remained tied for first in the East with 3-1 marks as Cleveland beat Washington 31-7 Philadelphia's league champion Eagles defeated Pittsburgh 21-16, New York whipped St. Louis 24-9 and Dallas downed Minnesota 28-0. Chicago moved up in the West by blasting Detroit 31-17.

Hornung broke Don Hutson's club record of 31 points set in 1945 by scoring on runs of 54, 1 and 10 yards, taking an eight-yard pitch from Bart Starr for another TD, kicking a 38-yard field goal and the half dozen extra points. The field goal sent the Packers in front to stay 10-7 in the second quarter.

The 49ers again alternated passers John Brodie, Billy Kilmer and Bob Waters effectively in the shotgun offense to overwhelm the Rams (1-3). Kilmer scored twice on short runs while Waters passed 26 yards to R. C. Owens for one TD and tallied on a 4-yard burst.

Bobby Mitchell, who lost his starting job to rookie Tom Watkins, won it back with three long TD jaunts for the Browns, scoring on a 52-yard pass from Milt Plum, a 64-yard punt return and a 31-yard dash around end. The Redskins (0-4), losing their 12th in succession, scored on a six-yard pass from first-year quarterback Norm Snead to Tom Osborne.

A 17-yard TD flip from Sonny Jurgensen to Pete Retzlaff sent the Eagles ahead 10-7 against the Steelers (0-4) after an interference penalty gave them the ball on the 1-yard line. They scored the clincher in the final period, again after an interference penalty, when Jurgensen pitched a two-yard strike to Retzlaff. The key play, however, was Tim Brown's 84-yard run with a kickoff.

The Giants led 7-2 in the third period before braking it open against the Cardinals (2-2), when the defensive unit swarmed over St. Louis passer Sam Etcheverry and caused two fumbles. They led to a one-yard scoring plunge by Alex Webster and a 12-yard TD ramble by linebacker Sam Huff.

Dallas' Don Meredith tossed a 12-yard scoring aerial to Bill Howton and a 52-yarder to Frank Clarke, who also grabbed a 23-yard TD pass from Eddie LeBaron. It was the third straight loss for the fledgling Vikings (1-3).

Mike Ditka tied it 17-17 for the Bears (2-2) on a 37-yard pitch from Billy Wade, then set up the clincher on a 40-yard reception as Wade took it the final yard. The Lions (2-2) had tied it on a 100-yard kickoff return by rookie Pat Studstill.

Intentional Base On Balls Haunts Reds

CINCINNATI (AP)—The fourth game of the 1961 World Series proved one thing—use of the intentional base on balls can backfire badly.

The New York Yankees beat Cincinnati 7-0 Sunday to take a decisive 3-1 edge in games. They probably would have done so even if Manager Fred Hutchinson of the Redlegs had not used the intentional pass, but this certainly helped the visitors.

First off Roger Maris scored the first run of the game—and the only one the Yankees needed, as it turned out—in the fourth after drawing a pass from Jim O'Toole to lead off. It wasn't intentional but O'Toole wasn't going to pitch to him either.

Maris went to third on Mickey Mantle's clean single to center, and scored when Elston Howard hit into a double play.

Then in the sixth, after Howard doubled to right, Yogi Berra was intentionally passed. Both scored on Clete Boyer's double to left.

And in the seventh, Bobby Richardson started off by getting his eighth hit of the series. Tony Kubek popped out and then Maris was intentionally walked.

Hector Lopez' long single to center scored both. Lopez went to second on the throw to the plate and when Howard struck out, Yogi Berra was intentionally passed. Moose Skowron's single scored Lopez.

When Airmans Guide, a 4-year-old bay filly, won The Beldame at Belmont Park, it was her sixth victory in eight races this year. The race marked her 12th straight time in the money in the last two years.

Potters Hand Leavittsburg First Defeat

East Liverpool High's cross-country squad dropped Leavittsburg from the unbeaten ranks Saturday morning, 25-30.

Coach Frank Chan's harriels interrupted a string of five straight triumphs posted by the Trumbull Countians.

Gary Jessup of Leavittsburg won first place on his home course with a good time of 11:25 in a distance of two miles.

Placing for the Potters in order of finish and times were Bruce McCoy, second in 11:30; Gary McKee, third in 11:35; Joe Ingram, fifth in 11:44; Jim Pillard, sixth in 11:45, and Paul Jarvis, ninth in 11:55.

East Liverpool's next meet is Tuesday at 4:30 p. m. at the Country Club against Weirton. The Weirton squad finished third in competing against the Potters in an earlier meet at Bellaire. In that one, the Potters finished fourth.

Clay Stops Miteff, Now Wants Johansson

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—With Alex Miteff out of the way, Olympic champion Cassius Clay says he has asked for a match with former heavyweight champion Ingemar Johansson.

Backing up Clay's claim was fight promoter Bill King who said, "we have offered Johansson $100,000 to meet Clay within 90 days.

"We think Johansson would be an easier fight than Miteff," Clay said. The 19-year-old Clay scored a technical knockout over Miteff in 1:45 of the sixth round in a nationally televised boxing match Saturday.

'Wounded' Yanks 3-2 Favorites To End Series Today

Jay Holds Reds' Last-Ditch Hope

By JERRY LISKA
Associated Press Sports Writer

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)—The wounded but relentless New York Yankees were 3 to 2 favorites to close out the World Series today with a decisive fourth victory over the desperate Cincinnati Reds, whose last-ditch hope was their lone series winner, strapping Joey Jay.

Jay's pitching opponent in this World Series contest, the last in cozy Crosley Field, is the same rival who bowed to the 225-pound Cincinnati right-hander in New York last Thursday, 25-year-old Ralph Terry. The Reds won that one, 6-2, behind Jay's four-hit pitching.

The weather again was expected to be as perfect as Sunday when New York's Whitey Ford surpassed Babe Ruth's 43-year-old series record for consecutive scoreless pitching innings and a bevy of other Yankees got into the act in a monotonous 7-0 shutout of the Reds. Ford now has pitched 32 runless innings, topping Ruth's old mark of 29 2-3.

If Jay should duplicate his Yankee Stadium victory the series would return to New York for a sixth game Wednesday and possibly a seventh game Thursday.

In perhaps an ironical coincidence, the series ended for Mickey Mantle and may have been decided against the Reds in the fourth inning Sunday when the ailing Yankee star stroked a screaming hit to deep left center. That set up the first Yankee run and the only one they really needed to scuttle Cincy starter Jim O'Toole.

Mantle had to leave the game after his hit, a certain two-bagger under normal conditions. It sent home run king Roger Maris, who had walked, to third, from where he scored on a double play.

Mantle now is out of the series, no matter if it goes the seven-game limit. The ugly wound on his hip where an abscess was removed 10 days ago has drastically hobbled the fleet slugger. The wound was bleeding badly when Mantle was removed for a pinch-runner following his hit.

Besides Mantle, the Yankee sick bay treated Ford, whose right big toe was badly bruised by a foul as he batted in the sixth inning, and the peerless Yogi Berra, who was gashed above his right eye by his sunglasses when he made a fruitless try for a diving catch, also in the sixth inning.

While the Yankees are a 3 to 2 favorite to take what could be the series clincher today, the odds are 10 to 1 against the Reds making a comeback only three other clubs ever achieved in the series. Last to do it after being down 3-1 were the Yankees themselves, rallying to take the 1958 series from the Milwaukee Braves.

However, few of the 32,598 faithful fans who watched their "for real Reds" sag before the excellent pitching of Ford and Jim Coates, believed Fred Hutchinson's National League wonder team could now overtake the well-balanced Yankees.

Redleg pitching hasn't been too bad, although the Yankees clubbed O'Toole, Jim Brosnan and Bill Henry for 11 hits Sunday, but Cincinnati's own big guns have been almost completely spiked.

Ford allowed four hits in his six innings and Coates yielded only one in the three innings he worked after an emergency call from the bull pen. Ford's throbbing toe caused him to quit following Elio Chacon's inning-opening single in the sixth.

In the three previous games, the Reds had collected only 19 hits in 101 at bats. "Our big guys just aren't hitting," said Hutchinson.

Yankee Manager Ralph Houk now is on the verge of being the third rookie pilot ever to win a World Series in his first year as a big league manager. Bucky Harris as Washington's "boy wonder" boss in 1924 beat the New York Giants. Eddie Dyer of the St. Louis Cardinals won in his first try in 1946 against the Boston Red Sox.

The financial phase of the tourney for the players ended Sunday, with a total player pool of $645,928.28. Of that amount, 70 per cent or $452,149.80 will be divided among the Yanks and Reds, with the remainder going to the second, third and fourth place teams in each league.

The winning pool is $271,289.88, about $8,000 per player for the series champion and approximately $5,200 for each player on the losing club, based on an unofficial allotment of 34 shares per team.

150 Tee Off Today In Ohio Open Golf

Ford Nips Ruth's Mark

CINCINNATI (AP)—Babe Ruth probably would be glad to know a fun-loving fellow like Whitey Ford broke his cherished World Series pitching record. Off the field they would have had much in common.

When the crowd of newsmen surged into the New York Yankee dressing room after Sunday's 7-0 Yankee victory in which Ford set a record of 32 consecutive scoreless innings, they found Whitey ready with a quip.

"Anybody here from California to make an offer?", he asked with a grin. "Say $500 for this ball."

Ford referred, of course, to the $5,000 a California restaurant owner offered to the man who caught Roger Maris' 61th home run at Yankee Stadium.

Ford turned his ankle slightly while pitching and then hit himself with his own foul ball while batting in the sixth inning. He left the game after Elio Chacon singled to open the Cincinnati sixth and Jim Coates finished the 7-0 shutout.

Ruth's old scoreless streak was 29 2-3 innings compiled in 1916 and 1918. Ford's first two shutouts came against Pittsburgh last year. He blanked the Reds in the opener last Wednesday and got the last five Sunday.

In Ohio College Action

Grid Sophomores Shine

By wdave harrison

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A band of talented sophomores took the spotlight in Saturday's Ohio college football action.

Ohio State turned loose a pair of heralded second - year men—Paul Warfield and Matt Snell—in the closing quarter to post its first victory of the season, 13-3 over UCLA.

Coach Woody Hayes, after showing 82,992 fans his Buckeyes knew some of the game's fancier frills, had to resort to line-smashing drives to score the important touchdowns.

All-America fullback Bob Ferguson, who a week ago toted the ball 35 times for 137 yards, was called on only 13 times Saturday and picked up 29 yards.

Snell was the big gainer for the Bucks with 72 yards on 11 tries, including a 33-yard dash over tackle for the second Ohio TD. Warfield, who scored first for Ohio State with a 13-yard burst over the same spot, gained 62 yards on 15 carries.

The real sophomore show occurred Saturday night at Akron where the Zips' 190-pound fullback, George Deo, smashed his way to four touchdowns as Akron rolled over Ohio Wesleyan 32-21.

Deo's performance upped his point production for the season to 42—just one point behind the state scoring leader, Alan Spiegelberg of Oberlin.

The versatile Oberlin junior racked up 14 points—one touchdown, two field goals and two extra points—in the Yeomen's 26-7 win over Carnegie Tech.

In third place in the tight statewide scoring race is Findlay's Ted Lanear with 40 points to his credit. The Troy freshman scored 10 points as the Oilers took over the lead in the Mid-Ohio League with a 22-0 win over Ohio Northern.

Another sophomore, Otterbein's Dave Kull of Worthington, tossed three touchdown passes as the Cardinals crushed Kenyon 35-0.

Otterbein shares the Ohio Conference lead with Wooster, Muskingum and Wittenberg. All posted loop victories Saturday to run their marks to 2-0.

Bowling Green, winners of the 1959 Mid - American Conference crown and runner-up to Ohio U. last season, is making a strong bid to win it again this year. The Falcons have been unscored upon in two loop games, defeating Western Michigan 21-0 Saturday and crushing Marshall 40-0 in their opener.

Miami, which has won more Mid-Am football titles than any other team, finally figured out how to score touchdowns. The Redskins had only been able to kick field goals in their first three games but ran over three TDs last week in their 21-0 conquest of Kent State.

In another big one, Xavier won the mythical Queen City championship, defeating cross-town rival Cincinnati 17-12.

The Cleveland Browns have three linemen who scale 260 pounds. They are Bob Gain of Kentucky, Ed Nutting of Georgia Tech and Larry Stephens of Texas.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: Our 17-year-old son turned up at breakfast this morning with a henna rinse. He is a natural blond and this red hair job makes him look like a freak. His father and I are sick over it.

He told us his girl friend did it just to see how it would look. She liked it and made him promise to leave it that way. He said he didn't think the color of a person's hair was very important.

My first impulse was to go over to the girl's house and tear her blonde hair out by the black roots. My husband said to calm down and write to you for advice.

What kind of an idiot girl would do such a thing? Please hurry your reply and tell us what to do. — JUST FURIOUS.

Dear Just: And what kind of idiot boy would allow a girl to tint his hair? Relax folks, a henna rinse will wash out — as you probably have discovered by now.

Make it plain to your son that you'll tolerate no more nonsense — and be firm. He needs parental direction.

Short-Sighted

Dear Ann: Please don't tell me I'm a fool. I know this already. Just tell me what to do.

Last week I sprained my ankle on my way home from work. This fellow I've been going with for five years asked me how it happened. When I told him I stepped off the curb wrong he said, "You must have been loaded."

He knows good and well that I never touch liquor. In fact his nickname for me is "Blue Nose." The more I tried to explain the more he insisted I was drunk. I became very annoyed and told him not to call me again.

The problem is he owes me $1,100. I'm afraid he'll use this as an excuse not to pay me. I've invested five good years in him and he promised to marry me when his boss retires. Wouldn't I be a fool to give him this perfect out?

There is no other man in sight, Ann. Please rush the advice. — PBX.

Dear PBX: What makes you think THIS man is "in sight"? Write of the $1,100; as tuition in the School of Experience and get back into circulation. After five years you've had the post-graduate course.

Daughter's Duty

Dear Ann: In December my wife's parents moved to this city within four blcks of us — and next door to another daughter. My father-in-law is not employed. He roams around telling everyone he is retired. The truth is he never has had much of a job. His wife works part time and always has.

My in-laws used to alternate between us and their other daughter — dropping in for dinner and then spending the evening. My brother-in-law got so fed up he asked his company for a transfer to another town. Now we have them every night and I'm ready to flip.

These in-laws are in their early 50s, in good health and have joined a church. There's no reason why they can't have friends their own age. My wife does not encourage them nor is she the dependent type. In fact she asked me to write for advice. — TOM.

Dear Tom: Your wife is there. I'm here. I can't tell her parents to leave you alone and make a social life of their own. Your wife CAN — and she SHOULD. Now.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

Child Can't Be Forced To Share

At a picnic place once I saw a father with his son, four, who had a new, bright red wagon. The little lad was proudly having fun with this wagon until another tot with his father came along, approaching the wagon with great glee. At once the wagon-owner screamed objection, but his father tried to get him to share the wagon. Persuasion failing, the owner's father proceeded to force his son to share, even paddling the lad. But his son only grew more resistant, becoming enraged. Wisely the father of the second boy soon told his own son not to touch the wagon, and this lad obeyed. Then he led his boy away.

THE WAGON - OWNER'S father would have been wiser if he had explained to the second boy and his father that this was a brand - new wagon and that he believed his son would be willing to share its use by and by. If he had waited for some while his lad would have probably done so. But even if he would not, the issue would not have been forced.

Don't command the tot to share. Ask him to do so and set the stage with loving patience so he might choose by and by to share. Generously applaud him when he does.

Suppose your little child shares and his playmate doesn't.

A Minnesota mother writes: "I am having quite a problem with the boy next door, who is three years old and refuses to share his toys.

—:—

"MY LITTLE GIRL is three, and I have been trying very hard to teach her to share her things with her friends which, I must say, she is very good about. However, she wants to know why she has to share her toys with this boy, when he never shares his things with her."

Here's my reply in part:

Suppose you let your little daughter, as the neighbor child comes in, put away some of her own toys she prizes highest. If he asks for some he had been playing with, your daughter might say to him, "They are mine. I put them away."

Later, if she chooses to bring them back and let him share them, praise her. Yet she will know she has a right to her own possessions and the other child will see that she chooses to share or not share. This will seem reasonable to your child.

BEFORE LONG each of these children may choose to share his or her things more and more, so long as each owner feels sure his or her ownership will be respected.

With slow, quiet words of persuasion you might also be able to win the neighbor child gradually to share some of his toys with your daughter, when you would strongly applaud his doing so.

My bulletins, "The Very Selfish Child" and "Tot Learning To Be Sociable," may be had by sending a self - addressed stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper.

Social Security Covers Home Job

Many maids, cooks, and other workers in private homes are not getting credit under social security, according to William J. McCauley, district manager of the Youngstown Social Security office.

If you work for someone in their private home, make sure you get Social Security credit for your work by following these simple rules: If your work is in a non-farm home and you receive $50 or more in cash wages during any calendar quarter from any one employer, insist that the employer report your earnings and pay the Social Security tax. Also be sure your employer copies your name and Social Security number from your card.

When you reach age 62 you may receive monthly old-age benefits, but only if a certain number of quarters of work have been reported for you. The number you need ranges from 6 to 40, depending on your age. For example, a woman who reached age 62 in 1957 or earlier needs only 6 quarters. If she is 62 this year she needs 10, or if she will reach 62 in 1970 she will need 19 quarters of work.

Workers who become unable to work any time before age 65 may receive disability benefits if they have enough quarters of work. If a worker dies at any age, benefits may be paid to her survivors. Make sure your earnings are reported — it's very important to you.

Employers of household employees may write for pamphlet No. OASI-21, which explains the law as it pertains to household employees. The local Social Security office is in the basement of the Post Office.

FALLOUT SHELTER

Fallout Shelters — And The Will To Survive

IT IS NOT PLEASANT TO THINK OF THE POSSIBILITY OF NUCLEAR WAR, AND FALLOUT SHELTERS ARE NOT HAPPY FORMS OF CONSTRUCTION TO CONTEMPLATE. IT IS EASIER TO SAY "IF MY FRIENDS ALL GO, I MIGHT AS WELL GO TOO." OR, "IF A NUCLEAR BOMB STRIKES OVER OUR AREA, WE'VE HAD IT . . . SO WHY GO TO THE TROUBLE?" BUT THIS IS DEFEATISM, SOMEBODY HAS TO BE AROUND TO PICK UP THE PIECES.

IN THE CURRENT ISSUE OF LIFE MAGAZINE, THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES HAS ADDRESSED A MESAGE TO THE AMERICAN PEOPLE . . . A MESSAGE WHICH POINTS OUT THE URGENCY IN PREPARING TO PROTECT OURSELVES, AND IN MAINTAINING THE DETERMINATION TO SURVIVE COME WHAT MAY.

"THE ABILITY TO SURVIVE COUPLED WITH THE WILL TO DO SO THEREFORE ARE ESSENTIAL TO OUR COUNTRY," THE PRESIDENT WROTE.

DURING THE NEXT YEAR AND A HALF, MR. KENNEDY DISCLOSED, THE GOVERNMENT WILL BE CONTINUING "A SURVEY OF ALL PUBLIC BUILDINGS WITH FALLOUT SHELTER POTENTIAL, AND THE MARKING OF THOSE WITH ADEQUATE SHELTER FOR 50 PERSONS OR MORE . . . IN THE MEANTIME THERE IS MUCH YOU CAN DO TO PROTECT YOURSELF . . . AND IN DOING SO STRENGTHEN YOUR NATION . . ."

CLEVELAND, PRESUMABLY WOULD BE ONE OF THE MAJOR TARGETS IF NUCLEAR WAR EVER DEVELOPED, AND, ACCORDING TO PALMER SCARNECCHIA OF THE OFFICE OF CIVIL DEFENSE MOBILIZATION IN WASHINGTON, FALLOUT SHELTERS WOULD BE THE ONLY POSSIBLE HOPE OF SURVIVAL FOR OUR PEOPLE.
